Previous to this, an arrangement had been arrived at to give the com-pany $4,000 per mile in lieu of the land grant, by an order-in-council of June 16, 1898, but it was not signed by the lieutenant governor. This order-inlieutenant governor. This order-in-council was rescinded on 22nd May, 1899, and the company as informed. (Page 750 of report.) This placed the entitled to the land.

But the proposal for a cash sub-sidy came up again. On 9th Decem-ber 1899, the minister of finance wrote Sir T. G. Shaugnessy saying, "I have considered the matter of substituting a cash subsidy for the land grant. In

Nothing came of this and consider-

Nothing came of this and considerable correspondence was engaged in regarding the method of selecting the lands. (Pages 758 to 761 of the report.)

And now comes the most interesting part of the transaction, the actual granting of the lands. It was provided by the original subsidy act that the land grant should be given in blocks "upon a plan of the located line of railway," or a section or sections thereof, wherever practicable, the boundary lines of alternate blocks of land pointing upon each side of the line of the said railway and having a frontage of six miles on the said railway and having a frontage of six miles on the said railway and having a frontage of six miles on the said railway and having shall be opposite to a similar block not selected by the company on the other side of the railway." Nothing was said as to how any deficiency was, to be made up.

On September 4, 1901, the day after fron. Richard McBride left the Dunsmuir cabinet an order-in-council was passed granting the lands due for sections 1 and 3 to the company. It stated in so many words that the Columbia and Western railway was entitled to, "earned" was the word used, 543.-312 acres of land for section 1, and 1,060,000 acres for section 3.

The lands lying along the railway as defined by the act were not enough to cover the subsidy; there was, who added together, a deficiency of 808,-872 acres.

It should be particularly noted that crown grants were immediately is such cases, and in most instances effects a folial for the lands along the line of railway. They covered land all along the line. No objection has been made to these, absolutely proving that even in the opinion of the Liberais the company were really entitled to the grant. At once after this order-in-count efficiency and curing catarihal affections in all along the line. No objection has been made to these, absolutely proving that even in the opinion of the Liberais the company were really entitled to the grant.

in the opinion of the Liberals the company were really entitled to the grant. At once after this order-in-council was passed it got crown grants to 794,440 acres of land and neither W.

C. Wells nor any Liberal has objected to them.

How was the deficiency made up?

W. C. Wells proposed to give to the following and the second and sealed, the company paying the fees, and then some funny things took place.

W. C. Wells went to Montreal with the crown grants for lots 4593 and 4594 in his pocket. W. J. Taylor, K. C. of this city had a conversation with him there and this is what Mr. Taylor sears. (Page 159 of report.)

"He then told me that he had the grants there of the C. P. R. subsidy lands in Kootenay, and that the company ought to do something for him, that he was in a very peculiar position; he said that five or six hundred thousend acres of these and severe of the crown by a deed from the south-eastern only the seal and the man that the company ought to do something for him, that he was in a very peculiar position; he said that five or six hundred thousend acres of these lands were

It was also provided that the land proposed to be taken for the subsidy should be located within two years after the passage of the act. This was done before June 3, 1896 and this plotting accepted by Orders in Council Nos. 178 and 224 (vide page 730 of report.)

Shaughnessy: That gentleman swore. (Page 584 of report.)

On the 20th of November, 1901, the honorable, the chief commissioner of lands and works, Mr. Wells, called at my office in Montreal, at about half-past five in the afternoon, I should say, and told me that he had come down for the purpose of making delivery of the grants relating to these Nos. 178 and 224 (vide page 730 of report)

Another provision was that the lands should be surveyed within seven conversation on a number of subjects, but nother provision was that the lands should be surveyed within seven on a number of subjects, and told me that he had come that he had come deficiency blocks—cancelled in darch, 1902, and, as late as November 27, 1902, Mr. Wells wished to report the question. There was no time many of those in the hall had been the number of subjects, and told me that he had come trains were actually signed covering the deficiency blocks—cancelled in darch, 1902, and, as late as November 27, 1902, Mr. Wells wished to report the question. There was no time many of those in the hall had been the province of the lands to be surveyed the deficiency blocks—cancelled in the deficie lands should be surveyed within seven conversation on a number of subjects, vears from the passage of the act, or but nothing of any importance, cerbefore 17th April, 1903. The only claim made by the Opposition is that the surveys were not completed within the quested permission from me to retain conding to eminent legal opinion, including that of the present chief inscribed to the conding to eminent legal opinion, including that of the present chief inscribed to the conding to eminent legal opinion, including that of the present chief inscribed to the conding to eminent legal opinion, including that of the present chief inscribed to the conding to eminent legal opinion, including that of the present chief inscribed to the conding to the conding time limit. As will be now shown, the company endeavored to comply with this requirement and were actually granted lands that remained in its name until 21st April, 1903, when by an act of the legislature, part of the grant was rescinded.

This was, it will be seen, after the seven years limit had expired, and the blame for the delay, if any, rests upon the legislature.

Sections 1, 3 and 4 of the road were built, and by the terms of the act, the company became entitled to its land grant for sections 1 and 3. This was in 1898, and the company at once company could not have once the deficiency blocks should be located. This was the reason for the cabinet that once company could not have once the deficiency blocks should be located to the cabinet that once company could not have once the company could not have once the company once the company could not have once the comp
