Physicians Cornered!

I SUPPOSE there is not in the whole of a physician's experience, anything in human suffering which calls forth his sympathy and pity, to such an extent, as to witness the excruciating pains of a poor mortal, suffering from that fearful disease.

RHEUMATISM!

Heretofore there has been a considerable diversity of opinion among medical men, as to the true character of this disease. Some locating it in the fibrous or muscular tissues of the system, and others viewing it as an acute nervous disease; but it is now generally admitted to be a disease arising from a poison circulating in the blood, and further it is admitted that Rheumatism can never be thoroughly cured without exterminating such poisonous matters from the blood, by a constitutional internal remedy. We feel confident that none will feel better satisfied and rejoice more, than the conscientious physician, who has found out that a cure for this stubborn disease has been discovered. The following testimony from a gentleman of standing and high respectability, and well known to the Canadian public, cannot fail to satisfy all that the

MR. ISAACSON'S ENDORSATION.

MONTREAL, 21st March, 1874.

Messrs. DEVINS & BOLTON.

Dear Sirs,—I, with pleasure, concede to the agent's wish that I give my endorsation to the immediate relief I experienced, from a few doses of the Diamond Rheumatic Cure, having been a sufferer from the effects of Rheumatism, I am now, after taking two bottles of this medicine, entirely free from pain. You are at liberty to use this letter, if you deem it advisable to do so.

I am, sirs, yours respectfully,

JOHN HELDER ISAACSON, N. P.

FURTHER PROOF.

I AM ANOTHER MAN!

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH.

Dear Sir,—I have suffered for fifteen months with Chronic Rheumatism, and could not find any relief, after trying every medicine that I saw advertised to cure it, until I was told about the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have used three bottles of this valuable remedy, and now can say that I am another man to what I was. I would advise anybody suffering with this terrible disease to try it, and see if it does not do the same for them that it did for me.

Yours.

JAMES L. EAGLES, Indiantown.

BARNES' HOTEL,

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 29, 1874.

A. CHIPMAN SMITH.

Dear Sir,—I have great pleasure in stating that I put every confidence in your Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have suffered for the last two years with Rheumatic Pains, during which time I have had the advice of some of the most prominent medical men in the Province, and experienced no relief, until I tried the Diamond Rheumatic Cure. I have now taken three bottles, and I feel greatly improved, and now am confident of a permanent cure.

Yours truly,

JAMES O'BRIEN.

There is no medicine which so promptly relieves the depressed vital action, restores the general and local circulation, allays the pain, dissipates the congestion, prevents inflammation, and restores the healthy action as the

DIAMOND RHEUMATIC CURE!!

This medicine is for sale at all the druggists through Canada. If it happens that your druggist has not got it in stock ask him to send for it to

LINES TO A FRIEND.

While gentle Twilight, daughter of the East,
With velvet mantle floats o'er Land and Sea,
My muse, a guest at Friendship's social feast,
Would dedicate an evening song to thee.

The setting sun, with golden pennants streaming,
Lights to the grave the fast expiring day;
The silvery stars, in "Heaven's vast concave" beaming,
Welcome the night their glory to array.

Fold upon fold the night shade's growing deeper;
The stars grow bright in their "ethereal dome";
The night-wrapt world lies like a mighty sleeper
Upon the verge of an immortal home.

But glorious morn bursts forth in all its splendor;
Back flies the night-bolts over Land and Sea;
Darkness to Light his sceptre doth surrender—
The world is born to immortality.

Thus when the eve of life comes creeping o'er us
And deeper, darker grows the nightly shade,—
When glorious Morn lies but a step before us,—
Why should we of the Twilight be afraid?

NOTES AND NEWS.

UNITED STATES.

Helen M. Cooke, writing verses for a New York paper, says that kisses on her brow are the richest diadem her woman's soul aspires to wear. All right. Bring on your brow and take your diadem.

This comes from Oregon:

There is a Postmaster from Salem,
Who resembles the beast rode by Balaam;
He pays for his hash
With the Government cash.
That he stole when he sailed out of Salem.

Mark Twain, a few months after his first baby was born, was holding it on his knee. His wife said: "Now confess, Samuel, that you love the child." "I can't do that," replied the humorist, "but am willing to admit that I respect the little thing for its father's sake."

According to the talk in "spiritual circles," Mr. Talmage's declaration that he would "plow up the theatre in its foundation, in defiance of all earth and hell," has led to such a commotion in the region of Lost Spirits that Satan has been obliged to read the riot act.

A verdant country editor is, to use his own words, "delighted to see that New York is improving in its religious and moral character. He goes into ecstacies and writes near a column because he sees so many "sacred concerts" announced for each Sunday evening.

A weekly paper in Illinois describes the editor of the other paper as "a blear eyed hitching-post, a goat-faced gunny sack, a wart-eared bunghole for a cider barrel, and a plaster cast for the poop deck on a canal boat." There must have been a dearth of society news that week.

The highest court in New Jersey has just decided that an agreement by a railroad company to carry goods for certain persons at a cheaper rate, under the same conditions, than for others, is void, as creating an illegal preference. This is equity and common sense, as well as good law.

Grapes have become so plentiful and cheap, in some parts of California, that the owners of vineyards propose to root up their vines and put in some other crops. We should think, considering the high prices of Malaga raisins, in all the markets of the world, that the Californians might convert their surplus grapes into raisins.

GENERAL.

I met Christine Nilsson taking a peaceful walk on the Boulevards the other day, says a Paris correspondent, looking as fair as a lily and sweet as a rose, wearing the simplest of black silk toilettes, and with a knitted scarf around her tuneful throat.

It is contemplated that the new reservoir now in process of construction in Paris will be arched over and covered with soil deep enough for a garden. This will not only make it a beautiful place of recreation, but will protect the water against the sun's rays in Summer and the frost in Winter.

Was he pleased?—that is the question. At a recent lecture a young man read a fine essay. On his way home from the hall he heard one lady remark to another as he walked behind them, "Wasn't that fine?" "Yes," was the reply; "but what a mean-looking little wretch the lecturer was!"

The Lucknow Witness reports a revival among the Mohammedans of Lucknow. Deserted mosques have been repaired, some attempts at street preaching have been made, and schools in which their religion is taught have been opened. The same paper states that the Worship of the Hindoo goddess Durga has been introduced into the city.

I know no name in history with which Brigham Young is parallel. I see in him the unyielding, ambitious will of Richelieu, without his genius, statesmanship and acquirements. I can find in him the religious enthusiasm of Cromwell, without his personal bravery. He has the fatalism of Napoleon, without his commanding will.—Mrs. Stenhouse, Reformed Mormon.

The German Government is still unable to find out the name of the Papal delegate to Posen. The deans either deny the right of the courts to question them, or ask for time to prepare their answers. So many of the priests banished from the province have returned that it is stated in future the authorities intend to try imprisonment instead of expulsion. The island of Rügen, in the Baltic, has been selected as the place of confinement.

On the evening of Monday, the 14th inst., the steam tug Unicorn, of this port, proceeded from the wharf with a number of laborers going to work for the night on board the water-logged ship Peter Maxwell, lying at anchor in the stream. The wind was blowing a gale, and when the tug reached the side of the ship, one of the men—Levi Guthroe—residing on the Little Bras d'Or Road, leaped from the steamer's deck and grasped at a rope hanging over the ship's side. In doing so he missed grasping the rope and fell, but before reaching the water he was caught across the loins, between the steamer's guards and the side of the ship; in this fearful embrace he was instantly crushed to helplessness. In this state he lingered, though conscious, enduring severe pain, until Friday, when death ended his sufferings.—Sydney Herald.
