BELIGIOUS TEACHING IN SCHOOLS. We continue our review of the arguaents made use of by the members of the elerical deputation by noticing the remarks been no friction. The question of religious of the Rev. Provost Body of Trinity colige. As he is a recent arrival from England it was only natural that he should make use of arguments based on what is ccurring there, or rather on the view he stretched on a procrustean bed of their fash- ties. gets of events through a highly-colored ioning and stretched here or truncated erical medium. One can hardly wonder there until it is made to fit it. Make biblet a man, who is evidently of a very gentle reading and study compulsory, and a school to say timid disposition, feeling afraid which omits it is liable to forfeit its share of of the war that might be waged against the the legislative grant for non compliance with ocial order in Canada by clever young the regulations. Does he know anything about it accept what he is told, and who has been to take schools, and who has been to take schools as to the matter of fact, and as a matter of fact, and as a matter of fact, and as a matter of fact his statement is not true. There is much religious as well as moral teaching done in the schools, and we would all like to see more of it, but we want to see this distribution of it, but we want to see this distribution of it, but we want to see this distribution of it, but we want to see this distribution of it, but we want to see this distribution of its actually far ahead of her boasit of here are of the religions atter are interprise, and in preper care for the dist it accessful example will tell on the schools, and different way. But even if it is not it proves nothing. The bible is used in the schools of Toronto quite as exten-sively under our present law as it is in Birmingham. Why then change the law? Provost Body really wants to coerce other places into using it whether the people are willing or not. We are disposed to think he has a large contract on his hands. The Law of Newspapers. From the Boston Traveler.

It is an unwritten law, well understo n journalism that no editor is under the lightest obligation to give a reason for hi ceptance or non-acceptance of a manuacceptance or non-acceptance of a manu-ecript. He is not called upon to write a private critique on the article to the author of it. His acceptance or rejection is su absolute and unquestionable fact. Among amateur writers this does not appear to be understood. All sub-editors and reporters understand that its an unjustifiable imper-tinence to ask the managing editor his reason for publishing or not publishing any matter submitted to his judgment. Outside writ ers and aspiring amateurs rarely seem to comprehend this truth and their transgress-ions are largely from ignorance rather than intenti n. The nature of editorial work requires absolute power of decision in order to preserve the unities of the journal the editor conducts.

He has for years bored the public on the subject through the the usual quantity allowed to make a barrel mon and also that of the Evening Telegram, bored the public on the subject through the newspapers and even since the interview he has commenced trailing his clerical coat in the solution of the Mail which has already made this a party political question and is glad enough to use him as a catspaw. Mr. Ling assorted in his speech, and repeats the assertion in his letter, that he speaks for the was majority of parents in this province when he asks that the giving up of part of the school time to the reading and study-ing of the protestant bible shall be made compulsory by law in all schools. Here we distinctly join issue with him on the facts and defy him to prove his assertions true. If is too much to expect a law that has been working without alteration on this point for a quarter of a century, or more, to be seiously changed at the instance of a few men who assume, without furnishing a par-ticle of proof, that they are endorsed by a majority of the heatig.
