MARKET HOUSE RENTALS

Ald. Ashplant Will Take the Matter Up on Wednesday Evening.

At the next meeting of No. 3 committee on Wednesday evening, Ald. Ashplant, acting chairman, will bring up the question of the rental for the market house. A deputation from the butchers occupying stalls will be present, to protest against the recent increase. They claim that $200 a year for the stalls is too much, and that they simply cannot pay that price.
Ald. Ashplant is of the opinion that the rental is excessive, and will suggest that the butchers be taxed $150 a year, not $200, as the council decided some time ago. He will suggest improving the building by painting it, "I think the rent is too high," said

Aid, Ashplant, "We do not want to drive the men out of business. If they pay $150 a year, the city is getting a good rental for the building. We should make certain improvements,

Of course, there will be opposition. The schedule has passed the council and it will be a very difficult matter scale of rents.

ROYALTY D. IVES THROUGH BATTERSEA

London, May 27 .- King George and Queen Mary pleased the non-aristocratic bank holiday people by an unannounced drive this afternoon in Buttersea Park, which was crowded with the poor of South London. Their majesties were quickly recognized, and as the report spread that the King and Queen the park, their drive became an informal, triumphant progress between cheering crowds.

The children were particularly delighted at the sight of royalty, and the latter seemed to realize the admiration of the little ones, as they ordered he driver o go very slow. It is a very rare affair for the King and Queen to drive in any park of London except the fashionable Hyde Park.

Winnipeg, Man., May 27. - At the grain exchange and among businessmen generally much interest was dis-played today in the extent of the fine warm rain which swept over the West last night and this morning. Reports from the railways show that the three prairie provinces were drenched. From Winnipeg to Edmonton the rain was heavy, and it extended south along the border, covering the territory to the mountains. With growing grain well up, the downpour could not have come at a better time. "Worth millions to the country," was the way the situation was described in business circles.
