Beating the United States Government on a Coal Deal

A buyer was badly in need of coal and called on a jobber. The jobber told him the price was set very low by the government, that cars were scarce and that there was little if any coal to be had.

The buyer was desperate. He had to get coal or shut down his factory.

"Look here," said he, "do you know where there is ten thousands tons of coal at the present time?"

"Yes, I think perhaps I do know where the coal you want is." "Now then," said the buyer, "I will bet you ten thousand dollars (he drew a cheque for ten thousand) that your company cannot deliver ten thousand tons of coal to our company in sixty days, and I will let your stenographer hold the stakes." He placed the cheque in the hands of the coal man's stenographer and the deal is closed. The extra dollar a ton gets him the coal.

Watching for Spies

Three patrol boats for the protection of navigation on the Great Lakes have been established in that vast area. One is at Duluth, in the Duluth harbor; another is somewhere on the St. Clair river and the third in the Soo river. From these ports the protecting craft, variegated in form, seem veritably to wander forth. The public leaning on the docks see them go by and suspect nothing and yet, as like as not, that very boat before morning will frighten some dynamiter back from a lock, a dock or a freighter's side. The smallest of the 90 boats of this guarding fleet bear cannon, some boats nothing but a machine gun, but others carry the menacing three-inch rifles. Only rarely are weapons heavier than the automatics used, for the main work is to ward off and pursue. According to reports from Chicago over 600 German spies have been rounded up on the Great Lakes since war broke out, but with one or two exceptions no delays has been caused to commerce by their actions. There are places where a ship might sink in the rivers and completely tie up navigation, and protect these points is the work of this silent fleet of small vessels.

Prompt Payment!

From London Tit-Bits.

Two insurance agents—a Yankee and an Englishman—were bragging about their rival methods. The Britisher was holding forth on the system of prompt payment carried out by his people—no doubt, no fuss, no attempt to wiggle out of settlement.

"If the man died to-night," he continued, "his widow would receive her money by the first post tomorrow-morning."

"You don't say?" drawled the Yankee. "See here, now; you talk of prompt payment! Waal, our office is on the third floor of a building 49 stories high. One of our clients lived in that 49th story, and he fell out of the window. We handed him his check as he passed."

Warm Enough

Two ladies in the North of Scotland, no less remarkable for their humor than their genuine kindness, had made arrangement with the minister of the parish for supplying the urgent necessities of a very poor old woman in the village. The ladies had agreed to furnish a subsidy of coal, while the minister undertook to add blankets. The grateful recipient, a few days afterwards, met the worthy pastor, a bachelor, in the course of his morning rounds. "Eh, minister," said the poor old woman, "it's a grand thing for the 'likes o' me to bide in this parish, for I say the two guid laddies keep me warm in the day time, and the minister keeps me warm at night."

Official figures show that the sewers of American cities are long enough to girdle the earth.

Danish engineers have found a way to successfully drive Diesel engines with a gas made from peat.

English scientists are experimenting with the production of artificial rubber from coke oven gases.

Two Seattle men have patented a machine that slices an entire loaf of bread as a treadle is pressed.

Any attempt to turn the knob or insert a key rings a burglar alarm in a lock that a New York man has invented.

"WHO WILL WIN THIS BATTLE?"

Your kidneys are the filters of the body. If they become inactive and fail to eliminate the waste matter, they are apt to throw the whole mechanism of the body out of order, thus toxic poisons can accumulate in the system and be as deadly as snake venom.

Besides causing the minor ailments of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago and backache, neglect of the kidneys is apt to develop into more serious diseases, such as diabetes or stone in the bladder.

Bid the body of toxic poisons—clean the bladder and kidneys and cure the twinges of rheumatism with Anurie and you win the battle of life.

Anurie was first discovered by Dr. Pierce, and has benefited thousands of sufferers as well as appeared and eliminated the ravages of the more serious kidney diseases. Now procurable at any good drug store, or send Dr. V. M. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., or branch office, Bridgeburg, Ont., 10 cents for trial package.

Thorold, Ont.—"I was wonderfully helped by taking 'Anurie.' For about three years I had kidney trouble and rheumatism. I also had backache. My limbs would swell and I had rheumatism in my arms and hands. My hands would swell and joints would be so sore and stiff I could scarcely do my work. They would pain me something awful. I doctored but without relief. At last I saw 'Anurie' advertised. I began its use and two bottles completely cured me of all my rheumatism, and I think it was permanent for that was a year ago and I have never had any return of this ailment. I have never found a medicine so good as 'Anurie.'—Mrs. R. H. HURRY.
