To clean a very dirty chamois skin take a bucket of clean water, making it middling strong with ammonia; allow the skin to soak in over night; the next morning rinse it out in pure water, then wash with plenty of pure white soap and water.

For flour griddle cakes mix with one quart flour three teaspoonfuls of Royal baking powder and one teaspoonful salt; then add one tablespoonful melted butter, then add one tablespoonful melted butter, well-beaten eggs, and milk enough to make a batter of proper consistency; cook immediately.

The cleanest most perfectly-polished hardwood floors have no water used on them. They are simply rubbed every morning with a large flannel cloth which is occasionally dipped in parafine oil. The floor is rubbed with the grain of the wood, not across it. This is better than waxing. In cooking a tongue first choose one with a smooth skin, as then it is young, and should be tender; soak for two or three hours in clean water if the tongue is just out of the pickle, or let it lie in the water all night if it is hard or dry; next put it into a stewpan with as much cold water as covers it, put also in a bunch of savory herbs, let it gradually come to a boiling point, then skim, and simmer gently until boiled; peel off the skin, and send to the table garnished with tufts of canliflowers or Brussels sprouts. It can also be served cold, garnished with a paper ruching round the end of it.

We have just received from the editors, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rowland, of Dublin, a copy of this valuable annual for 1890, which should be in the library of all chess players, containing as it does so much of interest relating to the game. It is a neatly gotten-up book of 174 pages, and comprises within its covers notes on game. It is a neatly getten-up book of 1rd pages, and comprises within its covers notes on chess terms, notes on the history, progress and improvements of chess, rules for ylaying at odds by correspondence and by consultation, reports of various clubs, a list of well-known playors, chess associations of Great Britain, Canada and the United States and of chess resorts in all countries; English periodicals relating to chess, prize problems in Tourneys, 1889, etc. etc.

Success is rarely a matter of accident—always a matter of character. The reason why so many men fail is that so few men are willing to pay the price of self-denial and hard work which success exacts.

A little religion makes us afraid; when a little light is poured in upon the conscience, there is a darkness visible; nothing but sights of woe and terror; the glory of God alarms while it shines around. His holiness, the range and difficulties of his commandments, the greatness of his power, the faithfulness of his word, frighten the sinner and men seeing him afraid think religion has made him so, whereas he is not religious at all. They call him religious when he is merely conscience-stricken. But religion itself, far from inculcating fear and terror, says "Fear not." IS OF THE CONSISTENCY OF CREAM; PALATABLE AND HIGHLY NUTRITIOUS. Being ARTIFICIALLY DIGESTED, containing NO gum whatsoever, is en-tirely absorbed into the system and is equivalent in nutritive value to 10 TIMES the same bulk of the finest preparation of Cod Liver Oil on the mar-ket, and is therefore the CHEAPEST and BEST preparation of Cod Liver Oil for the CONSUMER. INSPIRED BY THE SPIRIT.

No man knows what he might be, says Spurgeon, if he were filled with the Spirit. What is that rough Luther? He is only fit to have been the killer of bullocks, or a feller of oaks in the forest; but fill Luther with the Holy Spirit, and what is he? He slays wild beasts of error in the great arena of the Gospel, and is more than conqueror through the might which dwelleth in him. Take John Calvin—fit naturally to be a cunning lawyer, cutting and dividing nice points, judging this precedent and that, frittering away his time over immaterial niceties—but fill him with the Holy Ghost, and John Calvin becomes the mighty master of grace, the reflection of wisdom of all past ages, and a great light to shed a brilliant ray even till the millennium shall dawn. The mighty seer of Geneva, filled with the Spirit of God, is no more John Calvin, but a God-sent angel of the churches.
