L'ETANG HARBOR AS WINTER PORT

Onlooker, in New Freeman, Tells what He Heard in St. George This Week.

Onlooker, in the New Freeman, tells of a recent visit to St. George this week, and what he heard there relative to the port of L'Etang. He says:—

"I, Sutton Clark, a former west end man, who has been a resident of St. George for the past nineteen years, and who has several business interests in Charlotte county, is owner of practically the whole water front of L'Etang harbor, owning some two miles and a half of the harbor front."

Wicker and Willow Furniture

A Few Undeniable Claims in Its Behalf. They May Not Have Occurred to You.

HOW MANY HOMES are stuffy and old-fashioned? Just as many as are entirely furnished with heavily-upholstered sofas, chairs, divans, etc.

Such homes are unattractive; they repel instead of invite, hurry you out rather than entice you to linger.

But, on the other hand, you drop into a friend's home, cosily, brightly and artistically set to rights. There's no deadening uniformity there, no wearying sameness; no chokey, dust-laden furniture on every side. Wicker and Willow chairs, so fresh and pure, are placed here and there throughout the rooms. The general furnishing scheme is relieved with them; they are actually the making of the house.

And what's more, Wicker and Willow Furniture is
