"I take my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicines. Some time ago my husband was taken down with lung fever. It came on him with a chill in the night. It happened I had a supply of the medicine in the house at the time. I rubbed his chest and back with the Radway's Ready Relief. I gave him a teaspoonful in a little hot water to drink, to help warm and stimulate him, and in about half an hour three of the Radway's Pills. By the time the doctor came the next morning he was much better. The doctor wanted to know what I had been doing. I told him. He said that was good; that they were good medicines. Another case I had was with my little nephew. He was taken with the croup. I rubbed his chest, throat and back with the Ready Relief, gave him doses about an hour apart, followed it by a dose of pills. By the next day he was about all right. Auto-Expanding

The foot spreads when borne upon! It contracts again when lifted!

A new shoe, which fits the foot neatly when off the ground, must therefore pinch it when stood upon, till it is stretched to the maximum width of foot.

A shoe which has thus been stretched, till comfortable across the ball when stood upon, must be too loose when the foot is lifted.

The RESILIA is the only shoe which expands at the ball when the foot does, and contracts again when lifted.

It becomes a size larger inside when the foot sinks down into the resilient centresole, the rebounding of which takes up the leather slack again when foot is lifted.

It is thus as easy as an old shoe the first moment it is worn, requires no "breaking in," and retains its shape because the leather is never overstretched.

Agnes had rubbed up her mother's silver, and arranged it, with their small stock of china, upon the sideboard, and even though it was a somewhat meager array, it looked very bright and pretty.

She had also hung three or four petures, which served to break the bare stretch of white walls. In the fire-place she had laid some wood and cones, and placed a couple of vases and one or two other ornaments upon the pretty mantel
