"CHARLEY'S AUNT."

"Charley's Aunt," that sterling com-edy of all coinedles, that has wea-thered the theatrical storms of years thered the theatrical storms of years too numerous to mention, simply by sheer merit of story, truthfulness to nature, and its excruciatingly funny scenes, will be presented in all its entirety at the Grand Opera House next week, at popular prices. That this play makes a special appeal to all, there is no gainsaying.

GAYETY.

Rose Sydell's Famous London Belles -the king-pin of all musical extravaganzas make their first appearance in this city pext week, at the Gayety Theatre. This attraction is beyond a question the most original, unique and up-to-date organization of its kind, the pick of extravaganza. The com-edy element is superb and the burlettas take advantage of every oppor-tunity to create a laugh, and are written to suit the people.

STAR.

Hughey Bernard's "American Burlesquers," featuring Harry ("Watch the Slide") Welch, comes to the Star Theatre next week. Welsh is supported by an excellent cast, with Bobby vail at the head. Sam Green plays amusingly in his role of "Strong Arm Lewis," a tenderloin product, with hold-up proclivities. "Pawnbroking de Luxe" is the title of the two-act musi-
