DR. KENNESS CHARGES HAVE BEEN REDUCED ONE QUARTER

First Six Months Under Hazen Government's Amendment To Liquor Law Show Satisfactory Results—One-third Less Cases On Saturday—Early Closing Of Saloons Mainly Responsible—Chief Clerk And Inspector Jones Speak Of Improved Conditions.

The amendments made to the Liquor Act by the Hazen administration at the last session of the provincial legislature have been in force in the city yesterday for half a year, yesterday, October 31, a sufficient time to determine their worth as effective temperance legislation.

By changing the opening hour from 5 a. m. until 7 a. m., the temptation of having a drink before going to work was removed from the workingman. But a much more important factor in the decrease resulted from the earlier closing on Saturday.

Less Opportunity. The amendments to the act which changed the hour of opening from 5 a. m. to 7 a. m., and the hour of closing on Saturdays from 7 p. m. to 5 p. m., are, it is believed, the chief causes for the reduction.

What the decrease as indicated by the above figures means is, in the opinion of the chief clerk, that the law is believed, is derived by the wives and children in many homes who are enabled thereby to obtain a fairer share of comfort, contentment and happiness.

Records on the police books last evening was a remarkable chain of events more or less connected and all having their sequel in the police court. A shooting affray, a daring robbery, a seizure of liquor and the arrest of an inmate of an illegal bar room were the features in this strange medley of crime and misadventure.

Declaring that bad books and literature are some of the greatest evils of the present day, Rev. A. J. Duke, C. S. R., in an eloquent sermon, delivered in St. Peter's Church yesterday morning, took occasion to score the evil influence of irreligious books upon the minds of the young, and the harm that resulted therefrom.

SHOOTING CHARGE DARING ROBBERY AND LIQUOR CASE Chain Of Events Which Ended In Three Arrests — Boy In Hospital With Bullet In His Forehead.

Records on the police books last evening was a remarkable chain of events more or less connected and all having their sequel in the police court.

A shooting affray, a daring robbery, a seizure of liquor and the arrest of an inmate of an illegal bar room were the features in this strange medley of crime and misadventure.

The court will likely render its verdict on Saturday afternoon.

Deputy Jenkins from the description furnished had reason to suspect Gilbert Lanchner, aged 35, of Sheffield street, as the sneak thief and the latter was placed under arrest by Policeman Silas Perry in King Square about 4 o'clock on Saturday afternoon.

In another part of the town soon after Lanchner was arrested, his son Gilbert Jr., aged 17, was one of the central figures in an affair which may yet have a tragic ending.

Young Lanchner had traded his silver watch for a revolver of antique pattern and was very proud of his new possession.

Deputy Jenkins and Detective Killen had been called to the scene of the accident and they took Lanchner in custody on the charge of carrying a loaded revolver, discharging the same, and striking the forehead of Elijah Taylor.

The bullet struck young Taylor over the eye and lodged in his forehead. He was not badly injured, however, and was at once removed to the hospital, afterwards making a statement exonerating Lanchner from all blame.

TOO MUCH SPACE GIVEN TO MURDER AND DIVORCE TRIALS Rev. Father Duke Condemns Yellow Journalism Of Today — St. John Papers Are Offenders To Some Extent.

Declaring that bad books and literature are some of the greatest evils of the present day, Rev. A. J. Duke, C. S. R., in an eloquent sermon, delivered in St. Peter's Church yesterday morning, took occasion to score the evil influence of irreligious books upon the minds of the young, and the harm that resulted therefrom.

While the St. John press, he said, were not as bad in many respects as some outside journals, still in many cases it was found that where sermons or reports of church proceedings would be scarcely noted, murder and divorce trials, prize fights, and the like, would be announced in glaring headlines, and spread over many columns.

As a result today, young men will be met with those who although they do not know what is going on in the religious world, can give a detailed account of the Thaw trial.

In closing the speaker strongly urged the necessity of watching carefully over the literature which children read, both made an appeal for the introduction of good books into the home.
