Mr. Whitney Analyses Election Figures to Prove That the Legislature to Aid G. T. P. From Government Is Not Endorsed-Opposition Will Fight to the End.

Just How Things Stand.

Struggle Will Go on.

J. P. Whitney, leader of the opposi-tion, made an announcement last even-tion, made an announcement last even-that the results are not normal, and ing in regard to the by-elections of in Wednesday. He said :

"While the results of the contests in North Grey, North Perth and North Norfolk were unsatisfactory to the meetings held by the opposition were to a Star reporter that Hon. Mr. Davis has no intention of resigning, either his portfolio "or his seat in the House." has no intention of resigning, either this portfolio "or his seat in the House." Port Arthur, to join the Canadian Northern."

Comment here is needless and useless. It will be impossible for the governative the largest ever held there. From every direction evidences were afforded us of undoubted endorsement by the people, while the meetings held on behalf of the government, except those attended by Mr. Ross, were comparatively small. A very noticeable fact was, that the Town of Listowel, where Mr. Ross made his last speech, secure from contradiction, and in which he loudly inveighed against Mr. Blake, gave Mr. Monteith a majority of 54 as compared with a small majority against him last May.

"The feeling and action of the peo-"

"The feeling and action of the people of Listowel are indicative of the public mind in all three constituencies. In North Grey we made gains almost everywhere, except in Owen Sound, where there was a change of 195 from last May.

"In North Perth we gained practically everywhere—notably in Listowel—except in the City of Stratford, where there was a change of 228 from last May, and the majority of the government candidate in the whole riding was 221. In the face of these facts and figures it is simply absurd to contend that the result can be considered as an expression by the people in favor of the government, because had that been the case, the changes would have been distributed fairly evenly over the riding and not confined.

Struggle Will Go on.

"In the meantime let it be understood that we are not dismayed, and the war ready that that gentleman had been hard at work at his plans for some time past, and he was ready now to close things up. Sir Wilfrid is at Ottawa, and Mr. Sifton and Mr. Sifton and Mr. Sutherland, who are supposed to be well postent ment may have been checked for a few there is no manner of doubt, and we who have fought him and the evil in fuences and practices which he has not hesitated to use, feel a natural pride that behind us is a large majority of the people, and we also feel honored in being the instruments by means of which a majority of the people have visited their punishment upon him. The fight is on to-day."

Nor is there comfort for the government in the result in North Norfolk, when we consider that the great majorities formerly gained there by the government have beep brought down to 54.

"I do not care to pursue this point."

Jointy of the people, and we also feel honored in being the instruments by means of which a majority of the people have visited their punishment upon him. The fight is on to-day."

Grateful to His Friends.
