"The most ortant work is being carried on to be kind to all helpless creatur As a result boys and girls are look ing out for the interest of the birds sonally are watering and feeding of the proper authorities any cases of inhumane treatment they observe "The second reason is that men dealing in animals have discovered that it pays in dollars and cents to be humane. Cattle buyers are beginning to insist that the animals under their charge be humanely treated. To do otherwise decreases the value of the animal and bring them heavy losses. Some o the animal dealers now are our warmest exconents of humane treatment of animals. They are compelling their employees to practice this.

"There is still another reason and that is the American spirit of fair play. No normal American cares to njure anything that cannot fight

Another Rex Ingram Masterpieces.

WILL BE SEEN AT THE NICKEL MONDAY NEXT.

Nickel Theatre announces Rudolph Valentino's great starring vehicle, "The Conquering Power," which is to be shown on Monday next. It is a Rex Ingram production, and judging from such pictures as "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "The Four Horsemen" our amusement lovers know what to expect. When it comes from Rex Ingram it centainly is something big. To give an idea of what the story is like, we give herewith a short synopsis of the plot:

When the father of Charles Grandet finds that his fortune has been sunk in the sea of speculation, he sends his son to his brother and commits suicide. The brother, known to everyone Grandet, is a miser and forces his wife and his stepdaughter to help him stint and save. Charles, who has been reared in luxury in Paris, is terribly shocked when he learns of his father's death; and resents it when his uncle tries to blame his brother for leaving beauty of face and character make a deep impression on him, and the two exchange vows of love before he leaves for Martinique to mend his fortune. The remainder of the story is brim-
