HBRAID. NHR

HOTELS.

QUEEN HOTEL,

Queen Street, Fredericton, N. B.

FREDERICTON, N. B., SATURDAY, MARCH 31, 1894.

SWEPT AWAY.

Undoubted Figures

WHICH THEY DARE NOT DISPUTE.

Hon. Mr. Blair's Convincing Speech.

$1.00 PER YEAN

HEALTH FOR ALL!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT. Opposition Charges Met by

THE PILL'S The second of the se

INION. The Table is always supplied with every delicacy available. The Cooking is highly commended, and the Staff of Attendants are ever ready to oblige. There are two of the largest and most conveniently fitted up SAMPLE ROOMS in Canada, having street entrances and also connecting with Hotel

Attorney-at-Law,

Directly opp. Dr. Coulthard's office.

H. B. RAINSFORD,

Barrister, Attorney-at-Law,

NOTARY PUBLIC.

Clerk of the Peace and Division Registrar, Real Estate Agent, Loans Negotiated, Office : Lower flat of County Court House. Adjoining the office of the Registrar of deeds.

GEO. A. HUGHES.

Attorney and Solicitor,

NOTARY, CONVEYANCER, &c.

WHELPLEY BUILDING Opp. Post Office, Fredericton, N. B.

Fredericton Nov. 16th, 1891.

Suitings,

-AND-

GUNN

THE TAILOR.

Guarantees good fit, and first-class

materials in his MAKE UP

Giandular Swellings, and all Skin Diseases, it has no rival; and for Contracted and Stiff Joints it act health, but reason and even life itself, in Fredericton HERALD in January, 1893, in the printing of the various reports. He

upon the cost of the report for the present statute book merely of their own will, or BREAKING OUT OF PRISON. year, which did not appear in the accounts in obedience to the will of the people? at all. He condemned the government | Was it not idle for members of the present for paying so large a sum for a report of opposition who had suported that legisla- A State Prison Official Tells How Several that any officer of the prison to which I 110 pages, when the report for which they | tion to charge upon the government the had paid contained 164 pages. He (Blair) increase of the public debt? He (Blair) had not been as enthusiastic as some with regard to the beneficial effects to be ex-pected from these subsidies, and if his proposed to discuss the question of public printing somewhat thoroughly, to show that the government was not open to the the public service with any more economy.

HOW THE INCREASE HAD ARISEN.

In the first place the laws of 1893 were statement showing that third-class teach- printing of 1893 as compared with that of words, the insane population has in- they received a longer professional train- and the case of the opposition, as respects creased by forty per cent. during a per-ing than the same class of teachers in any public printing on that score falls abso-

the struggle for wealth and position, reck-written a letter, but Mr. Wilson had also the HERALD, the St. Croix Courier, and the struggle. This is the true source of which he declared that the assertion of held those tenders in his hand. They with the exception of the stumpage. It

Convicts Regained Their Liberty.

York Sun, says: Escapes from prison are not so numerous as they were fifteen

WHICH THEY HELPED TO BRING

WERE PRACTICALLY CORRECT

ee t nei esticut to bier windmill man, and though a detective traced him for hundreds of miles he made good his escape. I do not think was attached had been furnished with a ground plan or could guess the number

Charles B. Lewis, writing in the New of sewers under the floor or in which direction they ran. So long as the tiers were set at least ten cells were of flagthat the government was not open to the charge of extrayagance, and that it would be impossible for the opposition, if they were in power, to conduct that branch of the public service with any more economy. were in power, to conduct that branch of the public service with any more economy. He entirely repudiated the statement of their leader that the government were paying two or three times the value of the work that had been done. Mr. Powell had denied the accuracy of the statement of the provincial secretary that the ex-cessive printing of 1893 more than made up the difference in the cost of that year in the public interest. He could name roads that should never have been built, as practical men, the house had to solve. They had to face things as they were, and it argued either a poverty of good sense improvements made in the construction | ion of each cell should be made. Like up the difference in the cost of that year as compared with 1892. In 1892 the pub-lic printing cost $12,492.09; in 1893, $14,-002. He was going to show 002. He was going to show break as one sentenced for twenty years. cell No. 50 was a man named James into existence instead of trying to lend a The idea was to get out, and every Dailey, and when I came to the prison he hand as patriotic citizens to work out a thought and move was in that direction. was forty years old and had served ten the years 1884 and 1894 for the purposes of his financial comparison, being ap-parently ignorant of the fact that the old governmet was not in power in 1884, and then 1894 had not yet transpired. He had charged that the policy of the gov-ernment to flood the country with in-ferior teachers. The report of the chief superintendent of education showed that is bar had to be cut,

as he had described. The hon, member had claimed that the tence. The boldest burglar and the most feet long by two wide in the centre of his tence. The boldest burglar and the most is the tence of the door. The printing of 1893 as compared with that of 1892, a saving had been affected of \$500, and the case of the opposition, as respects public printing on that score falls abso-lutely to the ground. The hon. member had claimed that the government was receiving a larger income than his predecessors. This was true, but there was also a large increase in the ex-penditures. The interest charge alone, independent of agricultural bonds or temonly been added to by about ten per cent. The causes and means of controlling this gigantic mental octopus, is a matter of momentous personal importance to every thinking person. The mad rush and $\begin{array}{c} \text{momentous personal importance to every} \\ \text{thinking person. The mad rush and} \\ \text{way to attack a gentleman who was not} \\ \text{way to attack a gentleman who was not} \\ \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{m. Pitts had thought in to go out of his} \\ \text{momentous personal importance to every} \\ \text{way to attack a gentleman who was not} \\ \text{way to attack a gentleman who was not} \\ \text{way to attack a gentleman who was not} \\ \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{me men to concentrate all their powers, in the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{me men to concentrate all their powers, in} \\ \text{the struggle for wealth and position, reck-} \end{array} \\ \begin{array}{c} \text{me men to concentrate all their$ less of the fact they are risking not only health, but reason and even life itself in the Fredericton Reporter to tender for \$22,000 additional stumpage. These items vantage of, the man received no credit. the crevices of cement. The material he

It was argued that fear of the whip, if took out was replaced with crumbs o the struggie. This is the true source of the increase in insanity. The constant strain of the mental faculties, irregularity of meals and sleep to which so many busi-ness men subject themselves, will break down even constitutions of iron. Be alty of these excesses. If you are run alty of these excesses and had the period loss of the star you are run alty of these excesses and had the period loss of the star you are run alty of these excesses and had the period loss of the star you are run alty of these excesses and had the period loss of the

THE FACTOR DALLAN	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	depressed, take a course of that great nerve	the other, with this qualification: that	being paid. The tender of the publisher	er administration.	He was employed in the broom shop, and	a sharpened end. This bar had to be cut,
WILLIAM ROSSBOROUGH,					Dr. Stockton-You should not include	had been with us about four months when	sharpened, and secreted on his person
	Come in and see my Cloths and hard		sponsible ravings of a disappointed office	WAS SLIGHTLY OVER THE COST
MASON		a certain cure when faithfully used for all	seeker The hon member had also made		result will be more in favor of this govern-	The doctor gave him some medicine and	dozen convicts, but he managed it. It
MASUN,				of the report of the board of hearth, for	ment. And when I tell the house that I	sent him to his cell to rest for the day.	was a prison rule that every cell
Distance I Deishland			when Mr Plain more to defend himself he		have included in this statement the ab-	This cell was on the ground tier of the	SHOULD BE THOROUGHLY SEARCHED
Plasterer, - and - Bricklayer,		impoverished or impure condition of the	had shifted the charge upon somebody		normal receipts of 1893, by reason of the
			who was not here to speak on his own	eight pages, which was more than the	have been perfectly fair and candid.
SHORE ST., NEAR GAS WORKS,	NEXT BELOW C. P. R. OFFICE.	vous headache, sleeplessness, neuralgia.	benan. It was the right of the opposition		Dr. Stockton-Do you think it right
EPEDEPICTON N B		loss of appetite, dyspepsia, hysteria, and	to criticise, but in order for their remarks
FREDERIOION, N. D.	DONIT OO	the prostrating effects of la grippe, or any	to have full force and effect the criticism
JOBBING a specialty.	DON'T GO	nerve weakness of heart or brain arising	should be a fair one; it should not be all		ber's mind must be somewhat beforged from worry, overstrain of mind or body,	blame and no praise. Mr. Wells stated		If I leave out that year it will lower the a checker of the state and a bullet	in there had been extravagance in the		average in our favor by thousands of dol-
	DOWN TOWN	i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i i		for minting the agricultural monort while the government were paying $22.50.	to spend they only had $74,000, and the RAILROADS.			opposition had not convinced him that	TT 13 1111 1 111 11 11 11 11	case could be put somewhat stronger than	when I started out with as many more.	thick. On each side of him was a prison-
	Without					All were entire strangers to me, and I did	er who would have given him away.
	VVILIOUL				population.	not particularly obberie any one marti	Dalley therefore had to look out for these ~ Calling at				He would now take the other side of gentieman nau received $121 and $159
	VITCUEN & CUEL'C	A Village Lot	stated that all the public printing was done	final, and if he were put on oath to-mor-	the opposition had sought to build
	ALLOUEN & SUEAD	A Hamain (1) Otto	by scale under the supervision of the andi		up against the financial manage-
CANADIAN PACIFIC			tor general and he did not think any con		works the expenditure was $196,000 in	and the visitors nessed out Three hours
UNINDIAN INUITO					1882; in 1893 it was $225,000; or taking
	If you are Going to		statement. It had been abarred that no
PAILWAY			saving had been affected by the abolition		the last three years of this government	figure it out, but I got at the facts at last.	catching Dailey at work, and the convict
NAIEWAI	Furchase				the average was $210,000. On schools	No one had been allowed to carry any	was so frightened that he did not do
·			to the accounts it would appear that	under this government and under its pre-	the present administration spent $19,000
ATLANTIC DIVISION			logislation now cost $10,875 while in 1901
millimite bitioion.	TURNACES, toves, Tin-				$19,000 more, and there were besides items	on extra clothing and had a hat concealed	softly to his door three or four times a the thousands of Plain, Practible, Useful	that there was a large deficit on current			under her dress or cloak. While I was
ALL) TO		fints and Suggestions give in the				busy at the dark cells she was	would have been assured. It was two large merease in the bonded dept. This		such as the Boys' Industrial Home, fishery	HELPING WILLIAMS TO DRESS	years and a half from the time Dailey be-то	PLUMBING OIL Cana	AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST			whole was that upon necessary and addi-	and he had accompanied us on our round	gan at the stone before he
LINE) MONTREAL, &c.	Boilers, Goods On Cans,		cluding in the public debt amounts that	merly The agricultural report contained	tional public services the government	and passed out with the crowd. I spent	BROKE INTO THE SEWER Steamers CITY . Dinner		were also charged to current account.	192 pages in 1881, now it contained 256:	were spending $129,800 more than their	$600 in seeking his recapture, but never	and was ready to see where it led to. If
			The current account showed an actual			got trace of him. The woman who had	anything more was needed to prove his
ARRANGEMENT OF TRAINS	Plates, Camp Requisites, Acme	I Nine Hundred Engravings in each			Did any of these gentlemen say that the	assisted him must have had it planned	patience and perseverance, it was furforance, oring clearly to the understanding, a great			grants for these public services should be	beforehand, so that he should leave his	nished in his waiting two weeks for a
In Effect December 4th, 1893.			the surplus would be $55,165.72.	233. Besides this every government	reduced? What remedy did the opposi-	work and be in his cell. After that oc-	heavy rain to come and clean out the ings, H usehold Helps and Conveniences, Pleashig	AGRICULTURE WAS THE ONE INTEREST	measure introduced to the house was now	of the government? They were simply	currence the number of visitors in a party	sewers. What he had struck was a
		Pictures for Old and Young, etc., etc.	to which special attention should be given,		beating the air. The entire extent of		lateral or branch leading from the kitchen
LEAVE FREDERICTON.	a	IT IS IM POSSIBLE For anyone to consult these			their suggestions was that they could	For nerve, dash and coolness the escape	but he realized that the main sewer
EASTERN STANDARD TIME.	Galvanized from Cornices and	many hints and suggestions, each one of which, is	0	fying to the government	inal prosecutions. Upon the latter head.
	Door Caps. a specialty.	worth many times the small cost of this Journal		IF THEY COULD REDUCE THE COST	Mr. Blair said it was absurd to expect the	never excelled in any prison. He was a	of August but he waited until the 5th of via Gibson.					two crown officers to attend to all the	farmer and was serving a long sentence	September Then it rained heavily all
6.15. A. M Express for St. John, St. Stephen, St. Andrews, Houlton, Woodstock, and points			try were to be benefitted.		was beyond their power, and if it was in	for robbing a village store On account of	day and flushed the sewers, and at 12
North; Bargor, Portland, Boston, and					their power he recognized no obligation	his age and humble demeanor he was one	o'clock at night he raised the stone,
10.50 A. MAccommodation for Fredericton Junc-	KTTCHEN & SUEA				resting upon him to render any more pub-	of the convicts employed to keep the	dropped into the sewer, and then let the
3.20 P. MAccommodation for Fredericton Junc-	AITUIEN & OREA,		wish to see madman made a charge upon		and absolutely declined to undertake any	west corridor in a state of cleanliness.	flag fall back in place The sewer was so tion and St. John, also with Night Express for Bangor, Portland and Boston.			the municipalities, but it did seem reason-		and abcoratory accounted to anacramo any		Ing fait back in place. The benet was bo in subor, comme and some				saving the cost of 1800 Gazettes, and by	more work than he had been doing all	There were two tiers of cells, a hundred	small that he had to go into it without 272 QUEEN STREET.		able that some of the harmless insane	securing the advertising that went to the	these years on the public behalf. Before	in each, and his cell was about the centre	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he
ARRIVING IN FREDERICTON FROM			able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the
St. John, etc., 10,10 a. m.		THE SUN.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to
St. John, etc., 10,10 a. m.	W. E. SEERY,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa-	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care-	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment,	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis-
St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30		THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A. DANA, Editor.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the form.	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation.	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street,
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. 	W. E. SEERY,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A. DANA, Editor,	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the form.	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. All above trains run Week Days only. 		THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A. DANA, Editor,	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating,
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. All above trains run Week Days only. D. MCNICOLL, C. E. MCPHERSON, 	W. E. SEERY,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit,	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years.	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. T All above trains run Week Days only. D. MCNICOLL, O. E. MCPHERSON, 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition.	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. Chin, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent 	W. E. SEERY,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up-
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. Chin, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888. but every item in connexion with	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report,	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re-	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey.
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac-	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year of which Mr Stockton	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FYPRESSED HIS SURPRISE	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member.	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FYPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!"	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS IN TWEEDS.	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern-	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FYPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A. DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FYPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo-	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report?	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FYPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor.	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report ? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the publ-	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who EXPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol-
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mall, $2 a year Daily, by mall $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mall $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation.	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FYPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily, by mail $1 a year Address The Sun New York	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con-	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John,	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul-	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who EXPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for
<text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS IN TWEEDS, COMPRISING—	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year Address The Sun, New York.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- yinced the country that the government	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul-	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FUPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came,
<text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily, by mail $1 a year Address The Sun, New York.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- yinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who EXPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the
<text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS, Spring Overcoating,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year Address The Sun, New York. IRON. IRON.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- vinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves were animated by a desire for better	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also claimed that the government were run-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing so? What was the public accounts com- mittee for? What were the representa-	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who EXPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened as we started on : Some men were white-	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the prisoners were turned out in the morning
 St. John, etc., 10.10 a. m. Bangor, Montreal, etc., 1.10, p. m. Woodstock and North, via Gibson branch, 5.30 p. m. St. John, McAdam Junction, etc., 7.10 p. m. B. McNICOLL, C. E. McPHERSON, Gen. Pass. Agent, Ass't Gen'l Pass. Agent MONTREAL. 	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS, Spring Overcoating,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year Address The Sun, New York. IRON. IRON.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- vinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves were animated by a desire for better	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also claimed that the government were run-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing so? What was the public accounts com- mittee for? What were the representa- tives of the people here for? It could not	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FUPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened as we started on : Some men were white- washing the beams and rafters of the	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the prisoners were turned out in the morning Dailey was missed and, his escape dis-
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS, Spring Overcoating,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year Address The Sun, New York. IRON. IRON.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- vinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves were animated by a desire for better	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also claimed that the government were run-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing so? What was the public accounts com- mittee for? It could not	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FUPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened as we started on : Some men were white- washing the beams and rafters of the roof, and the visitors asked a number of	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the prisoners were turned out in the morning Dailey was missed and his escape dis- covered. No one could be found to fol-
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS, Spring Overcoating,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspa- pers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year Address The Sun, New York. IRON. IRON.	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- vinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves were animated by a desire for better	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic- ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also claimed that the government were run-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing so? What was the public accounts com- mittee for? What were the representa- tives of the people here for? It could not be expected that the entire population should have access to every petty account	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who FUPRESED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened as we started on : Some men were white- washing the beams and rafters of the roof, and the visitors asked a number of questions and we moved on slowly. The old farmer waited for a minute to look at	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the prisoners were turned out in the morning Dailey was missed and his escape dis- covered. No one could be found to fol- low his trail, but about noon men got into the street sewer and found that he had
<text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS, Spring Overcoating,	 THE SUN. The first of American Newspapers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun Is the Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year Address The Sun, New York. IRON. IRON. 207 BARE and 93 bundles Refined Iron : 12 Rods for the same; 350 gross Wood Screws, assorted size; 20 colls Manilla Rope; 3 colls Fingle Lath Tie; 600 lbs. three-eights Calle Chain; 5 dozen Fowley's Axes. Just to hand and for sale by 	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- vinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves were animated by a desire for better government. Mr. Wells told a story of a conductor who told a passenger that the car platform was not to stand on but to go in upon. The electors had not even	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also claimed that the government were run- ning the province into debt, and that the ultimate result must be financial wreck and ruin. He had placed upon the government a large measure of re-	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing so? What was the public accounts com- mittee for? What were the representa- tives of the people here for? It could not be expected that the entire population should have access to every petty account rendered to the government. Vouchers had been submitted for all these items	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who EVPRESED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened as we started on : Some men were white- washing the beams and rafters of the roof, and the visitors asked a number of questions and we moved on slowly. The old farmer waited for a minute to look at something in the cell, and Savage slipped	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the prisoners were turned out in the morning Dailey was missed and his escape dis- covered. No one could be found to fol- low his trail, but about noon men got into the street sewer and found that he had come out that way. A heavy reward was
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS, Spring Overcoating,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspapers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun The Sunday Sun State Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year Daily and Sunday by mail $8 a year Daily and Sunday by mail $8 a year Daily and Sunday by mail $8 a year Daily and $8 a year Back $8 w Frames; 12 dozen $8 brinker $6 dozen Buck $8 w Frames; 12 dozen $8 brinker $6 dozen Buck $8 w Frames; 12 dozen $8 brinker $8 bundles $8 bindles $	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- vinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves were animated by a desire for better government. Mr. Wells told a story of a conductor who told a passenger that the car platform was not to stand on but to go in upon. The electors had not even allowed the opposition to go in on their platform but had told them to get out	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also claimed that the government were run- ning the province into debt, and that the ultimate result must be financial wreck and ruin. He had placed upon the government a large measure of re- sponsibility for the railway debt. The	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing so? What was the public accounts com- mittee for? What were the representa- tives of the people here for? It could not be expected that the entire population should have access to every petty account rendered to the government. Vouchers had been submitted for all these items and the committee in 1888 had reported	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who EXPRESSED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened as we started on : Some men were white- washing the beams and rafters of the roof, and the visitors asked a number of questions and we moved on slowly. The old farmer waited for a minute to look at something in the cell, and Savage slipped in seized him by the throat and threw	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the prisoners were turned out in the morning Dailey was missed and his escape dis- covered. No one could be found to fol- low his trail, but about noon men got into the street sewer and found that he had come out that way. A heavy reward was offered for his capture, and for a week
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS, COMPRISING— Spring Overcoating, Suitings,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspapers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun The Sunday Sun State Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year. Address The Sun, New York. IRCON. IRCON. OT BARS and 23 bundles Refined Iron : 12 Rozen Buck Naw Frames : 12 dozen Bite-Rods for the same : 350 gross Wood Screws, assorted size: 90 colls Manilla Rope : 3 colls Fingle Lath Tier 500 lbs. three-eights Calie Chain : 5 dozen Fow Ier's Axes. B. CHES INCT & SONS	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- vinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves were animated by a desire for better government. Mr. Wells told a story of a conductor who told a passenger that the car platform was not to stand on but to go in upon. The electors had not even allowed the opposition to go in on their platform but had told them to get out	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also claimed that the government were run- ning the province into debt, and that the ultimate result must be financial wreck and ruin. He had placed upon the government a large measure of re- sponsibility for the railway debt. The	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing so? What was the public accounts com- mittee for? What were the representa- tives of the people here for? It could not be expected that the entire population should have access to every petty account rendered to the government. Vouchers had been submitted for all these items and the committee in 1888 had reported that they were satisfactory, and yet the crv was being raised that the government	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who EVPRESED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened as we started on : Some men were white- washing the beams and rafters of the roof, and the visitors asked a number of questions and we moved on slowly. The old farmer waited for a minute to look at something in the cell, and Savage slipped in, seized him by the throat, and threw him on the bed. Inside of two minutes	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the prisoners were turned out in the morning Dailey was missed and his escape dis- covered. No one could be found to fol- low his trail, but about noon men got into the street sewer and found that he had come out that way. A heavy reward was offered for his capture, and for a week four or five men were hunting the sewers
<text><text><text><text><text><text><text><text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text></text>	W. E. SEERY, Merchant Tailor, Has Just Received a splendid new stock of CLOTHS I TWEEDS, Spring Overcoating,	THE SUN. The first of American Newspapers, CHARLES A, DANA, Editor, The American Constitution, the American Idea, the American Spirit, these first, last and all the time, for ever. The Sunday Sun The Sunday Sun State Greatest Sunday Newspaper in the World. Price 5c. a copy, by mail, $2 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily, by mail $6 a year Daily and Sunday, by mail $8 a year The Weekly, $1 a year Address The Sun, New York. IRONN. IRON. 207 BARS and 23 bundles Refined Iron ; 12 Rode of the same ; 350 gross Wood Screek, assored Street Sunday Scheek and Street Barden in ; 5 dozen Breck Naw Frames ; 12 dozen Steet Rode for the same ; 350 gross Wood Screek, assored Street	able that some of the harmless insane should be made a charge upon the parishes where they belonged. The hon. member for York had said that he would like to see the public printing wiped out alto- gether and the money given to the farm- ers. Surely that was a most extreme statement. If the government reports were not printed and distributed what a howl would be raised by the opposition. With reference to the warrant of $163,000 issued to the board of works, as to which the leader of the opposition had sought to befog the house, on page 23 of the report, every dollar of the amount had been ac- counted for. It did not make any special difference just where that particular $5,000 had gone, as long as all the payments were shown. The war-cry of the oppo- sition was the same as that upon which they had been routed from the field in the general election. They had not con- vinced the country that the government was corrupt, nor that they themselves were animated by a desire for better government. Mr. Wells told a story of a conductor who told a passenger that the car platform was not to stand on but to go in upon. The electors had not even allowed the opposition to go in on their platform but had told them to get out	securing the advertising that went to the Gazette, the government could make a substantial saving in the cost of public printing, even if they gave Mr. Fenety a substantial annuity. But they had not felt like pressing unduly for the resigna- tion of that gentleman, who was a most worthy citizen and well advanced in years. The hon. member (Powell) had charged that the government should not have charged to capital account the cost of such structures as the Fredericton and Wood- stock bridges; that they should have paid for it from current revenue. That state- ment was its own refutation. It would take the whole appropriation for great roads for one year to build the Frederic ton bridge. If the government had in the past laid down the rule that they would only build such structures out of current revenue, such bridges as those at St. John, Freder cton, Woodstock, Grand Falls and Moncton would never have been con- structed at all. Mr. Powell had also claimed that the government were run- ning the province into debt, and that the ultimate result must be financial wreck and ruin. He had placed upon the government a large measure of re- sponsibility for the railway debt. The	these years on the public behalf. Before the appointment of the law clerk he had prepared, with the assistance of the soli- citor general, every government measure that had been introduced, and had care- fully attended to all private legislation. The hon. member for York (Howe) had stated that the government had rendered no detailed expenditures for the horse importation in 1887. The fact was that not only did a statement of the ENTIRE COST OF THAT IMPORTATION and its maintenance appear in the audit- or's report and the agricultural report for 1888, but every item in connexion with that purchase had been submitted and re- ported upon by the public accounts com- mittee of that year, of which Mr. Stockton was a member. Mr. Howe—Didn't the Fraser govern- ment give the price of each horse in the agricultural report? Hon. Mr. Blair—No, they gave precisely the same kind of information in the pub- lic reports as we gave of our importation. No man with any experience of public affairs would contend that all these mul- titudinous items should have been printed. What would have been the use of doing so? What was the public accounts com- mittee for? What were the representa- tives of the people here for? It could not be expected that the entire population should have access to every petty account rendered to the government. Vouchers had been submitted for all these items and the committee in 1888 had reported that they were satisfactory, and yet the crv was being raised that the government	in each, and his cell was about the centre and on the north side. His wife had sent him a clock, a mirror, two or three pictures, and other articles of adornment, and the old man always kept everything in apple pie order. In passing down the corridor with a party of visitors we used always to stop and point out this cell, and nearly everybody wanted to enter it and look around. One afternoon I had a party of eight people, five men and three women. One of the men was an old farmer who wore spectacles and who EVPRESED HIS SURPRISE in such exclamations as "By gosh!" "Gosh durn it!" and "Waal, I'll be hanged!" He was at my elbow all the time as we went through the east corridor, and he was loudest in his surprise and admiration of the cell I have named when we came to it. Savage was scrubbing the floor not ten feet away when we stopped to inspect. Now this is what happened as we started on : Some men were white- washing the beams and rafters of the roof, and the visitors asked a number of questions and we moved on slowly. The old farmer waited for a minute to look at something in the cell, and Savage slipped in, seized him by the throat, and threw him on the bed. Inside of two minutes he gagged, bound, and stripped the old	small that he had to go into it without even a shirt. Lying at full length he drew himself along inch by inch to the main sewer. Here there was room to creep on hands and knees. It ran a dis- tance of 250 feet before striking the street, and at its mouth he discovered just what he had expected to, a heavy iron grating, but it did not stop him more than half an hour. When he passed out he was in a city sewer in which he could stand up- right. The first idea of the average man would have been to get above ground as soon as possible. Not so with Dailey. He knew that A KEEN AND VIGOROUS HUNT would be made for him. He was under a city of 150,000 inhabitants. He passed up the big sewer until he found a lateral into which he could easily crawl, and he fol- lowed it until he debouched into another main. He travelled in this way for several miles and until daylight came, and then he lay by for a rest. When the prisoners were turned out in the morning Dailey was missed and his escape dis- covered. No one could be found to fol- low his trail, but about noon men got into the street sewer and found that he had come out that way. A heavy reward was
	<section-header><section-header><section-header><section-header><section-header><table-container><table-container><table-container><table-row><table-row><table-container><table-container></table-container></table-container></table-row></table-row></table-container></table-container></table-container></section-header></section-header></section-header></section-header></section-header>	MASSON, Plasterer, - and - Bricklayer, SHORE ST., NEAR GAS WORKS, FREDERICTON, N. R. TOOMS in and see my Cloths and hard par prices. It will pay you to do so. NEXT BELOW C. P. R. OFFICE, DON'T GO DOWN TOWN NAILROADS. NEXT BELOW C. P. R. OFFICE, DON'T GO DOWN TOWN Without * Calling at * Mithout CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY ATLANTIC DIVISION. ALL TO BOSTON, &C. THE SHORT LINE NONTREAL, &C. ARRANGEMENT OF TRAINS IN Effect December 4th, 1893: LEAVE FREDERICTON. AREANGEMENT OF TRAINS IN Effect December 4th, 1893: LEAVE FREDERICTON. AND A. MMixed for Woodstock and points North, See M Accommodating for Frederich Jamas, DON'T Constitution of the States, Constitution of the Stat	MASON, Plasterer, - and - Bricklayer, shore st, NEAR GAS WORKS, FREDERIOTON, N. B. JOBSIDO a specialty. Workmanship first-class. Prices satisfactory RAILROADS. CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY ATLANTIC DIVISION. ALL BOTON, &C. RAILWAY ATLANTIC DIVISION. ALL BOTON, &C. RAILWAY ATLANTIC DIVISION. ALL BOTON, &C. RAILWAY ATLANTIC DIVISION. ALL BOTON, &C. RAILWAY ATLANTIC DIVISION. ALL BOTON, &C. ALL BOTON, &C. ALL BOTON, &C. RAILWAY ATLANTIC DIVISION. ALL BOTON, &C. ALL BOTON, &C. BOTON, &C. BOTO	MASSON, Plasterer, and - Bricklayer, secone s. r. ware Cas works. FREDERIGTON, N. B.	 MASON, Plasterer, - and - Bricklayer, Base and see my Colta and har and the see of the core set of the set of the set of the set of the core set of the set of the core set of the set of the core set of the set of		<text></text>

	Feb 22		2 Cases Files	house with regard to the financial stric-	tion. The lobster act of 1886 was de-	with the purchase of those horses. Why	man of his country, made a change of ap	in disgust. During the same week there
	Mar 8			house with regard to the mancial stric-	tion. The lobster act of 1886 was de- manded on all sides by the representa-	had not the accounts been asked for since	parel, and was with us and saying:	in disgust. During the same week there
	Apr 5	Which he is prepared to MAKE UP	MILL and Circular Saw Files, Taper saw, Cross-		time of the neerle. For some room he	I II they were wanted i min blockton had	There are a second and a second a second	were two hundred men looking for him
	Cabin passage, $45 and upwards; Second Cabin,		LVL cut, Hand and Ripping saw Files. Double cut Bastard Files in round, square, half round, and	land (Powell.) Many of that gentleman's	tives of the people. For some years be-	said that Dr. Atkinson had asked for	right at home in here!"	above ground, and at least a dozen 830 and $35; Steerage, $24. Round trip tickets at	in the	oval. Double cut smooth Files. Pit saw and auger	I winter had been treated with more than	fore a determined effort had been put	them and it had been denied him, but	You will say that I ought to have de-	strangers were spotted and arrested. He reduced rates.		Files, Horse and wood rasps. Files for horses'	1' I hat dide and closences has the		the fact was that no such request had	and the set of the set	was a man without triends, and we looked
		TARREN AND BOOM BACHTONADT	teeth. Watchmakers' Files. And for sale by R. CHESTNUT & SONS.			been made or refused.	tootot the children of the ought the
	Steerage Tickets issued to and from the principal	LATEST AND MOST FASHIONABLE	R. CHESTNOT & SONS.	last speaker. The mancial critic of the	- int to form the approximate	Mr. Blair apologized for taking up so		for him to head for the country when he and and the	points in Great Britain and the Continent at cheap		WEDLEY VANNADT	opposition must have experienced a woe-		much of the time of the house. He had	Savage had heard the old man talking	left the city. Fortune strangely favored
		STYLES	WESLEY VANWART,	ful want of materials, or he would not	TO PASS THAT ACT.	desired before the close of the debate to	and was a good mimic. We finished the	him. He got into a lateral sewer leading Glasgow via St. John's, N. F., to		Barrister.	have devoted so much attention to the		throw some light on the question of pub- lic printing, and he hoped that his obser-	usual round passed the lodge keepers	from a slaughter house, passed up into
		AT MODERATE PRICES.			supporters to induce them to join them in	lic printing, and he hoped that his obser-	I usual round, passed one rouge accours,	the house and into a loft above in the
	Halifax,		Office: Queen Street,	minutes of the auditor's report. He had	Supporters to induce them to join them in	vations upon the financial position of the
	Sailings Fortnightly.		OPPOSITE NORMAL SCHOOL.		order that these subsidies might be se-	province might not altogether fail to reach	Standing right there in the presence of	night, and he lived on raw meat alone for
		W. E. SEERY,	OTTOSTIC NORMAL SUROUL		curea. It for birong presente mas brought		The warden a guard and mysolf Savage	three days. Then one night he slipped
	Glasgow, Londonderry, and New York		Fredericton, May 6th, 1893.	societies was a most pernicious one If	to bear upon the government, and they	had shown that though the government	1 OOT OIL SOME OUSINE SHO OF GINGI FEMORE	out und inter the second secon
	Service.	WILMOT'S AVE.			were prevailed upon, as it was their right	had devoted every cent of it and more to	which caused everybody to lough and he	pair of trousers on a clothesline. Next
	From		2+++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++++	other in which the government had re-	and duty to yield to the demand of the	the great necessary services that were de-	insisted on shaking hands before he took
	New York.			sponded to the intelligent opinion of the	and duty, to yield to the domain of the	manded by the country and with respect	insisted on shaking hands before he took	pocket, hanging up while he stepped out
	STATE OF NEBRASKA	DR. R. MCLEARN.	Ladies.	sponded to the intelligent opinion of the	people's representatives. Who was re-	to which the opposition had not been	and departates and had been gone an	and Dailey sneaked it. That evening he
	STATE OF CALIFORNIAApril 12			country it was in their treatment of those	ponoroi or inter registation / reas to the	crying for a decrease, but rather for an in-	hour when the other scrubman discovered	got out of the place, bought a pair of shoes
-	Oabin, $40 to $60; Second Cabin, $30; Eteerage,	Office and Residence,	Mother Green's Tansy Pills.	grants which had utterly failed to accom-	four or five members composing the gov-	crease in the appropriations. There was	what had happened and gave the alarm.	at a second hand store, and went to the
	$24. For Staterooms, Tickets or further information		Reliable. REFUSE SUBSTITU-	plish anything for the advancement of	ernment, or was it the representatives of	a reasonable probability of a shortage on	We had a regular circus with the old	depot and took a train out of town.
1	apply to	Corner Queen and Regent Sts.	TES. From all Druggists or mailed,	the farming interest. He had also severe-	the people who made their united de-	current revenue account this year, but the	forman who	Dailey was again heard of in St. Louis,
		Office Hours.	Sealed particulars, 3 cents.	ly criticized the government for the cost	mand? Did the government misinternret.	government had reason to believe that in	larmer, who	but he led the officers a wild goose chase
	WM. THOMSON & CO., Agents,					another year their income from territorial	DEMANDED $1,000,000 DAMAGES,	and finally escaped to South America.
		8 to 10 A. M., 1 to 3 P. M., 6 to 8 P. M.		of the board of health report. The hon.		sources would be much greater than the		The particulars I have given you I got
	ST. JOHN N.B.	Telephone, 66.	Ŷ$	gentleman had scarcely done himself jus-	people in 1874, and in 1882, and in 1886?	receipts this year, and more than suffi-	and wasn't going to leave until he got his	from a pal of his who came under my
	March 3-5.	Fredericton, May 6th 1893	For Sale by ALONZO STAPLES.	tice in that statement, for he had dwelt	Did they place this legislation upon the	cient to meet the deficiency. (Applause).	cash. Savage rode out of town with a	charge about a year after the escape.	