

2. Material and equipment shall remain subject to this Agreement until:
 - (a) it has been transferred to a third party in accordance with the provisions of Article V of this Agreement; or
 - (b) otherwise agreed between the State Parties.
3. Technology shall remain subject to this Agreement until otherwise agreed between the State Parties.

ARTICLE IX

1. Each State Party shall take all measures necessary, commensurate with the assessed threat prevailing from time to time, to ensure the physical protection of nuclear material subject to this Agreement and shall, as a minimum, apply levels of physical protection as set out in Annex E to this Agreement.
2. The State Parties shall consult at the request of either one concerning matters related to the physical protection of nuclear material, material, equipment or technology subject to this Agreement including those concerning physical protection during international transportation.

ARTICLE X

1. The State Parties shall consult at any time at the request of either State Party to ensure the effective fulfilment of the obligations of this Agreement. The IAEA may be invited to participate in such consultations upon the request of the State Parties.
2. The appropriate governmental authorities shall establish administrative arrangements to facilitate the effective implementation of this Agreement and shall consult annually or at any other time at the request of either. Such consultations may take the form of an exchange of correspondence.
3. Each State Party shall, upon the other State Party's request, inform the other State Party of the conclusions of the most recent report by the IAEA on its verification activities in the territory of the first State Party which are relevant to the nuclear material subject to this Agreement.