

INDEX OF FIRST LINES.

635

PAGE		PAGE		PAGE
293	In the silence of my chamber	93	Lake of the soft and sunny hills	88
417	In the wigwag with Nokomis	207	Land of the west, though passing brief	391
280	I rowed with Doris in my boat	195	Last night among his fellow roughs	224
186	I sat at an open window	465	Laugh of the mountain!—lyre of bird and tree	60
486	I sat in the evening cool	356	Launch thy bark, mariner	114
496	I saw a man with tottering steps	370	Lay it aside! her work! no more she sits	334
102	I saw him on the battle eve	291	Let me come in where you sit weeping	47
90	I saw two clouds at morning	179	Let me not have this gloomy view	227
48	I sigh for the time	311	Let not woman e'er complain	186
456	I saw my lover on the sea	132	Let others seek for empty joys	41
209	I spun your gilded bait, O King	263	Let them sing who may of the battle-fray	335
264	I stood tiptoe upon a little hill	114	Let us walk where reeds are growing	105
298	I stood within a vision's spell	57	Life may be given in many ways	407
196	I take my chaperon to the play	424	Lifel! We've been long together	440
471	I thank thee, God, for all I've known	441	Lightly, Alpine rover	344
112	I think on thee in the night	44	Listen, my children, and you shall hear	270
568	I thought the sparrow's note from heaven	96	Listen to the water-mill	418
560	I too am changed, I scarce know why	429	Little Miss Brier came out of the ground	390
180	It is a gem which hath the power to show	182	Little streams are light and shadow	92
324	It is many a year ago, dear	29	Little Tommy and Peter	384
195	It is not beauty I demand	199	Little wren, why do you warble?	114
451	It is not that my lot is low	456	Look what immortal floods the sunset pours	139
43	It is not the fear of death	257	Lord b'ess papa, mamma, Daisy	373
18	It is the miller's daughter	190	Love is a sickness full of woes	184
184	It hath been said for all who die	449	Love is enough. Let us not seek for gold	200
501	It's of three jovial huntsmen	554	Love me little, love me long	175
215	I thought when I'd learned my letters	381	Love not me for comely grace	193
194	It was noon	473	Low burns the summer afternoon	300
164	It was a hundred years ago	235
370	It was a scene of peace and like a spell	292	Madam, we missed the train at B—	464
229	It was late in mild October	336	"Make me the signal, dear!" she cried	443
357	It was only a winsome way she had	172	"Make way for Liberty!" he cried	348
476	I've a deep domestic tragedy	478	Mamma said, "Little one, go and see"	355
438	I've battled through adversity	250	Man is the grief of those whose fate	405
371	I've got a letter, parson, from my son	477	March, march, Ettrick and Teviotdale	225
274	I've met with a good many people	415	March, nor heed those arms that hold thee	280
169	I walked down the valley of silence	438	Mark, leaning from the casement dark	476
80	"I was so lonely," a violet said	437	May, sweet May, again has come	106
204	I will not kneel to yield my life	275	May, queen of blossoms	69
121	"I want a piece of calico"	353	Men of Harlech! in the hollow	261
35	"I will come back," love cried	189	'Mid many strangely-thrilling tales	265
385	I will not have the mad Clytie	74	'Mid the brown hair and the black-haired men	428
384	I would be with thee—near thee	50	Midsummer's crimson morn	237
73			Mild offspring of a dark and sullen sire	72
378	Jack, who sews his buttons on	477	Mine eyes have seen the glory	234
258	"Jane Jones keeps a whisperin' to me"	488	Mourn, for to us he seems the last	410
564	January, wan and gray	101	My boy, thou wilt dream the world is fair	17
302	Jays in the orchard are screaming	370	My dear and only love, I pray	199
26	Jenny kissed me when we met	195	My first was young and very fair	193
189	Jes' turn de back-log over dar	481	My soul to-day	142
147	Jingle, jingle, clear the way	299	My little love, do you remember	160
260	Just for a handful of silver he left us	417	My mother sighed, the stream of pain	333
418	Just in thy mould and beauteous in thy form	130	My true love hath my heart and I have his	171
456
463	Kind traveler, do not pass me by	443	Napoleon's banners at Boulogne	391
58	Kissing her hair, I sat against her feet	186	Nay, tempt me not to love again	165
460	Kitty's charming voice and face	175	Nay, lady, one frown is enough	193
330	Knight, to love thee like a sister	206	Never give up, it is wiser and better	252
			Night closed around the conqueror's way	293	