

London Advertiser.

FOUNDED IN 1853.
NOON AND EVENING DAILY.
WESTERN ADVERTISER WEEKLY.
THE LONDON ADVERTISER CO.,
Limited, Publishers.
121-122 Dundas Street, London, Ont.

PHONE NUMBERS:
Business Department ..... 107
Editorial Rooms ..... 124 and 125
Job Printing Department ..... 112

TO SUBSCRIBERS:
Readers of The Advertiser are requested to favor the management by reporting any irregularities in delivery.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Daily, Delivered by Carrier in City: 35.00
One Year ..... 35.00
Daily, Delivered by Carrier Outside City: 40.00
One Year ..... 40.00
One Month ..... 3.50
Daily, by Mail, Outside City: 32.00
One Year ..... 32.00

The Advertiser is on sale regularly at the following news stands, where subscriptions may be left:
Buffalo, N. Y.—J. Seldenberg, Elliott Square News Stand.
Chicago, Ill.—Chicago Newspaper Agency, 110 Madison street.
Louisville, Ky.—Kentucky International News Company.
Toronto—Toronto News Stand, Ross House News Stand.
[Entered at the London (Canada) post-office as matter of the second class.]

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21.

MISCHIEF MAKERS IN QUEBEC.

Opponents of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in this province, who have been disposed to look with a favoring eye upon Mr. Bourassa, should read his journal, Le Devoir. If they are good Canadians they will not relish Le Devoir's attacks upon the Premier, based, as they invariably are, upon appeals to racial and religious prejudice. It is the continual cry of that journal that Sir Wilfrid has conspired against French-Canadian civil and religious liberties in order to retain his hold on the English-speaking provinces. In Monday's issue, Mr. Armand Lavergne, Mr. Bourassa's lieutenant, savagely denounces the Premier for his speech at the Eucharistic Congress, in which he extolled Canada as "a country of all the liberties." This quotation will find no place in the Orange Sentinel:

"Where exists that liberty of which the Prime Minister speaks? Surely not in Manitoba. Is it then in Alberta, in Saskatchewan? It is there, where the Catholic schools are abolished, prayer forbidden to the children, the crucifix prohibited? A country of all the liberties forsooth, when his own Government has abolished the French language in two provinces, and refuses to re-establish it in Manitoba? A country of all the liberties when we are persecuted in Ontario, in New Brunswick, and in Nova Scotia? When a whole race suffers in a country, is it for a son of that race, a chief of that country, to officially affirm that peace reigns in all the land?"

Mr. Lavergne winds up by comparing Sir Wilfrid to the Russian General Sebastiano, who cried "Order reigns at Warsaw!" after he had sacked the city and filled the streets with dead. Such is the mischief which Sir Wilfrid and the Liberal party have to fight in the province of Quebec. That they have fought it successfully must be accounted to the credit of the French-Canadian people.

PORTUGAL IN A FERMENT.

Events in Portugal may be shaping toward a revolution. In the recent election the Liberal Government failed to secure a majority over the "conservative-Clerical" bloc, it finds itself dependent upon Republican support. This is the explanation of the Government's anti-clerical policy, one feature of which is the expulsion of the Jesuits. The Republicans are not only anti-clerical, but anti-dynastic; they openly advocate the immediate overthrow of the monarchy. The youthful King Manuel is therefore in a critical position. His personal sympathies are with the Conservatives and Clericals, but he has assented to the attack on the religious orders because he would endanger the throne by opposing the Government. His father and elder brother were assassinated by revolutionists, and his own life hangs by a thread.

THE NEEDS OF THE COUNTRY.

Lord Clinton, who is rated among the wealthiest of the English nobility, is at present in this country, having travelled as far west as the new mining town of Stewart, B. C. His object is to investigate for himself the opportunities for investment. He has studied the country, and his conclusion is that Canada needs men more than money. He is much interested in colonization schemes, of which many are planned in England, and means to take a hand in the movement himself. Naturally, he says, the class of men that we will get through these colonization schemes will be high. They will be placed on the land by men who are looking for returns from their investments, and who will see to it that only the men from whom returns are reasonably assured are sent out. He is inclined to think Canadians are getting over-particular as to the class of men who come from the old country. "This is still a very young land, and there is room for all," he says. He is of the opinion that the second generation in Canada will be such that we will be much the gainers in allowing the greatest freedom in immigration from the mother land at the present time.

A SQUIRREL PUZZLE.

A correspondent reminds us of a puzzle which the late Professor James once used as a peg on which to hang one of his most learned discourses. It may be stated as follows: A squirrel is supposed to be clinging to one side of a tree-trunk, while over against the opposite side of the tree is a man trying to get a glimpse of the squirrel by moving rapidly round the tree. No matter how fast he goes, however, the squirrel moves as fast away from him, and always keeps the tree between itself and the man. The problem is: Does the man go round the squirrel or not? He goes round the tree, and the squirrel is on the tree; but does he go round the squirrel?

SERIOUSLY MISTAKEN.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] Many a woman thinks she is having her own way when her husband remains silent and permits her to keep right on talking.

USELESS.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] It is useless to overcome a fault if you are going to spend the rest of your time boasting about it.

IS THE LIMIT REACHED?

[Saratoga Herald.] It makes a man smile to read that women's hats are going to be bigger this winter. He knows it is impossible.

TAKING HIM DOWN.

[Washington Herald.] "The way to run this country," said the egotist, "is to put thoroughly wise, alert and honest men in control of all affairs."

NO SERVING TWO MASTERS.

[Ottawa Citizen.] We may, if we choose, make commercialism dominant, and count success in terms of dollars and cents. Or we may make character supreme and count success in terms of right and high purpose. It is not possible for us to adopt both aims, or even to make any kind of compromise between the two, whereby we may please ourselves to both. We cannot serve two masters.

EXPENSE INSISTED UPON.

[Washington Star.] "You might have a few gold fish in the conservatory," said the decorative expert.

SCRIPTURAL.

[Puck.] "What do you mean by 'being candid, pa?'"

AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

[Ottawa Free Press.] This is the twentieth anniversary of the passage of the McKinley tariff, which though apparently a vital law to Canada was in reality a blessing in disguise.

ANYTHING.

[London Opinion.] Client—I don't mind what wages I pay so long as she's capable.

MUST BE PERFORMANCE.

[Toronto Star.] American authorities tried to stop the "Go to Canada" movement by an advertising campaign. It failed because they said things about the Canadian West which they could not back up. The wise merchant knows that his goods must be supplemented by performance.

DOG-FLESH SUPPERS.

[London Daily News.] The report of the Minor of the Federation deputation (Messrs. R. Smillie and A. Onions) to Germany contains details regarding the practice of eating horse, dog and cat flesh by German workmen. It states that they found numerous instances of the practice, which on inquiry were ascertained to be due not to any personal preference, but to sheer necessity.

THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21, 1910.

FOUNDED IN 1853.
NOON AND EVENING DAILY.
WESTERN ADVERTISER WEEKLY.
THE LONDON ADVERTISER CO.,
Limited, Publishers.
121-122 Dundas Street, London, Ont.

PHONE NUMBERS:
Business Department ..... 107
Editorial Rooms ..... 124 and 125
Job Printing Department ..... 112

TO SUBSCRIBERS:
Readers of The Advertiser are requested to favor the management by reporting any irregularities in delivery.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Daily, Delivered by Carrier in City: 35.00
One Year ..... 35.00
Daily, Delivered by Carrier Outside City: 40.00
One Year ..... 40.00
One Month ..... 3.50
Daily, by Mail, Outside City: 32.00
One Year ..... 32.00

The Advertiser is on sale regularly at the following news stands, where subscriptions may be left:
Buffalo, N. Y.—J. Seldenberg, Elliott Square News Stand.
Chicago, Ill.—Chicago Newspaper Agency, 110 Madison street.
Louisville, Ky.—Kentucky International News Company.
Toronto—Toronto News Stand, Ross House News Stand.
[Entered at the London (Canada) post-office as matter of the second class.]

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21.

MISCHIEF MAKERS IN QUEBEC.

Opponents of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in this province, who have been disposed to look with a favoring eye upon Mr. Bourassa, should read his journal, Le Devoir. If they are good Canadians they will not relish Le Devoir's attacks upon the Premier, based, as they invariably are, upon appeals to racial and religious prejudice. It is the continual cry of that journal that Sir Wilfrid has conspired against French-Canadian civil and religious liberties in order to retain his hold on the English-speaking provinces. In Monday's issue, Mr. Armand Lavergne, Mr. Bourassa's lieutenant, savagely denounces the Premier for his speech at the Eucharistic Congress, in which he extolled Canada as "a country of all the liberties." This quotation will find no place in the Orange Sentinel:

"Where exists that liberty of which the Prime Minister speaks? Surely not in Manitoba. Is it then in Alberta, in Saskatchewan? It is there, where the Catholic schools are abolished, prayer forbidden to the children, the crucifix prohibited? A country of all the liberties forsooth, when his own Government has abolished the French language in two provinces, and refuses to re-establish it in Manitoba? A country of all the liberties when we are persecuted in Ontario, in New Brunswick, and in Nova Scotia? When a whole race suffers in a country, is it for a son of that race, a chief of that country, to officially affirm that peace reigns in all the land?"

Mr. Lavergne winds up by comparing Sir Wilfrid to the Russian General Sebastiano, who cried "Order reigns at Warsaw!" after he had sacked the city and filled the streets with dead. Such is the mischief which Sir Wilfrid and the Liberal party have to fight in the province of Quebec. That they have fought it successfully must be accounted to the credit of the French-Canadian people.

PORTUGAL IN A FERMENT.

Events in Portugal may be shaping toward a revolution. In the recent election the Liberal Government failed to secure a majority over the "conservative-Clerical" bloc, it finds itself dependent upon Republican support. This is the explanation of the Government's anti-clerical policy, one feature of which is the expulsion of the Jesuits. The Republicans are not only anti-clerical, but anti-dynastic; they openly advocate the immediate overthrow of the monarchy. The youthful King Manuel is therefore in a critical position. His personal sympathies are with the Conservatives and Clericals, but he has assented to the attack on the religious orders because he would endanger the throne by opposing the Government. His father and elder brother were assassinated by revolutionists, and his own life hangs by a thread.

THE NEEDS OF THE COUNTRY.

Lord Clinton, who is rated among the wealthiest of the English nobility, is at present in this country, having travelled as far west as the new mining town of Stewart, B. C. His object is to investigate for himself the opportunities for investment. He has studied the country, and his conclusion is that Canada needs men more than money. He is much interested in colonization schemes, of which many are planned in England, and means to take a hand in the movement himself. Naturally, he says, the class of men that we will get through these colonization schemes will be high. They will be placed on the land by men who are looking for returns from their investments, and who will see to it that only the men from whom returns are reasonably assured are sent out. He is inclined to think Canadians are getting over-particular as to the class of men who come from the old country. "This is still a very young land, and there is room for all," he says. He is of the opinion that the second generation in Canada will be such that we will be much the gainers in allowing the greatest freedom in immigration from the mother land at the present time.

A SQUIRREL PUZZLE.

A correspondent reminds us of a puzzle which the late Professor James once used as a peg on which to hang one of his most learned discourses. It may be stated as follows: A squirrel is supposed to be clinging to one side of a tree-trunk, while over against the opposite side of the tree is a man trying to get a glimpse of the squirrel by moving rapidly round the tree. No matter how fast he goes, however, the squirrel moves as fast away from him, and always keeps the tree between itself and the man. The problem is: Does the man go round the squirrel or not? He goes round the tree, and the squirrel is on the tree; but does he go round the squirrel?

SERIOUSLY MISTAKEN.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] Many a woman thinks she is having her own way when her husband remains silent and permits her to keep right on talking.

USELESS.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] It is useless to overcome a fault if you are going to spend the rest of your time boasting about it.

IS THE LIMIT REACHED?

[Saratoga Herald.] It makes a man smile to read that women's hats are going to be bigger this winter. He knows it is impossible.

TAKING HIM DOWN.

[Washington Herald.] "The way to run this country," said the egotist, "is to put thoroughly wise, alert and honest men in control of all affairs."

NO SERVING TWO MASTERS.

[Ottawa Citizen.] We may, if we choose, make commercialism dominant, and count success in terms of dollars and cents. Or we may make character supreme and count success in terms of right and high purpose. It is not possible for us to adopt both aims, or even to make any kind of compromise between the two, whereby we may please ourselves to both. We cannot serve two masters.

EXPENSE INSISTED UPON.

[Washington Star.] "You might have a few gold fish in the conservatory," said the decorative expert.

SCRIPTURAL.

[Puck.] "What do you mean by 'being candid, pa?'"

AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

[Ottawa Free Press.] This is the twentieth anniversary of the passage of the McKinley tariff, which though apparently a vital law to Canada was in reality a blessing in disguise.

ANYTHING.

[London Opinion.] Client—I don't mind what wages I pay so long as she's capable.

MUST BE PERFORMANCE.

[Toronto Star.] American authorities tried to stop the "Go to Canada" movement by an advertising campaign. It failed because they said things about the Canadian West which they could not back up. The wise merchant knows that his goods must be supplemented by performance.

DOG-FLESH SUPPERS.

[London Daily News.] The report of the Minor of the Federation deputation (Messrs. R. Smillie and A. Onions) to Germany contains details regarding the practice of eating horse, dog and cat flesh by German workmen. It states that they found numerous instances of the practice, which on inquiry were ascertained to be due not to any personal preference, but to sheer necessity.

THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21, 1910.

FOUNDED IN 1853.
NOON AND EVENING DAILY.
WESTERN ADVERTISER WEEKLY.
THE LONDON ADVERTISER CO.,
Limited, Publishers.
121-122 Dundas Street, London, Ont.

PHONE NUMBERS:
Business Department ..... 107
Editorial Rooms ..... 124 and 125
Job Printing Department ..... 112

TO SUBSCRIBERS:
Readers of The Advertiser are requested to favor the management by reporting any irregularities in delivery.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Daily, Delivered by Carrier in City: 35.00
One Year ..... 35.00
Daily, Delivered by Carrier Outside City: 40.00
One Year ..... 40.00
One Month ..... 3.50
Daily, by Mail, Outside City: 32.00
One Year ..... 32.00

The Advertiser is on sale regularly at the following news stands, where subscriptions may be left:
Buffalo, N. Y.—J. Seldenberg, Elliott Square News Stand.
Chicago, Ill.—Chicago Newspaper Agency, 110 Madison street.
Louisville, Ky.—Kentucky International News Company.
Toronto—Toronto News Stand, Ross House News Stand.
[Entered at the London (Canada) post-office as matter of the second class.]

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21.

MISCHIEF MAKERS IN QUEBEC.

Opponents of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in this province, who have been disposed to look with a favoring eye upon Mr. Bourassa, should read his journal, Le Devoir. If they are good Canadians they will not relish Le Devoir's attacks upon the Premier, based, as they invariably are, upon appeals to racial and religious prejudice. It is the continual cry of that journal that Sir Wilfrid has conspired against French-Canadian civil and religious liberties in order to retain his hold on the English-speaking provinces. In Monday's issue, Mr. Armand Lavergne, Mr. Bourassa's lieutenant, savagely denounces the Premier for his speech at the Eucharistic Congress, in which he extolled Canada as "a country of all the liberties." This quotation will find no place in the Orange Sentinel:

"Where exists that liberty of which the Prime Minister speaks? Surely not in Manitoba. Is it then in Alberta, in Saskatchewan? It is there, where the Catholic schools are abolished, prayer forbidden to the children, the crucifix prohibited? A country of all the liberties forsooth, when his own Government has abolished the French language in two provinces, and refuses to re-establish it in Manitoba? A country of all the liberties when we are persecuted in Ontario, in New Brunswick, and in Nova Scotia? When a whole race suffers in a country, is it for a son of that race, a chief of that country, to officially affirm that peace reigns in all the land?"

Mr. Lavergne winds up by comparing Sir Wilfrid to the Russian General Sebastiano, who cried "Order reigns at Warsaw!" after he had sacked the city and filled the streets with dead. Such is the mischief which Sir Wilfrid and the Liberal party have to fight in the province of Quebec. That they have fought it successfully must be accounted to the credit of the French-Canadian people.

PORTUGAL IN A FERMENT.

Events in Portugal may be shaping toward a revolution. In the recent election the Liberal Government failed to secure a majority over the "conservative-Clerical" bloc, it finds itself dependent upon Republican support. This is the explanation of the Government's anti-clerical policy, one feature of which is the expulsion of the Jesuits. The Republicans are not only anti-clerical, but anti-dynastic; they openly advocate the immediate overthrow of the monarchy. The youthful King Manuel is therefore in a critical position. His personal sympathies are with the Conservatives and Clericals, but he has assented to the attack on the religious orders because he would endanger the throne by opposing the Government. His father and elder brother were assassinated by revolutionists, and his own life hangs by a thread.

THE NEEDS OF THE COUNTRY.

Lord Clinton, who is rated among the wealthiest of the English nobility, is at present in this country, having travelled as far west as the new mining town of Stewart, B. C. His object is to investigate for himself the opportunities for investment. He has studied the country, and his conclusion is that Canada needs men more than money. He is much interested in colonization schemes, of which many are planned in England, and means to take a hand in the movement himself. Naturally, he says, the class of men that we will get through these colonization schemes will be high. They will be placed on the land by men who are looking for returns from their investments, and who will see to it that only the men from whom returns are reasonably assured are sent out. He is inclined to think Canadians are getting over-particular as to the class of men who come from the old country. "This is still a very young land, and there is room for all," he says. He is of the opinion that the second generation in Canada will be such that we will be much the gainers in allowing the greatest freedom in immigration from the mother land at the present time.

A SQUIRREL PUZZLE.

A correspondent reminds us of a puzzle which the late Professor James once used as a peg on which to hang one of his most learned discourses. It may be stated as follows: A squirrel is supposed to be clinging to one side of a tree-trunk, while over against the opposite side of the tree is a man trying to get a glimpse of the squirrel by moving rapidly round the tree. No matter how fast he goes, however, the squirrel moves as fast away from him, and always keeps the tree between itself and the man. The problem is: Does the man go round the squirrel or not? He goes round the tree, and the squirrel is on the tree; but does he go round the squirrel?

SERIOUSLY MISTAKEN.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] Many a woman thinks she is having her own way when her husband remains silent and permits her to keep right on talking.

USELESS.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] It is useless to overcome a fault if you are going to spend the rest of your time boasting about it.

IS THE LIMIT REACHED?

[Saratoga Herald.] It makes a man smile to read that women's hats are going to be bigger this winter. He knows it is impossible.

TAKING HIM DOWN.

[Washington Herald.] "The way to run this country," said the egotist, "is to put thoroughly wise, alert and honest men in control of all affairs."

NO SERVING TWO MASTERS.

[Ottawa Citizen.] We may, if we choose, make commercialism dominant, and count success in terms of dollars and cents. Or we may make character supreme and count success in terms of right and high purpose. It is not possible for us to adopt both aims, or even to make any kind of compromise between the two, whereby we may please ourselves to both. We cannot serve two masters.

EXPENSE INSISTED UPON.

[Washington Star.] "You might have a few gold fish in the conservatory," said the decorative expert.

SCRIPTURAL.

[Puck.] "What do you mean by 'being candid, pa?'"

AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

[Ottawa Free Press.] This is the twentieth anniversary of the passage of the McKinley tariff, which though apparently a vital law to Canada was in reality a blessing in disguise.

ANYTHING.

[London Opinion.] Client—I don't mind what wages I pay so long as she's capable.

MUST BE PERFORMANCE.

[Toronto Star.] American authorities tried to stop the "Go to Canada" movement by an advertising campaign. It failed because they said things about the Canadian West which they could not back up. The wise merchant knows that his goods must be supplemented by performance.

DOG-FLESH SUPPERS.

[London Daily News.] The report of the Minor of the Federation deputation (Messrs. R. Smillie and A. Onions) to Germany contains details regarding the practice of eating horse, dog and cat flesh by German workmen. It states that they found numerous instances of the practice, which on inquiry were ascertained to be due not to any personal preference, but to sheer necessity.

THE ADVERTISER, LONDON, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21, 1910.

FOUNDED IN 1853.
NOON AND EVENING DAILY.
WESTERN ADVERTISER WEEKLY.
THE LONDON ADVERTISER CO.,
Limited, Publishers.
121-122 Dundas Street, London, Ont.

PHONE NUMBERS:
Business Department ..... 107
Editorial Rooms ..... 124 and 125
Job Printing Department ..... 112

TO SUBSCRIBERS:
Readers of The Advertiser are requested to favor the management by reporting any irregularities in delivery.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
Daily, Delivered by Carrier in City: 35.00
One Year ..... 35.00
Daily, Delivered by Carrier Outside City: 40.00
One Year ..... 40.00
One Month ..... 3.50
Daily, by Mail, Outside City: 32.00
One Year ..... 32.00

The Advertiser is on sale regularly at the following news stands, where subscriptions may be left:
Buffalo, N. Y.—J. Seldenberg, Elliott Square News Stand.
Chicago, Ill.—Chicago Newspaper Agency, 110 Madison street.
Louisville, Ky.—Kentucky International News Company.
Toronto—Toronto News Stand, Ross House News Stand.
[Entered at the London (Canada) post-office as matter of the second class.]

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 21.

MISCHIEF MAKERS IN QUEBEC.

Opponents of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in this province, who have been disposed to look with a favoring eye upon Mr. Bourassa, should read his journal, Le Devoir. If they are good Canadians they will not relish Le Devoir's attacks upon the Premier, based, as they invariably are, upon appeals to racial and religious prejudice. It is the continual cry of that journal that Sir Wilfrid has conspired against French-Canadian civil and religious liberties in order to retain his hold on the English-speaking provinces. In Monday's issue, Mr. Armand Lavergne, Mr. Bourassa's lieutenant, savagely denounces the Premier for his speech at the Eucharistic Congress, in which he extolled Canada as "a country of all the liberties." This quotation will find no place in the Orange Sentinel:

"Where exists that liberty of which the Prime Minister speaks? Surely not in Manitoba. Is it then in Alberta, in Saskatchewan? It is there, where the Catholic schools are abolished, prayer forbidden to the children, the crucifix prohibited? A country of all the liberties forsooth, when his own Government has abolished the French language in two provinces, and refuses to re-establish it in Manitoba? A country of all the liberties when we are persecuted in Ontario, in New Brunswick, and in Nova Scotia? When a whole race suffers in a country, is it for a son of that race, a chief of that country, to officially affirm that peace reigns in all the land?"

Mr. Lavergne winds up by comparing Sir Wilfrid to the Russian General Sebastiano, who cried "Order reigns at Warsaw!" after he had sacked the city and filled the streets with dead. Such is the mischief which Sir Wilfrid and the Liberal party have to fight in the province of Quebec. That they have fought it successfully must be accounted to the credit of the French-Canadian people.

PORTUGAL IN A FERMENT.

Events in Portugal may be shaping toward a revolution. In the recent election the Liberal Government failed to secure a majority over the "conservative-Clerical" bloc, it finds itself dependent upon Republican support. This is the explanation of the Government's anti-clerical policy, one feature of which is the expulsion of the Jesuits. The Republicans are not only anti-clerical, but anti-dynastic; they openly advocate the immediate overthrow of the monarchy. The youthful King Manuel is therefore in a critical position. His personal sympathies are with the Conservatives and Clericals, but he has assented to the attack on the religious orders because he would endanger the throne by opposing the Government. His father and elder brother were assassinated by revolutionists, and his own life hangs by a thread.

THE NEEDS OF THE COUNTRY.

Lord Clinton, who is rated among the wealthiest of the English nobility, is at present in this country, having travelled as far west as the new mining town of Stewart, B. C. His object is to investigate for himself the opportunities for investment. He has studied the country, and his conclusion is that Canada needs men more than money. He is much interested in colonization schemes, of which many are planned in England, and means to take a hand in the movement himself. Naturally, he says, the class of men that we will get through these colonization schemes will be high. They will be placed on the land by men who are looking for returns from their investments, and who will see to it that only the men from whom returns are reasonably assured are sent out. He is inclined to think Canadians are getting over-particular as to the class of men who come from the old country. "This is still a very young land, and there is room for all," he says. He is of the opinion that the second generation in Canada will be such that we will be much the gainers in allowing the greatest freedom in immigration from the mother land at the present time.

A SQUIRREL PUZZLE.

A correspondent reminds us of a puzzle which the late Professor James once used as a peg on which to hang one of his most learned discourses. It may be stated as follows: A squirrel is supposed to be clinging to one side of a tree-trunk, while over against the opposite side of the tree is a man trying to get a glimpse of the squirrel by moving rapidly round the tree. No matter how fast he goes, however, the squirrel moves as fast away from him, and always keeps the tree between itself and the man. The problem is: Does the man go round the squirrel or not? He goes round the tree, and the squirrel is on the tree; but does he go round the squirrel?

SERIOUSLY MISTAKEN.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] Many a woman thinks she is having her own way when her husband remains silent and permits her to keep right on talking.

USELESS.

[Chicago Record-Herald.] It is useless to overcome a fault if you are going to spend the rest of your time boasting about it.

IS THE LIMIT REACHED?

[Saratoga Herald.] It makes a man smile to read that women's hats are going to be bigger this winter. He knows it is impossible.

TAKING HIM DOWN.

[Washington Herald.] "The way to run this country," said the egotist, "is to put thoroughly wise, alert and honest men in control of all affairs."

NO SERVING TWO MASTERS.

[Ottawa Citizen.] We may, if we choose, make commercialism dominant, and count success in terms of dollars and cents. Or we may make character supreme and count success in terms of right and high purpose. It is not possible for us to adopt both aims, or even to make any kind of compromise between the two, whereby we may please ourselves to both. We cannot serve two masters.

EXPENSE INSISTED UPON.

[Washington Star.] "You might have a few gold fish in the conservatory," said the decorative expert.

SCRIPTURAL.

[Puck.] "What do you mean by 'being candid, pa?'"

AFTER TWENTY YEARS.

[Ottawa Free Press.] This is the twentieth anniversary of the passage of the McKinley tariff, which though apparently a vital law to Canada was in reality a blessing in disguise.

ANYTHING.

[London Opinion.] Client—I don't mind what wages I pay so long as she's capable.