SELLING PRESSURE

Stocks Go Upward On Good Buying and Favorable News.

Associated Press Despatch Associated Press Despatch.

New York, March 26.—Selling pressure was lifted from today's stock market, and prices made substantial recovery from recent low levels. Net gains in the standard rail and industrial issues ran from 1 to 4 points, with even larger advances in some of the high-priced specialties. Business, however, was in considerably reduced volume, total sales fulling well below one and one-half million shares.

Bullish sentiment was created by the favorable federal reserve bank statement, the reassurance of Secretaries Mellon and Hoover that business condiditions were sound, the continuance of the continuance of the statement of the statement of the statement was and record freight that the statement was a propay rates and record freight.

United States Cast Iron Pipe closed nearly 9 points higher at 194%. Nash soared over 10 points to 295½, and then cancelled about half its gain.

Call money renewed at 3½ per cent, and then dropped to 3, where it closed. Time money and commercial paper rates held steady in quiet trading.

Foreign exchange rates fluctuated within narrow and irregular limits. Demand sterling was practically unchanged around $4.77%, and French francs ruled slightly higher around 5.18½c. Norwegian kroner advanced 7 points to 15.47c, a new high record for the year.

Gains in St. Paul Issues Follow Drastic Declines of Week.

Associated Press Despatch. New York, March 20.—The bond mar-et today shook off recent reactionary ket today shook off recent reactionary tendencies, and prices turned upward under the influence of easier money rates, and a rally in St. Paul railroad obligations. Advances ranging from one to four points were registered by an assortment of the representative rail and industrial issues. Recovery of the St. Paul obligations extended from fractional gains to a jump of 2% points in St. Paul obligations extended from fac-tional gains to a jump of 2% points in the convertible 4½ s and was prompted to some extent by the belief that many of these issues had been overheld on the drastic reaction which accompanied the receivership.

the drastic reaction which accompanies the drastic reaction which accompanies the receivership.

The ability of the St. Paul bonds to overcome recent selling pressure encouraged a resumption of buying operations in other parts of the rail list. Reports of progress made in the impending segregation of Pan-American Petroleum properties with indications that the new companies would expand in both the California and Mexican fields, led to heavy buying of the six per cent bonds which carried them up the period of the second of the se fields, led to heavy buying of the six per cent bonds which carried them up four points. Skelly, Sinclair and other oil liens joined in the advance, disregarding unfavorable trade developments. Copper and sugar company bonds also rallied.

A $16,000,000 fifteen-year seven per cent bond issue sold by the Vacuum Oil Company in 1921 may be called for redemption next year, the company indicated today in its annual report.

Skating Club Carnival Is Medley of Laughter PRICES FIRMER and Beautiful Skating

Colorful Costumes, Clever Comedy Stunts, Brilliant Skating Exhibitions and Splendid Events by Children Make London Skating Club's Big Night a Wonderful Success.

Beautiful costumes and a brilliant featured by discovery of a hidden program of skating marked the carbon formula last sight which brought to a nival last night which brought to a ed nearly 2,000 spectators, every one of whom voted it the most colorful and interesting affair of its kind ever

A glittering pageant of fairies and elves, dexterous skaters garbed in bizarre attire, waltzing and figureskating exhibitions and individual performances by Prof. K. R. Mallen, professional instructor, were outstanding features of the carnival, Spectacular exhibitions of skating by Miss Doris Belton with K. R.

Mallen, Mrs. Charles Ivey with J. G. Boucher, Miss K. White with Lieut .-Col. F. B. Ware, and remarkably finished performances by little Catherine Dickinson and Master Ian Coles were probably the most thrilling events of the night, and drew gasps and ap-plause. Little Catherine Dickinson earned general admiration by her nerve and skill, and with seven-yearold Theresa Purdom, a diminutive fairy, who skated untiringly throughout the program, completely won the hearts of the audience.

Deserve Special Credit. The lady members of the club wh ook part in these exhibitions and in the waltzing events, deserve special credit for hard work and courage, because almost all of them have had only a few weeks' training in figure skating. The club has reason to be proud of its members and its carnival. The program last night dragged somewhat at times by unfortunate delays, evidently through lack of a stage manager, but the crowd did not mind, and it was a minor defect which was more than wiped out by the quality of the performances. Next year it will probably be eliminated.

The carnival opened with a well executed grand march, in which all the skaters, dressed in all manner of gorgeous and colorful costumes, took part. There were pierrots and pierrettes, belles and beaux, toreadors,

Hunt, gave continuous humor without being monotonous. The bull fight, in which a ferocious bull, impersonated by two skaters, was finally subdued by to reador and picadors,
