JUDGE KELLY FOR LOCAL SESSIONS

11, 1911,

His Lordship May Come to London Court Monday Next.

THREE CASES SET DOWN

That of John M. Parsons vs. the City of London is Recorded for Trial Shortly.

It is possible that Mr. Justice Hugh who was appointed to the high Kelly, who was appointed to the high court bench a few days ago as successor to the late Mr. Justice Mc-Mahon, will officiate for the first time in this city at the opening of the mon-jury sessions on Monday next.

The schedule published some mouths ago provided certain courts to be taken by the new appointment, and it is thought that Judge Kelly will preside here, if he has been sworn in by that time, However, if this is not done Mr. Justice Middleton will be substituted.

not done Mr. Justice Middleton will be substituted.

A Lecal Battle.

As yet only three cases have been officially set down in the office of Mr. R. K. Cowan, the most important of which is the action of Mr. John M. Parsons against the City of London and the Royal Bank, in connection with the sale of the city hall.

Little or no evidence will be taken but a legal battle will be waged. The bank is the co-defendant with the city in the Parsons' suit to secure a permanent injunction restraining the city from entering into any arrangement that would result either in the closing of the city hall arcade or the cut at would result either in the closg of the city hall arcade or the cutgg off that portion of the market the rear of the hall.

To Keep the Bargain.
The bank seeks to have the bargain, which it was to obtain the hall tother with the land at the rear for e sum of $100,000, carried out, while e city will endeavor to carry out is share of the deal, on the ground at the bank's offer is good and suflent, and that the people have alady voted on the matter.

Mr. Hugh McPherson, of West Lonion, has received a letter from his laughter, Miss Ethel, who is a mis-daughter, Miss Ethel, who is a missionary at Chengtu, China, in the midst of the civil war now in progress in that country. She reports that they are perfectly safe, although they will be compelled to remain, within the compound for some time yet, The letter is as follows:

"Chengtu, Sept. 23, 1911.

"Since Sept. 7 we have been entirely cut off from the outside world, and I am sure it has been a very anxious time for you all at home. I have written long letters about the trouble while I will forward by the first mail. This is going out tonight by a messenger, whom Dr.Kilborn is sending to Chungking, and as there is a likelihood of all messages being taken from him and destroyed, I am sending only a brief note to assure you of our safety. The robbers and bandits who roam about the country at this time seize all messengers, and strip them of everything, even their clothing, so I do not wish to take chances with long letters.

Piles of Garbage Still Rotting for treets, Qwing to Walkout of City's Teamsters.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Nov. 13.—If the garbage gatherers' strike is not broken today the health department will step in to save New York from the evil effects of some 40,000 carticads of refuse that has accumulated since the men who drive the street cleaning department's wagons quit work because they objected to night work. Fear of the strikers and their friends has kept professional strikebreakers from accepting the high wages the city offers for substitutes, and dread of the teamsters' union has prevented contractors from bidding to perform the work usually done by the city department.

Rotting Garbage.

Actually the health department incomplete to day when its men took out several hundred barrels of disinfectant to sprinkle on the piles of rotting garbage in the poorer and more thickly populated districts. If the health authorities assume full charge of the situation the strike leaders say that they will permit their teamsters to serve as garbage collectors, provided they do not have to work at night.

The cold wave came to the city's assistance this morning. The freezing temperature which prevailed early in the day was as good a disinfectinant as the city physicians could desire. The high winds, however, scattered the rubbish and practically undid all the good that came from the cold.

Under Fire Patrel.

the day was as good a disinfectmant as the city physicians could desire. The high winds, however, scattered the rubbish and practically undid all the good that came from the cold.

Under Fire Patrel.

For the second time in its history the city was under fire patrol today. In every district a fireman with a length of hose and a hydrant wrench paced the sidewalks watching for fires in the mounds of refuse. The department had had considerable trouble already from these blazes, most of which are started by children.

The police believe that the severe clubbings administered to some of the big mobs that gathered yesterday have taught the strike sympathizers a lesson. Although yesterday's riots were the most extensive the police have had to cope with since the strike began, there were no fatalities and few hospital cases, and the number of arrests has been remarkably small. In most cases the police waded into the most swinging their clubs and hitting a head wherever they saw one. Fully 2,000 persons took part in the hattle precipitated in the "San Juan Hill" district by a woman who threw a brick from a tenement house roof and cut open the head of Chief Inspector
