NEW YORK, Dec. 8.

The New York World says Canada's contribution to Imperial Defence will involve a far-reaching change in the constitutional relations between the Mother Country and her colonies. While Australia and South Africa may be willing to retain their present subordinate roles when by payment of a few millions towards the British Navy, they may acquire the right to a voice in the Imperial Councils; and what may India look for if the native Princes succeed in their scheme for raising a huge fund for naval purposes? In the Canadian proposals is the beginning of a new form of Imperial Federation. The New York Tribune says: The almost unanimous and general enthusiastic approval which is given to this arrangement by the British press, and the assurance which Premier Borden says he has that it will be welcomed by the British government, presents a strong contrast to the British attitude towards the Colonies in other respects. Nevertheless the acceptance of this Canadian offer with its conditions by the present Liberal, and almost radical, government means much in itself, and strikingly suggests how much more in the same direction might be done, if the Unionists, committed to Chamberlain's Colonial fiscal policy, should be returned to power. A British Empire in six continents, with Imperial representatives in the Councils of Imperial Defence, and an Imperial system of free Trade within the Empire, and protection without it, would be a greater factor in the World's affairs than the Empire is today.

The British Government has placed the historic St. James' Palace at the disposal of the Peace plenipotentiaries representing Turkey and the Balkan States. The meetings, which commenced on Friday, are being looked forward to with great interest, and a satisfactory solution of the problem which has troubled Europe for so many years, is hoped for. It is not yet definitely decided whether Greece will participate. A report is published that she will enter into separate peace negotiations with Turkey. One of the European capitals, probably Vienna.

A strike has been declared by locomotive engineers on the London and Northwestern Railway Company, because one of the engineers engaged on the Main Line, owing to a conviction for drunkenness, whilst on duty was refused to running a pilot engine. The punished man had been promised by the management that if his future conduct was good he would be reinstated in his old position, but the locomotive Engineers' Union demanded his immediate reinstatement. If this was not granted, the men would be called out. Three thousand have already quit work, and the whole of the main and branch lines are disorganized.

John Redmond, Nationalist leader, is the latest victim of the Suffragettes. At Dalston last night for an hour and a half he watched the ejection of interrupters. Their desperate resistance to the ushers caused a rapid succession of rowdy scenes, and men and women were thrown bodily from the hall. Among the men were some clerical men, who protested against the rough handling of the women. During half an hour Redmond was able to utter only a single sentence, which was that it seemed to him almost tragic that the cause of Women, which was so great in the minds and hearts of many, should be turned into a comic interlude.

The alliance between Austria-Hungary, Germany and Italy has been renewed without alteration. Information received from Belgrade to-day is to the effect that the union of Serbian merchants have decided to boycott all Austrian products. Serbian artillery has taken up positions on the banks of the Danube below Belgrade, commanding several important points on Austrian territory.

The Wellington Post, enlarging its action, says Premier Borden successfully claimed that Canada's contribution towards Imperial defence should give her a share in control of the Imperial policy. New Zealand's gift of a Dreadnought during the Premiership of Sir Joseph Ward represented sentiment, but Canada's Dreadnoughts combine sentiment and statesmanship in the happiest possible way.

Price Louis of Battenburg, who was appointed First Sea Lord to succeed Sir Francis Bridgeman, has resigned on account of ill-health.

Old King Fairbanks is much amused. His serenity is even greater than ever. With his wisdom and experience of years, his knowledge of human requirements, his wealth to cater to the most extravagant demands, his willingness to comply with the changed conditions which modern times require, he pitifully shakes his head at the arrogance of youth.

Modern champions lives are short. Their fame dies in a few years, often in a few months, but the Jno. L. Sullivan of olden days is a champion even to-day. Age brings wisdom, security and perfection. Who will dare to say that Oxford, Cambridge, and Westminster have depreciated on account of their hoary old age. So it is with KING FAIRBANKS. Years have given him wisdom and experience. He has watched the changes of time, and knows what is required.

He is bigger to-day than ever. The success he is meeting with in Newfoundland is usual to him, but success being unfamiliar with rivals, they shout, and, when threatened by Fairbanks, they howl.

King Fairbanks doesn't grow alarmed. He knows he is bound to get his share of business. Coming here from his last scene of conquest and triumph where he has sold more than all other makes together, he has made his rivals grow concerned for the future.

Since Fairbanks began business, rival firms have sprung up and died, and history will repeat itself.

The dogs bark, but the caravan moves on. FAIRBANKS is the simplest, strongest, most reliable, and durable engine in Newfoundland. Look at the specification of any engine on the market, and then look at the specification of FAIRBANKS of equal advertised horse power; you will then see that the FAIRBANKS has them beaten badly.

If you have not got the specifications we will supply both the Fairbanks and its rivals, and supply you with comparisons that will make you sit up and take notice.

KING FAIRBANKS is for sale at attractive prices and terms, so don't say until you see KING FAIRBANKS.

On Second Thought.

One winter is much like another in the respect that there are too many poor theatrical attractions on the road.

Buck Kilby says when he was a young man his reputation was such that the girls all called him "the Python."

A man can interest a woman by telling her he is going to be married. But he can not interest her by telling her that he is married.

Lelia Constance Featheringham is chasing a Kansas City travelling man so hard that there is some talk of compelling her to take out a hunter's license.

Buck Kilby says most of the outrages over which we, the people, grow indignant never happened.

One great objection to the rules of gastronomy is that the man who bolts his oysters never finds a pearl.

City of Sydney Arrives

Search for Morien Unsuccessful.

The S. S. City of Sydney, Capt. Fraser, arrived in port early today morning from Montreal via intermediate ports, bringing a full cargo including flour, pork, hay, potatoes, etc., and the following passengers in saloon:—Miss McNeill, Thomas and five in steerage.

The steamer left Montreal on 26th and made a good run to Lottetown where she delayed several days taking freight. She then proceeded to Sydney at which place was commissioned to go in search of the missing steamer Morien. The City of Sydney left Sydney on 30th morning and proceeded about 100 miles off the Cape Breton Coast in vicinity of Scattered, but did not find anything that would indicate whereabouts of the missing ship. She then continued her cruise for two scouring various directions of ocean and returned to Sydney Thursday after an unsuccessful search. The Lady Laurier which has been in search of the Morien for a period put into Louisbourg yesterday and reported no tidings of the missing ship. All hope of finding the Morien has been abandoned, and it is supposed she has met her fate.

Up to the time a man is 40, his light is a thing that stirs his heart.
