LETTER FROM MRS. JONES

I beg to contradict the suggestion made in the Wedge, that my present quarantine at the house of Mr. Hardy was caused by professional jealousy. On the contrary I have received every courtesy and encouragement in my work from the physicians not only of this town but in the County generally. Whether nursing under their authority, or engaged in private cases of my own, I have always received kind encouragement and advice. On the other hand, I regret to remark that advice given by me to the laity on certain matters of sanitation have often been received with small thanks. Where ignorance is bliss, it is folly to be otherwise.

The small pox scare may be the means of making our citizens more careful and therefore avert worse dangers.

Mr. Hardy and his child both suffered from "modified small pox." Yet treated in the most careful manner on the latest and most scientific principles it was stopped in its course. I am in charge of the disinfection of Mr. Hardy's house and on hand in case of any immediate need. I think I can safely say that fear of any further developments of the disease is past.

Kathleen Jones.

Shot in Cold Blood

Ottawa, April 9—Captain Charlie Ross, the famous Canadian scout who succeeded Maj. Gen. Howard, tells in a letter to Colonel Sherwood how Howard was killed. It is as follows: Derby, S. A., Feb. 18—Yesterday while the corps was out reconnoitering Major Howard accompanied by his orderly, was a couple of miles in advance of the corps and was ambushed by about sixty Boers, who immediately deprived them of their arms, ammunition and valuables and then brutally shot the two of them in cold blood. This happened on the borders of Switzerland. Their remains were brought into camp today and were buried with due honors.

General Botha has re-opened negotiations with the British for peace. As explained here this action was determined in part by General Botha's discovery, at a recent meeting, that General Dewet's intellect had weakened, and that his influence with his followers was diminishing and that a continuance of the campaign, in view of General Dewet's irresponsibility, rested with General Botha alone.
