

STARVATION FACES MANY IN ALASKA

Governor Refers Appeal to Marshall, and He Disclaims Responsibility.

RED CROSS HAS TAKEN ACTION

Money Sent to Unga for Relief of 115 Children Said to be Starving.

(Copyright 1921, By Public Ledger.)
By THOMAS R. DRAVON
Seward, Alaska, April 6.—One hundred and fifteen children are starving in Unga, two-thirds of the number being children of the Unga Indians. A wire received from Charles McCallum, deputy U. S. marshal, says immediate relief is imperative to prevent fatalities. In answer the Seward branch of the Red Cross has just wired McCallum $400 for the purchase of canned milk and other food necessary to save the lives of the women and children, and directed him to send statement of further requirements. Governor Riggs had first been applied to for aid, but wired that help could only be distributed through U. S. Marshal Brennan, after certain formalities. In answer to local wires Brennanman disclaims responsibility until other forms have first been observed. The Red Cross then stepped into the breach.

A suggestion that the Alaska officials of the United States Bureau of Education be applied to was instantly turned down at the local relief conference on the ground that any participation of that bureau would necessitate a middle and delay the situation, result in nothing but excuses for its delinquency, and probably add to the distress of the suffering children. The Bureau of Education is charged by law with the care of the natives, consulting about one-third of the suffering, but it has over performed a useful and generous function in Alaska in any case of acute need. It is known to citizens well-versed in Alaska activities of all kinds. It is proficient and willing in excuse alone.

The Lack of Fuel Causes School.
Even the bureau's Indian school at Unga has been closed for six weeks due to an absence of fuel. Just why Allied Komatiks, who run a large general store at Unga, and have on hand a normal stock of coal, refuse to supply the school is unknown at this writing. He does sell Miss Yarnell, the teacher, one sack of coal a week for her private use, and that she divides as far as it will go. Edward Wilson, the other trader at Unga, has on hand seven tons of coal at present but refuses to sell any of it even for cash; saying the needs of his school, in connection with the store, will exhaust his supply before he can obtain more from British Columbia. Alaska coal is not available, being reserved from development under conservation laws.

Both of these Unga dealers, Komatiks and Wilson, have large stocks on hand of all other necessary food and supplies, but refuse to sell any of it to the school. The local Red Cross in Seward has determined to supply the cash, but is sending an ultimatum to both Komatiks and Wilson that the prices of canned milk, sugar and such ingredients must not be more than 100 per cent above prices advertised for like commodities in Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

Captures Still On Long Island Farm

Glennon Also Gets 200 Gallons of Booze and Bogus Labels.

New York, April 6.—Two hundred cases of "The finest liquor in existence," as District Attorney Edward Glennon described it, a fifty gallon still and labels of many popular whiskeys and cocktails were seized yesterday afternoon by Mr. Glennon and Assistant District Attorneys Oliver and Chapman.

The liquor manufactory was found in a greenhouse and other outbuildings of one of the least known sections of The Bronx, Old Perry Point, on the Long Island Sound just below Port Schuyler. In locating it District Attorney Glennon believes he has hit upon the centre of the Italian bootlegging.

The whiskey still and labels, however, are not, in his opinion, the most important captures. After the three officers had located the stuff on a truck farm, part of an old country estate, now operated by Tony Crispola, the track farmer was interviewed. He explained he was a gardener, but that he looked "nothing like" a track man and "handed" nothing else, but that he looked "nothing like" a track man and "handed" nothing else, but that he looked "nothing like" a track man and "handed" nothing else.

Investigation by Mr. Glennon led to the belief the business transacted was a flourishing one, for not only was the fifty gallon still equipped with copper apparatus, an underground system and other improvements but there were indications the stuff was shipped by motor truck and possibly by motor boat through the Sound.

The District Attorney intimated that although Caselara is under arrest for violation of the Volstead Act and will be turned over to the Federal authorities, he himself will endeavor to trace back deaths from wood alcohol to the party named, Chiscolpa was not arrested.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing-Syrup. It is pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind-Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food, giving healthy and natural sleep. Slight Chance of Saving Oil Tanker

Hull Pierced by Ledges and Efforts to Pull Steamer off Failed.

J. C. Chesley, agent for Marine and Fisheries, reports that the Government steamer Aberdeen, sent to the aid of the stranded tanker Impoco was unable to pull the steamer from the Blonde Rock ledges where she struck Tuesday morning. Every effort was made to get the oil tanker off on Tuesday night's tide, but every effort failed. Finding that the Aberdeen could render no further aid, and knowing that two of the Imperial Oil Company's steamers were standing by the distressed tanker, Mr. Chesley ordered the Aberdeen about its work but notified the commander to keep in touch with the ship.

Failed to Tug.
The agent for Marine and Fisheries suggested to the Imperial Oil Company that two powerful tugs be sent to the assistance of the Impoco yesterday, but so far as he knows, this was not done. Mr. Chesley was informed that one tug was piercing the hull of the Impoco, and with the heavy seas and tides running then, he thought it doubtful if the steamer could be saved. Reports received here stated that the Blonde Rock gas buoy was in its proper position and that was not the cause of the wreck of the oil tanker. It is thought the strong tides and currents set the ship to the northward of her course which brought her upon the ledges.

Latest reports received last night said the engine room bulkheads were showing signs of weakening and that water was beginning to show in the engine room. The heavy southeasterly gale prevailing yesterday interfered with the transferring of the crew and at last accounts all were aboard ship.

Radicals Parade At Funeral of Leader

Ten Thousand Follow Hearse in Berlin When Dead Striker is Buried.

Berlin, April 6.—Ten thousand Communists marched today behind the hearse bearing the body of Wilhelm Syll, the strike leader, who was killed last week as he was attempting to escape from the Berlin police. As the funeral passed through the principal streets the people sang "The Internationale" and waved red flags. Cross-street traffic was halted while the funeral procession was passing. Those in the procession at intervals gave three cheers for Syll and for the "Moscow Internationale." Many women and girls were among the demonstrators.

Radical Funeral Speech.

At the graveside a number of radicals delivered brief speeches in which they compared Syll to Dr. Karl Liebknecht and Rosa Luxemburg in carrying out the aims of the proletariat. The Rote Fahne, the radical organ, in an editorial today dealing with the funeral of Syll said: "Down with the white terror, the bourgeoisie, down with all murder organizations." There were no untoward demonstrations during the funeral of Syll.
