

Social Notes of the Week

NEWCASTLE

Newcastle, March 3.—A very happy event was the marriage on Wednesday night, the 1st inst., at the home of her father, ex-Alderman Geo. Stables, of Miss Nettie Adelaide Stables to Mr. Thomas Alex. Belmore of Fredericton, a well-known business man of that city. Rev. S. J. MacArthur performed the ceremony at 9 o'clock.

The beautiful residence of Mrs. Stables was handsomely decorated for the occasion, the drawing room in white and pink, one corner, in which the marriage took place, being banked with evergreens and trimmed with roses in white and pink; the halls were decorated in pink and white, the library in yellow and white, and the dining room in evergreen and white bride roses.

The wedding was very quiet, only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties being present. The out of town guests were Mrs. and Miss Belmore of Fredericton, mother and sister of the groom, and Dr. and Mrs. Boston of Blackville. The couple were unattended. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very charming in a blue serge suit with silk hat to match, trimmed with pink roses. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. A. A. Belmore, mother of the groom, wore black brocade satin with jet trimmings, and corsage bouquet of pink roses.

Mrs. Jean Belmore wore crepe de chine over grey silk, with pink chiffon trimmings and pink carnations.

Miss Helen Stables, the bride's sister, wore pale blue brocade satin. After a wedding supper at 10 o'clock the happy couple left on the Maritime Express for a two weeks' honeymoon to Montreal and New York. They will keep house in Fredericton after May 1st.

The marriage of Miss Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Washburn, brother of the bride, to Matthew E. Bowes of Hillsfield, was solemnized in St. Mary's R. C. church, at "The Forks," on the 23rd ult., Rev. S. J. Crumby celebrating nuptial mass.

The bride was dressed in a military suit of white serge with fur trimmings and white plugh hat. She was attended by Miss Mary E. Bowes, sister of the groom, and the groomsmen was Alex. Washburn, brother of the bride. The wedding dinner was served at the bride's home and in the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the groom, and the groomsmen was Alex. Washburn, brother of the bride. The wedding dinner was served at the bride's home and in the afternoon a reception was held at the home of the groom, and the groomsmen was Alex. Universal interest has been taken in the local Red Cross Society Jan Day, which was arranged for Tuesday of this week. Everybody was asked to attend the meeting and bring one or more self-selected pots of preserves. The response was general and from all directions people came carrying a package of jam, the result being a great display arranged on a large table over which Miss Dorothy Purdy, Miss Allison, Mrs. Harold Brock, and Miss Sophie Robertson presided. Nor was this all, for from several places outside the village donations were received and although the exact quality is not yet known, those in charge of the scheme, and indeed everybody, is more than pleased. Packed in barrels the jars will be shipped to Falmouth, England, for use at the Canadian Soldiers' Convalescent Hospital, which is equipped by the Canadian Red Cross. Afternoon tea is always part of Tuesday's meetings, and this week was under the efficient management of the Misses Fairweather, "Fir Shade," and Mrs. Percy Fairweather, over seventy were present during the afternoon. Another feature of great interest was the exhibition of finished work, prepared in lots, ready for packing. Specially interesting was a variety of surgical dressings all prepared ready for immediate use and the different lots properly tied up and labelled. The local society is fortunate in having among most earnest workers, several graduate nurses, some of whom are Mrs. Hibbard, Miss Donville, Mrs. W. S. Allison, Mrs. John Davidson and Mrs. John McIntyre, who meet from time to time and prepare these most valuable boxes.
