

The first of these Lectures, which were delivered for the benefit of the Commercial Reading Room, though written after consideration and enquiry, was not intended for the press. But the Committee, and others, having expressed a desire for the publication of both, the writer has much pleasure in complying with their wishes.

KINGSTON. May, 1854.