THE LONDON & LANCASHIRE.—The solid and stately building erected by this company on St. James street is completed, and the offices of the London & Lancashire removed thereto. The very handsome banking room on the ground floor will be occupied by the Bank of Nova Scotia in a few days, and the offices on every floor are reported as rented by tenants who recognize the advantages of being domiciled in bright and cheerful quarters, situated in a building fitted throughout with all the most modern conveniences. The days of dingy, ill-ventilated offices have evidently passed away, and the addition of the London and Lancashire to the many handsome structures erected in Montreal during the last few years is merely another monument to the new era of bright, warm, airy and attractive places of business.
