Ward One of Saanich Municipality Does Not Favor Proposed Boundaries' Extension

The residents of Cedar Hill, to the number of about two dozen, voted strongly against any arrangement with the city over the extension of boundaries, at a meeting at the schoolhouse on Saturday night, and carried

He contended that the powers necessary to handle sewerage, water, schools, and so on, which the residents required were already in the hands of the citithem more cheaply than Saanich. He Capt. Nichol, of Gulf Stream, answered the argument that more information was not available by saying that everything so far was tentative, and in order to get the opinion of residents, the series of meetings had been courteously arranged by the Saanich authority. The whole question was one of terms, and subject to a fair agreement. He also insisted on

Meeting With Board of Trade Committee This Afternoon-Recognizes Port's Importance

Louis Coste, C.E., arrived in the city on Saturday afternoon in order to make an examination of the needs of the port of Victoria, which will form the basis of a report to the department of public works. He will go into the commercial side of the case very fully with local merchants and shipping men so as to be able to report on the probable tonnage which will have to be procided for here after the Panama canal route is open, and will examine the various plans proposed for harbor work.

It should be a progressive olan, one portion of it following the others to completion, perhaps in, say, three sections. But of course it will take much consideration to see what is the best to do. My instructions are to look over both the inner and the outer harbors and consult with the people here who know them best in rder to decide what is really required to provide sufficient facilities for the sea-going and the coasting trade.
