"THE CLOSING NET"

AT GEM THEATRE

Strong Five-part Drama by H. C.

Rowlands—Other Pictures—
Helen Marr, Popular SingerThe well known story by Henry C.
Rowlands which ran in serial form in one of the popular American magazines, entitled "The Closing Net," was presented at the Gem Theatre yesterday and afforded distinct pleasure to all who saw it. The production was a masterpiece of motion photography in five reels, and was staged with elaborate attention to detail. The acting throughout was of a very high standard and each scene was well developed, and carried through to an exciting climax. The story concerned the career of a young man in "shady" company, belonging to a circle slightly above the usual haunts of the underworld, with scenes flashed at intervals showing life in high society as well as in the lower levels."The Closing Net" made a strong impression. It won most hearty favor and deserved the praise bestowed. It will be repeated for the best time today. In addition to this picture there was an amusing Vitaphone comedy, "How John Came Home with Sixpence," and several other favorites in the cast. The Gem Orchestra had a fine programme, and Miss Hague again in "Cariadus" and Miss Marr is proving very popular with Gem Theatre patrons, and her singing of "I Love You" this week added further to her laurels.
