A Do-Nothing Government as soon think of going joy-riding behind a ham-strung ox as of trying to get action from the dominion government to deal instantly with the headlong events of these perilous times.

What President Wilson Expects of Each Citizen

Personal responsibility for the outcome of the war is brought home to every man and woman of the United States by President Wilson's appeal to enlist in the great civilian army, without whose whole-hearted services, "mere fighting would be useless."

"This plea to the American people," declares the Washington Evening Star, "is the most important stroke yet delivered in the battle of preparedness," and the Philadelphia North American remarks that "never before in history has a nation received so sobering a summons at the beginning of a war."

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for April 28th, the leading article gives a complete description of how the great army of industry is being mobilized throughout the country. It shows the movements that are under way to increase the cultivation of the land, the proposals to solve the problem of a scarcity of farm labor, and numerous other activities. While Germany hails with delight the President's appeal, seeing in it a declaration of weakness because of a lack of supply of foodstuffs, no red-blooded American who reads this article will for one moment be convinced that there is any truth in Professor Wygodzinski's statement in the Dusseldorf General Anzeiger, that "on the American wheat-field the war will be decided in our (Germany's) favor."

Other articles of scarcely less importance in this number of "The Digest" are:

"The Digest"—For People Who Are Not Afraid of the Truth

Never before, perhaps, in the history of the world has it been more difficult to arrive at the actual truth regarding the tremendous events that are occurring from week to week. Empires are falling, huge tracts of territory are changing hands, and the political complexion of States is being completely altered over night. To know the real facts regarding these epoch-making occurrences is a vital necessity for every one of us, yet there are innumerable influences, both domestic and foreign, that tend to keep the issues clouded and the exact developments in doubt. To obtain the truth you must find a news-magazine that gives you the facts impartially, from whatever source they may be derived, that has no policy but to state conditions as they are, without gloss or concealment, and that leaves your judgment absolutely unfettered. Such a magazine is THE LITERARY DIGEST. You need it.
