

HANT.

BEGIN THE DAY WITH GOD.

I ought to pray before seeing any one. Often when I sleep long, or meet with others early, and then have family prayer, and breakfast, and forenoon callers, often it is eleven or twelve o'clock before I begin secret prayer. This is a wretched system. It is unscriptural. Christ rose before day, and went into a solitary place. David says: "Early will I seek Thee; Thou shalt early hear my voice." Mary Magdalene came to the sepulchre while it was yet dark. Family prayer loses much of its power and sweetness; and I can do no good to those who come to seek from me. The conscience feels guilty, the soul unfed, the lamp not trimmed. Then, when secret prayer comes, the soul is often out of tune. I feel it is far better to begin with God—to see His face first—to get my soul near Him before it is near another.

LIKE MAGIC.—"It always acted like magic. I had scarcely ever need to give the second dose of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for summer complaints." Mrs. Walter Govenlock, Ethel, Ont.

THE WOLF.

John was keeping sheep not far from a large wood. One day he cried out with all his might, in order to make some fun for himself, "The wolf is coming!—the wolf is coming!" The peasants immediately came running in troops out of the next village, with axes and clubs, to destroy the wolf; but as they saw nothing of it they went home again, and John laughed in his sleeve at them.

On the next day John cried again, "The wolf! the wolf!" The peasants again came out, although not so many as yesterday. But they saw no trace of a wolf; so they shook their heads, and went home, full of vexation.

On the third day, the wolf came in earnest. John cried with dismay, "Help! help!—the wolf! the wolf!" but this time not a single peasant came to help him.

The wolf broke in among the flock, killed several sheep, and among them the beautiful little lamb, which was John's own, and which he had especially loved.

"The truth itself is disbeliev'd Of him who erewhile has deceived."
