

profession in Toronto, the University of Toronto, the medical faculty of the University, or any representative body of the profession.

“Dr. Friedmann was given every opportunity in the field of experimental medicine by individuals engaged in such work.”

The press despatches from Montreal of 1st May contained the following:

Dr. Friedmann had a two-fold purpose in returning—namely, to see his former patients and to give additional treatment, and to form a Canadian company for the sale of his serum. His legal adviser, Mr. Arnold, of New York, said:

“It is expected that the arrangements to be made in Canada will be similar to those already made in New York, where a sanitarium has already been founded and where plans have been made for other institutions throughout the United States.

“As to the precise location of this sanitarium nothing can yet be arranged. The company formed in the United States can have nothing to do with the business arrangements in Canada. That company controls only the United States, and business details here in Canada will have to be made with other parties.

“The reason for a sanitarium here in Canada, or elsewhere, is that it should be a place where all those to be treated can be thoroughly examined by doctors instructed by Dr. Friedmann. Examinations would also be made of the financial position of the patients, and in case patients are unable to pay a fee they will be treated just the same. Dr. Friedmann himself, in a statement, answering some who criticized him for the sale of his secret, also emphasized these points—namely, the opening of institutes for the training of doctors in the use of the serum and the free treatment of poor patients.”

The New York Sun contained the following statement:—

“The Friedmann patients in New York are not doing well, in fact some of them are very ill. This fact, combined with the knowledge of the nature of the sale Dr. Friedmann has recently accomplished, made all the medical men connected with the Friedmann tests anxious not only for their own patients, but for the welfare of the public in general.

“Before the week is out it is most probable that three and perhaps four public statements will be made from public institutions, none of which will be favorable to Dr. Friedmann or his treatment.

“Information has been placed in the hands of the health department, telling of the poor showing which the Friedmann patients, all of whom have been watched for the department, have made. The statements made are strong. One of them is supposed to be that some of the cases treated would have been better off if they had not had the Friedmann injection.

“It was learned to-day from the very best of sources that the Fried-