WAGES 59 P. C. OF COST OF A PAIR OF BOOTS

(Extract from an address by David Marsh to the Quebec Rotary Club.)
"In the manufacture of a pair of boots more than 200 distinct operations are performed. The earnings of piece-workers are very substantial. It is not an uncommon thing for a capable worker to earn as high as $75 or $80 a week in the season. Certainly the average compares favorably with that earned in other lines."
"In 1918 the shoe manufacturers' dollar was distributed as follows:—

Cost of material 20%
Payments to employees 59%
Manufacturing and selling 15%
Returns on investment 6%

Total (per cent) 100
"The Canadian shoe manufacturers are now producing leather footwear equal to that manufactured in any other part of the world, not even excepting the United States."

With the growth of the Canadian market, shoe manufacturers have been exclusively to the production of better halves are known as retail-amen making the finest of shoes in all within from AAA to EE.

"The United Shoe Machinery Company, which has a branch factory in Canada run as an entirely Canadian institution, practically controls the shoe industry through patents on its machines. Few of these machines are sold outright, being installed either on a royalty or a rental basis. Therefore it requires exceedingly small capital to start into the business of manufacturing boots and shoes. Profits are extremely low. It is unusual for the profit on the turnover to reach 5 per cent net—one of the lowest returns in manufacturing industry and only possible to bear with an account of the usual stability of the business."
