

g. Co.
limited.
FOUNDERS, LWRIGHTS.
Shafting, Hang Driving, Frie wer Transmis Junction.
ork Street.
O. 248
ED.
HAND, APPL
ford Park, P.O.
ANTED.
THE SHARDE
Little Tailors
Toronto, to con good house and World. 248
SEND TO CTS.
questions, reliable 386 Fulton-st.
24. 3RD CON
colts. Address SALE.
PRINTED advertisers or advertisers, 7 Queen
ND HEATERS, for cash or in and Souvenir Dundas-street,
LS RATS, MICE,
to. No. 881
EXCHANGE.
ORONTO-LARGE
Jarvis; commo ation; terms cas ile.
LOAN.
LIED PEOPLE upon their own Special Induc
Freehold Build NS.
MY OFFICIAN, CENSES.
OF MARRIAGE to-street. Even ERS.
NBROKER, 104
st. all, business gold and silver ed
RY.
ERINARY COLLE rence-street, To 15. Telephone BDS.
N. BARRISTER, etc., 34 Victoria
ARKISTERS, 80
ct., 34 Victoria
RISTERS, SOLI
Loan Building
ETER, SOICITOR, per, 104 Adelaide LL.B., BARRIS ary Public, 18 and S.
"Diheen Build emance-street
DONALD, SHIP
Macdonald, Mac
Barristers, Scot street. Money to lowest rates.
BARRISTERS, King-street West
er, W. H. Irving RISTERS, 80
ct., 34 Victoria
King-street East street cars from per day. J. W.
RICHES.
ing, Toronto.
and Patents, design patents
all foreign coun

CRAWFORDS!

COLD WEATHER

is now with us for sure, but we still keep on with our Mild Winter Sale, we must clear out our stock of winter goods. A garment that we turn out is not "the just as good" kind, but "the equal to order" kind, but is made and trimmed through-out with the best goods and by the best mechanics.

Overcoatings

Grey Cheviot, Blue or Black English Beaver and Melton Overcoats, made to your order, with silk velvet collar, well trimmed, regular $20, for $15.

Trousers

A line of West of England Trousers to your order, well made, some of these goods are worth $6, none less than $4. Your choice, $2.95.

Suitsings

Scotch Tweed Suitsings, latest patterns, beautiful goods, regular $20, for $15.

CRAWFORD BROS.,

To Order Only.
TWO STORES—167 Yonge St., Opp. Simpson Bldg; 380 Queen St. West, N.E. Cor. Queen St. and Spadina Ave.

CHECKER EXPERTS' PLAY

Opening Games for Championship

An interesting draw.
The first of the series of games for the city championship took place last night at Mr. Munson's store, 182 Yonge-street, and was of a very interesting character, especially in the games in which the well-known players Messrs. McKendrick and Barrett were pitted against one another. The game was very prettily played, and ended in a draw.
Mr. Repath won his series from Mr. Lamarkin by 4 to 0. Mr. Repath gets one game from Mr. Beard. The different players decided that no sitting shall have a duration of less than three hours.
It is specially requested that Messrs. Wythe, Rowland, March, and others, who are interested in the game, should attend and play their games to-night, Tuesday, the 5th.

After Rugby Union Officers.

The annual meeting of the Ontario Rugby Union will be held at the Rossia House on Saturday afternoon, when the election of officers will take place, and several proposed amendments will be discussed. The officers for the year are: For President, R. Shillington, R. H. Hanson and J. L. Counsell; for vice-president, Martin Hamilton and J. Elliott; for secretary, J. D. McArthur; for treasurer, J. D. McArthur; for committee, J. S. Robertson, D. P. Maguire (Argonauts), H. Southam (Ottawa). It is likely that London (the junior champions), Peterboro (intermediate champions), and Varsity will each ask to have a representative on the Executive.

S. P. S. Beat St. Michael's.

Semi-final No. 2 of the Mulock Cup series was played at a reserach between the School of Science and St. Michael's College, the S.P.S. winning by a score of 2 to 0. The game was a very hard fought one, and the S.P.S. were the victors in the end. The game was the best of the series and certainly the hardest fight, for the score tells the tale. It was shortly after the match started that McArthur pointed out for the first and only point of the game. The rest of the half was spent in scrambling and short runs. In the second half the game was a close one, and not a single point was scored. The game was a very hard fought one, and the S.P.S. were the victors in the end.

S. P. S. (1): Back, McDonald; halves, Burns, Beaman; forwards, McKendrick, Dickson; scrum, Empy, Isbister, Forth; wing, wings, McLean, Hunt, Parsons, Thorne, Taylor, Harvey, Gibson.

St. Michael's (0): Back, Doyle; halves, Dickson, Sheridan; quarter, Crysler; scrum, Thompson, Stanley; wing, wings, Stormont, McAllister, Duggan, Figg, Roster, O'Connor.

Referee—N. Blac, Umpire—F. Fleck.

The final game between the School of Science and St. Michael's was played on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The protest lodged by the Mets on Friday against the School of Science has been dropped.

Peterboro's Champions.

Peterboro, Dec. 4.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the parlors of the Oriental Hotel in the city of Peterboro, to elect the champions of the Intermediate Rugby champions. It was decided to give the championship to the team which won the most games, and at which spectators will be present to the members of the team. At a previous meeting of the club R. F. McWilliams was nominated to enter the field for the second presidency of the O.R.F.U. The club think they have a good claim, and intend pushing their candidate. Messrs. R. F. McWilliams and W. McWilliams were elected delegates to the O.R.F.U. meeting.

The Hounds Will Meet.

The Hounds will meet this afternoon at O'Halloran's Hotel, Deer Park, at 2:30 o'clock.

DRINKER, 25 ROUNDS

Jack O'Brien Failed to Wrest the Lightweight Championship From Frank Erne.

HARD FIGHT AND CORRECT DECISION.

Erne Did the Cleaner Work, While O'Brien Rushed and Scored Three Knock-Downs.

New York, Dec. 4.—Frank Erne of Buffalo and Jack O'Brien of New York fought 25 rounds at the lightweight limit, 133 pounds, at the Coney Island Sporting Club, to-night, and at the end of it all George Siler of Chicago declared that Erne was the winner. The decision was fair and just, but it did not satisfy a number of persons who had picked a favorite. O'Brien did a lot of forcing and fighting, but Erne's work was of a cleaner and more scientific character. O'Brien's blows had many friends, but he was not behind Erne's. The old case of a clean boxer against a hurricanite fighter. Of the two Erne's face bore the worst marks. Both eyes were badly damaged and his mouth and nose were puffed up. Erne's left eye was smashed, but this will not hurt him half as much as the punishment he received in the body during the fight.

O'Brien invariably got in a pile-driving blow on the stomach, ribs and kidneys, and the frequent visitations of his fists left red welts on the Buffalo lad's body. O'Brien's fierce little mule had many friends. He was an even-money favorite about the 10th round, while before the fight began 100 to 75 was laid against him. During the fight O'Brien scored three knockdowns, while Erne was decided against him. Both were in fine shape, but it is just possible that Erne was drawn a bit in order to get the two to the limit. Another bit between the two will be interesting, and should be attractive enough to fill the big club house, which was three-fourths full to-night.

The Fight by Rounds.

Round 1—After a lot of fiddling O'Brien was first to land, jabbing his left to the body and right to the head. Erne tried to counter, but O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 2—O'Brien tried two lefts for the face, but they were blocked. Erne jabbed his left three times in quick succession to Erne's face. Clinches were frequent, and Erne got in two light jabs on the face. O'Brien landed his left near the kidneys at the bell.

Round 3—Erne led his left to the nose and blocked Jack's counter for the body. O'Brien landed two lefts, and Erne's began to bleed. They fought fast and O'Brien put a left hook to the body as Erne began to bleed. They fought fast and O'Brien put a left hook to the body as Erne began to bleed.

Round 4—O'Brien opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 5—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 6—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 7—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 8—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 9—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 10—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 11—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 12—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 13—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 14—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 15—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 16—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 17—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 18—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 19—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 20—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 21—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 22—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 23—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 24—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 25—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

DRINKER, 25 ROUNDS

Jack O'Brien Failed to Wrest the Lightweight Championship From Frank Erne.

HARD FIGHT AND CORRECT DECISION.

Erne Did the Cleaner Work, While O'Brien Rushed and Scored Three Knock-Downs.

New York, Dec. 4.—Frank Erne of Buffalo and Jack O'Brien of New York fought 25 rounds at the lightweight limit, 133 pounds, at the Coney Island Sporting Club, to-night, and at the end of it all George Siler of Chicago declared that Erne was the winner. The decision was fair and just, but it did not satisfy a number of persons who had picked a favorite. O'Brien did a lot of forcing and fighting, but Erne's work was of a cleaner and more scientific character. O'Brien's blows had many friends, but he was not behind Erne's. The old case of a clean boxer against a hurricanite fighter. Of the two Erne's face bore the worst marks. Both eyes were badly damaged and his mouth and nose were puffed up. Erne's left eye was smashed, but this will not hurt him half as much as the punishment he received in the body during the fight.

O'Brien invariably got in a pile-driving blow on the stomach, ribs and kidneys, and the frequent visitations of his fists left red welts on the Buffalo lad's body. O'Brien's fierce little mule had many friends. He was an even-money favorite about the 10th round, while before the fight began 100 to 75 was laid against him. During the fight O'Brien scored three knockdowns, while Erne was decided against him. Both were in fine shape, but it is just possible that Erne was drawn a bit in order to get the two to the limit. Another bit between the two will be interesting, and should be attractive enough to fill the big club house, which was three-fourths full to-night.

The Fight by Rounds.

Round 1—After a lot of fiddling O'Brien was first to land, jabbing his left to the body and right to the head. Erne tried to counter, but O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 2—O'Brien tried two lefts for the face, but they were blocked. Erne jabbed his left three times in quick succession to Erne's face. Clinches were frequent, and Erne got in two light jabs on the face. O'Brien landed his left near the kidneys at the bell.

Round 3—Erne led his left to the nose and blocked Jack's counter for the body. O'Brien landed two lefts, and Erne's began to bleed. They fought fast and O'Brien put a left hook to the body as Erne began to bleed. They fought fast and O'Brien put a left hook to the body as Erne began to bleed.

Round 4—O'Brien opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 5—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 6—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 7—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 8—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 9—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 10—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 11—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 12—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 13—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 14—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 15—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 16—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 17—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 18—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 19—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 20—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 21—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 22—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 23—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 24—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 25—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

DRINKER, 25 ROUNDS

Jack O'Brien Failed to Wrest the Lightweight Championship From Frank Erne.

HARD FIGHT AND CORRECT DECISION.

Erne Did the Cleaner Work, While O'Brien Rushed and Scored Three Knock-Downs.

New York, Dec. 4.—Frank Erne of Buffalo and Jack O'Brien of New York fought 25 rounds at the lightweight limit, 133 pounds, at the Coney Island Sporting Club, to-night, and at the end of it all George Siler of Chicago declared that Erne was the winner. The decision was fair and just, but it did not satisfy a number of persons who had picked a favorite. O'Brien did a lot of forcing and fighting, but Erne's work was of a cleaner and more scientific character. O'Brien's blows had many friends, but he was not behind Erne's. The old case of a clean boxer against a hurricanite fighter. Of the two Erne's face bore the worst marks. Both eyes were badly damaged and his mouth and nose were puffed up. Erne's left eye was smashed, but this will not hurt him half as much as the punishment he received in the body during the fight.

O'Brien invariably got in a pile-driving blow on the stomach, ribs and kidneys, and the frequent visitations of his fists left red welts on the Buffalo lad's body. O'Brien's fierce little mule had many friends. He was an even-money favorite about the 10th round, while before the fight began 100 to 75 was laid against him. During the fight O'Brien scored three knockdowns, while Erne was decided against him. Both were in fine shape, but it is just possible that Erne was drawn a bit in order to get the two to the limit. Another bit between the two will be interesting, and should be attractive enough to fill the big club house, which was three-fourths full to-night.

The Fight by Rounds.

Round 1—After a lot of fiddling O'Brien was first to land, jabbing his left to the body and right to the head. Erne tried to counter, but O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 2—O'Brien tried two lefts for the face, but they were blocked. Erne jabbed his left three times in quick succession to Erne's face. Clinches were frequent, and Erne got in two light jabs on the face. O'Brien landed his left near the kidneys at the bell.

Round 3—Erne led his left to the nose and blocked Jack's counter for the body. O'Brien landed two lefts, and Erne's began to bleed. They fought fast and O'Brien put a left hook to the body as Erne began to bleed. They fought fast and O'Brien put a left hook to the body as Erne began to bleed.

Round 4—O'Brien opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 5—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 6—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 7—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 8—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 9—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 10—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 11—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 12—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 13—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 14—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 15—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 16—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 17—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to the face. Erne clinched, and O'Brien's eye. Erne tried a left for the body, but missed, and they clinched under the ropes. After five or six minutes O'Brien landed a left to the chest, and they were in a half-clinch for the remainder of the round.

Round 18—Erne opened with a right jab on the kidneys, and Erne jabbed his left to