For years past there have been many complaints by lake captains of erratic behavior of their compasses upon which the safety of their ships depends in thick and bad weather. Cargoes of iron ore and me tals capable of affecting the magnetic needles were undoubtedly at the bottom of some of these complaints, bu it was realized by navigators that natural conditions were often causing variations of the compass and that it might be possible to reduce the evils arising from such causes. It Is Believed New Native Minister May Take Control From Hands of Sir R. Hart.

Washington, D. C., May 10.-Another important step toward the realization of the policy of "China for the Chinese" has been received in the promulgation of an Imperial decree at Pekin, naming Tien Tiang as "minister superintendent of customs affairs," with Tang Shao Yi as vice-minister. It is overturning of the system of foreign control of Chinese custom collections which have been in the hands of Sir Robert Hart for the past 20 years. Tien Laing is the Manchu command-

In 1898 an arrangement was made between England and China in consideration of which England paid 100,-000,000 taels, providing that so long as British trade exceeds that of other countries the inspector-general of Chinese customs should always be an Englishman. Under that arrangement Sir Robert Hart has administered the new offices are created, and it is believed they will dominate his own, so it is expected that an immediate iners as to the extent to which the new mittee will meet them down the bay,
