

Ted's Tolly, and What He Lost.

TED started out to school in good time, and a few minutes afterwards the postman delivered a letter at his house, from Uncle George, asking Ted to go over on Friday to his cousin Frank's birthday-tea. When nearly at school Ted was stopped by idle Bob, and persuaded to play truant and make a snowman. His mother was so annoyed at this that she did not allow him to go to Uncle George's, so he had none of the birthday cake.

