A NEW YORK BUDGET.

Special to Evening Telegram.
NEW YORK, via St. Pierre, Oct. 6.
The Allies have been compelled to retreat at several points north of the Oise.

According to the ministry's statement the Russian victory grows. Grand Duke Nicholas sends news to the French War Minister of sweeping victory at Augustow. He claims that the Germans have been routed, many prisoners have been taken, and that the loss is 70,000. Berlin denies the defeat. Cossacks are reported within ten miles of Cracow.

British are in Antwerp forts.
Allied forces have been driven back in their assault on German right wing.

The crushing of the German army at Augustowa has opened the way for the Russian advance on Berlin, for which purpose a central army of 1,000,000 is now in readiness. The Czar yesterday arrived at the headquarters of the central army.
Germany sends an ultimatum to Roumania that war will be declared if Roumania threatens Transylvania.
Italians demanded war with Austria at a huge mass meeting in Milan, and urge the liberation of Trent and Trieste.

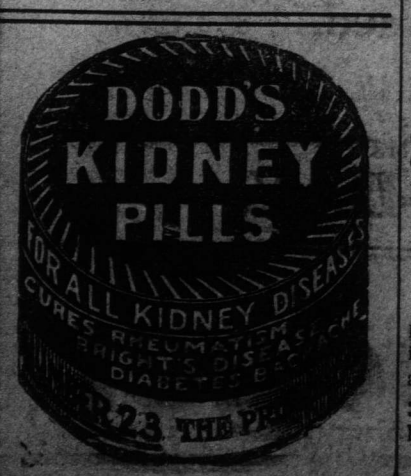

Portugal may next enter war and will join the Allies whenever called upon by England, so declares the Minister of the Republic at Washington. The French fleet is again bombarding the Austrian port of Cattaro.

GERMANS EXTENDING LINES NORTH.

PARIS, Oct. 6.
Following is an official communication given out in Paris this afternoon: On our left wing, the front is extending more and more widely. Very important masses of German cavalry have been reported in the environs of Lille, coming from forces of the enemy, which are making a movement in the region to the north of a line between Tourcoing in the Department of Nord, 7 miles northeast of Lille, and Arras, 9 miles northwest of Lille.

BATTLE RANGE EXTENDING.

PARIS, Oct. 6.
The battlefront on the German right wing is steadily becoming greater, extending north and northeast. German cavalry are engaged in counter-flanking movements near Lille, trying to turn back the attacks of the Allies. The Germans were repulsed in fierce attacks near Lassigny. The Allies have advanced slightly north of Soissons.

BATTLE OF THE AISNE A DRAW.

Special to Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Oct. 6.
Military men believe that the Battle of the Aisne is a draw, but that the steady pressure of the Allies will force the Germans back until they reach the Rhine, where the decisive battle of the war will be fought.

ALLIES DOING GOOD WORK.

PARIS, Oct. 6.
French and British troops have defeated the German right wing army and General Von Kluck at two points of conflict above Soissons. The Allies delivered a furious assault on the Kaiser's forces and drove them from the entrenched positions which they had held for the past two weeks. At Lassigny the Germans attempted by a massed onslaught to pierce the French battlefront, but were defeated and forced to retreat with heavy losses.

DRAWING FORCES FROM ANTWERP.

BORDEAUX, Oct. 6.
News described as "most encouraging" has been received here to-day from Antwerp. The German attack seems to be slackening. The German troops reported by the official announcement this afternoon to be near Lille in the Department of Nord, indicate, in the opinion of French observers, that Germany has been forced to draw on the forces from Antwerp to relieve the German right wing which has been hard pressed by the Allies. Word has been received here that Winston Churchill is now in Antwerp consulting the Belgian General Staff.

RUSSIANS DRIVE OUT INVADERS.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 6.—(Official).
The German retreat continues along the frontier of East Prussia. The Germans have been forced to abandon their fortified positions between Wierzbil and Lyck. The railroads in East Prussia are crowded with troops. Our aerial scouts report uninterrupted movement of German columns and troop trains are withdrawing across the border.

CRISIS IN ITALY.

ROME, Oct. 6.
Italian papers declare that pressing changes in the Cabinet make it certain that Italy will declare war against Austria. Editorials demand that Italy throw off the bonds of the Triple Alliance.

MINARD'S LINIMENT FOR SALE EVERYWHERE.

THE SIEGE OF TSING TAU.

TOKIO, Oct. 6.
Operations at Tsing Tau have entered upon their last stage. All the Japanese and British troops and artillery have been placed in position for a big attack. Surrender of the fortress has been demanded and refused.

THE KING AND PRESIDENT.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—(Official).
King George has received a telegram from President Poincare, saying: "On leaving the French Headquarters, I had great pleasure in paying a visit to Field Marshal French, at the British Headquarters, and to his valued British troops. I seize this agreeable opportunity of renewing to Your Majesty my most hearty felicitations, and shall be grateful if you convey them to the splendid Army which is now fighting fraternally by the side of the French."

King George replied to the President: "I heartily thank you, Mr. President, for informing me of the visit which you so kindly paid to the Headquarters of my Army in France. I will gladly convey your message of congratulation to my troops, who are proud to be fighting side by side with the gallant French Army."

HUSTLING FOR TRADE.

AMHERST, Oct. 6.
Fifty Maritime Province manufacturers met here to-day to form an Association, replacing the Provincial Branch of the Canadian Federation. This done, immediate steps towards stimulating trade in Eastern Canada were determined upon, and to-morrow definite details will be worked out. It is the purpose of these allied industrial heads to send general commercial travellers abroad to enquire into the possibilities for close relations with importers in foreign lands, and to dig up business for the Maritime Province concerns, individually. Bruce Stewart, of Charlottetown, is one of the executive committee looking after the scheme.

PROHIBITS EXPORTATION OF RAW WOOL.

LONDON, Oct. 6.
The Government has prohibited the exportation of raw wool from England to any other country.

DESTRUCTIVE EARTHQUAKE.

LONDON, Oct. 6.
An official message from Constantinople says the victims of an earthquake in the Province of Konia, Asia Minor, are estimated at two thousand five hundred.

CANADA OFFERS ANOTHER CONTINGENT.

OTTAWA, Oct. 7.
Canada is to raise immediately and send to the front a second expeditionary force of 20,000 men, along with a first reinforcement of ten percent making 22,000 in all. This decision was reached at yesterday's Cabinet Council. In conjunction with those already gone, Canada's force at the front will exceed 50,000 men. Arrangements are under way to expeditiously raise the second contingent.

THE SITUATION UNCHANGED.

PARIS, Oct. 7.
Official communication issued last night follows: "The character-tics of the situation remain the same. On our left wing action is more violent. To the north of the Oise in the centre, comparative calm prevails. A little ground has been gained in the northern part of the heights of the Meuse."

ADVISED TO LEAVE ANTWERP.

LONDON, Oct. 7.
The following official communication was issued last night at Antwerp: "The military Governor has informed the Burgomaster that the bombardment of Antwerp is imminent and people who wish to flee from the town are requested to leave. The bombardment will have no influence on the town's resistance, which will be pushed to the extreme limit."

A COSTLY FIRE.

BUENOS AYRES, Oct. 7.
Fire yesterday destroyed the Marine Department Depot, entailing a loss of $2,000,000.

Eat Cabbage, Fish, Sausage, New Bread.

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Upset Stomach if you'll take "Pape's Diapiesin"—Try This!

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, let this down: Pape's Diapiesin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference now, hardly your stomach is disordered, you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleasure you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapiesin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapiesin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eruptions of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

The Bridge of Shadows.

At The Nickel Theatre.
Another grand treat is in store for Nickel patrons this evening. The manager has secured the much sought melodrama by the Selig Co. entitled "The Bridge of Shadows." It is in two acts, and in a thrilling story, currently different to other pictures ever seen here. The picture has a fascination from start to finish. It was first presented in New York where it had wonderful success. The press gave it much prominence and all the movie houses were anxious to get it. There will be three other full reels. This is Mr. DeWitt C. Cairns' farewell. Arthur G. Haskins, who will appear on Monday next has a high reputation as a vocalist. He has sung in a large number of the Canadian and American cities.

Lecture.

On Monday evening last Rev. Dr. Hemenon, B. A., lectured to a large audience in the basement of Gower Street Church. His theme was "The Philosophy of Mother Goose." After defining philosophy as the study of truth, he reminded his hearers of all the valuable lessons that may be derived from all such familiar rhymes. He also referred to the frivolities of the young ladies of the twentieth century in an interesting and humorous manner.
Rev. Mr. Hemenon has already established himself as a pulpit orator, and Monday night's discourse showed that he is an interesting lecturer as well.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES RHEUMATISM.

System of Satisfaction.

By RUTH CAMERON.

A friend of mine made up her mind to buy a farm. She had only two months in which to select and this is the way she went about it. She bought a map of the territory around the city in which her family have business interests. She consulted the family as to the distance to which they were willing to commute, and then she drew on the map a circle whose centre was the city and whose radius was that distance. All land within that circle was possible territory. Her next step was to eliminate. She eliminated all territory north of the city because it was low land and they wanted a high place. She eliminated the land south of the city because it was not good farming land. That left her a certain section on the east and west. She next went to a reliable real estate firm, discussed the remaining territory with them, and having eliminated further territory because of price and certain other considerations proceeded to inspect the remaining sections with the firm's various agents. On all these trips she took with her a memorandum book in which was a list of important points, such as the size of farm desired, size of house, distance from station, conveniences, etc. Each place which she looked at she examined in the light of these requirements, and noted down how each one stood the various tests, just as the judge in a dog show examines each contestant for certain points, and rates him accordingly. Needless to say that this woman made a perfectly satisfactory purchase. Why not? Satisfaction and system are seldom separated. I know another woman who also bought a farm some years ago. Having conceived the idea (without knowing anything about the matter) that they would like to farm, she and her husband went to an agent (of whose reliability they knew nothing) and told him they wanted to buy a farm. He sized them up, and showed them an attractive and impracticable place; they fell in love with it at first sight and bought without looking further. They gradually discovered that it was too far from the station to be practicable for commuting, that the ground was not good for the kind of farming they wanted to do, and that the markets on that side of the city were poor. They are now vainly trying to dispose of the property for two-thirds of the price they paid. These people went about the business of life without knowing what they wanted or how to get it. It was as inevitable that they should be disappointed as that weeds will grow in a plot of waste land. The trouble with most of us who don't get what we want, and in the second, we don't go about getting it systematically. Any part of the business of life from washing dishes to ruling a kingdom can be done better if it is done systematically. Let the first step toward getting what you want in any direction be definition, the second elimination, the third determination and the fourth will almost inevitably be satisfaction.
