
SIXTH WEEK.

MY BABY.

O, I have an exquisite baby,
All compost of mountains and sky;
And a soul I captured in Dreamland
When no one was nigh.

As a flower that gathers fair colors
From dunest, wormiest sods;
My baby has gathered the sweetness
Of all that is God's.