> MELBOURNE, Dec. 7.-There, were wild scenes of disorder and excitement enacted on the floor of the state parliament of New South Wales at Sydney today, due to the drastic methods employed by Speaker Willis towards a number of Liberal members.

Speaker Willis, who was elected to the legislature as a Liberal, attained the speakership by deserting his own party and crossing the floor of the louse to the Labor side, that party being in power. Today by his orders four Liberal members were forcibly removed from the chamber by the police. The trouble started when Mr. Wood, an ex-minister, wished to make an explanation. He was ordered to desist, but persisted until four constables twisted his hands behind his back and rushed him out amid scenes of great Following this, the member for Namoi called the member for Waverley a "snob," with a strong prefix attached to it. The latter protested. "Remove him." cried the speaker, and straightaway the order was carried out. On the ground of interrupting business he had the member for Paramatta removed, because he asked the speaker to reprove the member for Namoi for using unparliamentary language. For the same reason he ousted the member for Middle Harbor. This ended the excitement, as no other Liberal member appeared willing to be offered up as a sacrifice and the scene ended by the member for Namoi apologizing to the offended member. Death of Sir George H. Lewis LONDON, Dec. 7 .- Sir George Henry

Criticises Complacent View Which Canadians Take of the Recent Italian Atrocities—Europe Aroused

"Distance modifies the effect of an incident just as time modifies the efcolor playing upon the background of the mind. Henry George thought that single tax would save the world from economic ruin but it won't if the world decides in favor of economic ruin; and the Hague tribunalists thought, or they are presumed to have thought, that their deliberations would result in the abolition of war, yet we know that they haven't." Such was the peculiar summing up, from the supposed Canadian point of view, of the recent Italian atrocities, made by Mr. Pearson McDonald, an English journalist, who spent yesterday afternoon and evening in the city of Victoria. Coming straight from the continent of Europe and from a circle imbued with the horror of the Italian descent upon the Arabs in the sudden seizure of Tripoli he is almost doubly horrorstricken at the calm complacency of the Canadian outlook upon the incident, and says he was only forced to the conclusion stated above after givsouth and next summer will be re- ing due consideration to the elements bia way ports and the steamer Venture, assigned to duty in Alaska waters. governing the situation. While conforgiving Canada for her apparent indifference to the fate of the Arabs, he would, if he had the time (which he has not, having left on the night boat for Vancouver) devote his attention to cultivating what he describes as a better attuned receptiveness in the minds of Victorians.

"Europe has been moved," he declared, with a full cognizance of the meaning of the phrase.

"London, and to a large extent London is representative of Great Britain, is being moved, and it is only a matter of time before some action will be

"Mr. Stead in London and throughout England is doing a great work. He has aroused the country to a sense of its responsibility. He has done it before and that is in favor of his success this time. Mr. Stead may not be the most intellectual agitator in England, but intellect and agitation are more often divorced than united. Other reformers who might have been expected to take the field are standing by with cynical epigramatic platitud upon the ways of nations and the chivalry of civilization. Bernard Shaw and others smile sardonically at the "system" while a race is being butchered, but Stead is in the field with a plea for humanity that will not be

"Perhaps it is better that Stead is on the job. He will make the nation to consciousness while Shaw would only be regarded humorously. It may be good and amusing sometimes to be pleasantly tickled by the humors of an intellectual giant but it is often better for the common herd of men to be soundly knocked into a sense of their responsibilities. And once the responsibility is realized the flood of indignaion that will be let loose will augur ill for the Italian aggression in Tripoli. I am waiting to see it, hoping and con-

AWA MARU FROM THE FAR EAS

Japanese Liner Landed Large Amount of Cargo at Outer Wharf for Transhipment to Eastern Canada

With a cargo of $,200 tons of general freight, of which over 1,800 tons was discharged here, the Japanese steamer Awa Maru, Capt. Irisawa, of outer wharf yesterday. The liner brought 11 saloon passengers, Mr. Arthur K. Vaughan, of Victoria, who returned from an extended trip lasting eight months through the Orient, Rev. R. W. Porteous and wife from Yuan-chou, Kiangsi, Miss M. E. Waters, a missionary from Chengtu, Szechuan, Rey. Fred Jansen, a missionary from Manila, Y. Takata, of the Japanese board of communications en route to London on postal business, and several Japanese merchants. There were 16 second class, including 3 Chinese and 13 Japanese, and 47 steerage, of whom 7 Japanese and 8 Chinese debarked here, and 28 Japanese, 3 Chinese and one Russians were booked to Seattle.

The Awa Maru encountered a heavy storm when three days out from Yokohama. A strong gale blew from the northeast for several days with heavy sea. The balance of the passage was moderate, and light fogs were encountared when nearing Vancouver island. The steamer brought news that the Sado Marie which had her steering gear damaged in a storm when one day out from Victoria, reached Yokohama one day late as a result. The Awa Maru was in communication by wireless with the Tamba Maru, which reported particulars of the damage done by a hurricane encountered when two days out homeward bound. Considerable damage was done to her upper works and several seamen were injured. Seas flooded the decks, and much of the cargo was damaged by water.

The cargo landed by the Awa Maru at the outer wharf is the largest brought for this port by any of the Japanese steamers, and considerable of it is for transhipment via the C. P. R. to eastern Canada. The largest shipment was of Japanese oranges, 24,490 cases. There was also a consignment of 7 casks o sealskins, valued at $20,000, the catch of a delayed Japanese sealing schooner en route to the London market.

Cargo Landed The cargo landed at the outer wharf, totalling 30,020 packages, was as follows: Oranges, 24,499 boxes: rice, 3,240 sacks; dates, 110 cases; beans, 235 sacks; sugar, 1,250 sacks; straw braid, 468 packages; matting, 110 packages; walnuts, 1,680 sacks; cottonseed oil, 90 casks; tea, 405 chests; peanuts, 540 sacks; soy; 622 casks; miso, 155 casks; bamboo, 77 packages; Chinese spirits, 285 casks; silk goods, 12 bales; seal skins, 7 casks; and general merchandise, 3,244 packages.

For Seattle and points beyond the cargo totalled 33,033 packages, including 900 bales of raw silk worth over $500, 000. The largest shipment was of tea, 9.359 cases. Other shipments were 4,000 bean cakes from Manchuria, 2,572 cases of dates, 2,574 boxes of oranges, 1,641 cases of walnuts, 1,381 rolls of matting, 1.773 mats of rice, 1,097 bags of beans, 1,857 bags of peanuts, 867 bundles of amboo poles, 512 cases of strawbraid, 490 cases of camphor, gunnies, line

Utterance of James B. McNamara Said to Have Angered McManigal and Led to Exposure of Plot

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7 .- "I've got. hundreds of thousands of dollars and the American Federation of Labor back of me. It only took $30,000 to clear Vincent Altman of Chicago, and if they could not convict him they can't convict me."

This boast, attributed today by De tective Malcolm McLaren to James B. McNamara as the latter was being taken on a train from Detroit to Chicago on the night of April 12 last, caused Ortie E. McManigal, then also under arrest. to become angered with McNamara for his indiscreet announcement, and was the first circumstance that led McManigal to break with his companion and eventually to confess his crimes.

McManigal's real confession had been saved for the McNamara trial. The McNamaras were not brought be fore the Federal Grand jury, and it may be that McManigal's story will be regarded as sufficient, the other two being sent to San Quentin without further interrogation here.

Details of what McManigal knows of the alleged conspiracy were given to the grand jury today. That his story implicated other men in the interna tional association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers became through various sources. McManigal alleges that persons other than John J. McNamara, the secretary treasurer, paid him for the twenty "jobs" of dynamiting since 1907.

The story of McManigal, however, who has not yet even been brought to trial, will be of great value to the government's investigators, and the state will not try him on the indictments against him until the federal authorities are through.

District Attorney Fredericks will recommend McManigal's discharge on account of signal service rendered. "McManigal never killed anybody; in fact he took good care never to endanger human life," remarked Assistant District Attorney Joseph Ford today. Malcolm McLaren, the Burns detecive who arrested J. J. McNamara and McManigal, and specially appointed prosecutor for the government concerning the federal conviction, sat outside the grand jury chamber today. While waiting McLaren gave to the Associated Press a complete version, new in many important detaials, of the events and circumstances which led up to the arrest of McManigal and McNamara in in Detroit, and how the thoughtlessness of J. B. McNamara on the journey from Detroit to Chicago gave the detectives ground for persuading McManigal to confess his crime. The statements of McNamara were made, ac-cording to McLaren, in the presence of Detective Sergeants Gny Riddings and William Reed of Chicago, Raymond Burns, a son of William J. Burns, and McLaren himself. Sugar Investigation WASHINGTON, Dec. 7 .- The ramifications of the investigation of the beet sugar trust by the house investigating committee today took in the war between the sugar beet growers of Colorado and the Great Western Sugar company. Witnesses for the former said that the farmers were not getting their share of the profits of the sugar indus try. James Bodkin of Meade, Colorado, hitterly denounced the sugar refinery company and its methods. He refused to retract statements he previously made that the cheapest kind of labor was transported from the slums of the country. E. W. Combs of Fort Morran, Colo., urged retention of the tariff.

Great Coal Handling Plant MONTREAL, Dec. 7 .- A despatch from the head of the great lakes state that the Canadian Pacific Railway is erecting a huge new coal handling plant at Fort William. No figures with regard to the size of the plant have been given out as yet, but it is stated that it will be a big one. In this connection, several large contracts for machinery have recently been let by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Postmaster Dismissed MACLEOD, Alta., Dec. 7 .- Postmaster A. F. Grady has been removed by the new Conservative government and J. B. McKay appointed to the position. The change goes into effect the first of the year. It is expected that Assistant Postmaster R. J. E. Gardiner and the whole office staff will leave. Mr. McKav is agent of the Dominion Express company here.

Infanta Eulalie

MADRID. Dec. 6.-Premier Canaleias has sent a reply to Infanta Eulalie, in which he says the cabinet has not adopted any resolution concerning her in connection with the book which was the cause of the dispute between her and her nephew, King Alfonso. The cabinet the premier adds, has limited its action to deploring the attitude she has taken toward the head of the royal family.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 7 .- The double umpire system for all games played in the coming season of the Pacific Coast League was adopted at the meeting held by the directors today. The decision was reached only after a lengthy discussion, but received a unanimous assent when it came to a vote. Juggling of the balls put in play during a game was done away with by a new rule promulgated that only the umpires should toss out the spheres after. It was decided build a submerged box holding 12 balls, near the umpire's position on each diamond. Charges that home teams were putting visiting teams under a handicap by tossing out soft balls when the visitors were at bat and using new balls in their own innings, were responsible for the order.
