Oshawa Expects to Have a Carnival First Week of July.

CORNWALL'S NEW INDUSTRY.

Much Sickness Is Prevalent Among Kingston Children.

Sold His Property in Carleton Place.

Harry Thom has sold his property at Carleton Place and goes to a fine new home at Collins Bay, an inlet of the Bay of Quinte, a few miles of beautiful country from Kingston. It is near his birthplace, and his people and precincts are known to him like the lessons of his school days, says the Carleton Place Canadian. Mr. Thom has secured a plot of ground around his brick residence and he intends to cultivate the soil in alteration with his trade as a carpenter. Collins Bay was once famous for its shipbuilding facilities. Both Mr. and Mrs. Thom leave many friends but they hold the passport that can carry them into other fields of affection where we wish them the fullness of joy.

Carnival Coming in July.

The South Ontario Agricultural Society have booked the "Greater Sheesley Show" to hold a carnival and gala week celebration at the Fair grounds in Oshawa from 5 to the 9 of July next. The Sheesley show is one of the biggest of its kind on earth carrying 30 wild animals and requiring a train of 22 cars to carry their exhibition. — Oshawa Reformer.

May Have Contracted Smallpox in Pool Rooms.

B. Derbyshire a young man living in Malory Row, Simcoe St. south has contracted smallpox. The health authorities with their usual degree of carefulness endeavored to trace the source of the disease and the only place where it is thought Derbyshire could have contracted same is in pool rooms in town. This is the fifth case where it is said smallpox possibly had origin in pool rooms and it would not be surprising if the Board of Health were to take action in the matter. — Oshawa Reformer.

Was Committed For Trial.

Tuesday morning the citizen who was charged Monday with the theft of a quantity of cigarettes shipped by the Imperial Tobacco Company to a Kingston dealer was committed for trial. A witness stated in court that he had received a list from the accused and has been asked to "get a price" on the goods enumerated.

The members favor the enforcement of the curfew law in the city and also the appointing of two women patrols to see that the rule is observed. On her way she fell the lamp broke and in a moment the unfortunate woman's clothes were aflame. She was horribly burned about the body and head. Kingston Intermediates play the winner in the semi-finals.

Last Time for Fine.

Last Friday in the Police Court Dave Hall an old offender pleaded guilty to being drunk on the street on the Tuesday evening previous. As it was his sixth offence the Magistrate fined him $50 and costs and told him that upon another visit there would be no option between a fine and a jail sentence. He would assuredly go down. — Oshawa Reformer.

Col. W. N. Ponton is Re-elected

Grand Z of Grand Chapter "Royal Arch" Growing.

Notwithstanding the withdrawal of British Columbia, the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons of Canada, reported at the 52nd annual convention, held at the Masonic Temple, Toronto, yesterday, that the total membership was 20,624, a net gain of 220.

Yesterday's attendance was 150, and Mr. E. Comp. W. N. Ponton, K.C., of Belleville, presided as Grand Z.

R. Ex. Comp. Henry T. Smith, Toronto, Grand Scribe E. in commenting on war service, stated that fourteen hundred Royal Arch Masons had served, and that four hundred had made the great sacrifice.

Socialistic Anarchy.

The Grand Z, in his annual address, referred to war and peace: "In the annals of valor of our sons and brothers are recorded the tenacity of purpose, the gallantry in action, the unity of spirit, by which they won the war. Be it ours, as the builders, to share in the victory of peace, to counteract dangerous propaganda, discourage dallying or compromising with Socialistic anarchy, and maintain, fearlessly and determinedly both church and State, (in the broadest sense), and home, as our ancient brethren did, if necessary, with the sword in the hand and the sword by the side."

Historic. Col. Ponton paid tribute to the historian of Grand Chapter, R. E. Comp. E. B. Brown, K.C., and urged chapters and companions to support him in his great undertaking, "supplying him with material for his historical temple."

Regarding the late M. Ex-Companion Judge D. F. MacWatt, the Grand Z spoke of his "strong and rugged personality."

Of the officers, the following were re-elected today by acclamation: Grand Z, Col. Ponton; Grand H., H. S. Griffin, M.D., of Hamilton; Grand J., R. H. Spencer, of Trenton Ont.; Grand Treasurer, George Moore, Hamilton, and Grand Scribe E. Henry T. Smith, of Toronto.

In a garage at Philadelphia 70 cars were burned. The loss $200,000.

United States and Ireland

Editor Ontario.

A protestant deputation from Ulster is at the present time touring Canada and the United States with a view to presenting the "other side" of the Irish problem, and we trust that our American neighbors will give them a fair hearing, because like every other question, there are two sides to it. The United States contains a very large number of people with names like Slobinsky or Cohen as well as O'Grady, etc., all claiming descent from Irish ancestors, some of whom were no doubt stayaways on the "Mayflower." These people are mostly violently anti-British and are encouraged in this attitude by some of the noisy U. S. senators and other public men, like W. J. Bryan.

Just think of the Mayor of New York offering the freedom of the city to De Valera, the self-styled President of the Irish Republic, and openly encouraging De Valera in the sale of his bonds for the "freedom" of the Irish people. What would Washington think of us if we were to do the same thing regarding their much oppressed negro population. Think of Navy Headquarters in Washington telling Admiral Sims not to "pull the chestnuts out of the fire for England" and further that they would "just as soon fight Britain as anyone else. Then our friends in Washington object to Canada having a voice in the peace settlement and do not seem aware that our part in the great war was as much heavier one than theirs. These things all go to show that in the United States there is a large anti-British population, and yet we continue to spend our good money there. It is about time we lodged serious objection to all this propaganda and let our friends know that we can run our own show without their assistance and comment.

To get back to the case of Ireland, we of course cannot forget the part taken by the Royal Irish during the great war but the proportion of Irish fighting in the great war was very low compared with England, Scotland or the dependencies of the Empire. There were no restrictions in Ireland on food like we had everywhere else. One could have all the sugar, butter, wheat bread and other luxuries in Ireland during the war without any cards or other inconveniences and it was known in England as the land of plenty. Many people from Scotland and England who were sickly went to live in Ireland so they could have the usual diet without restriction of any kind.

There was no conscription but on the other hand it took a small army of soldiers to keep tab on the people of southern Ireland and keep them from aiding the enemy. It is well known that enemy submarines came up the long bays from the Atlantic and were well received by the people who sold them newspapers and food and gave them all the information they had. The people of the south became rich from this lucrative trade and from cases of goods of all kinds thrown up by the ocean from ships that had been sunk by the same Germans that got provision and information from these same people. Measurings of hay, potatoes, etc., and anyone who thinks the south of Ireland a barren waste just wants to go over there at harvest time and look it over. Much more could be said on the question but when you hear of the poor people of the south do not forget that Killarney town has a population of about 5,000 people and these 5,000 people support no less than 90 bars or saloons inside the town limits. On the main street you cannot help but count 32 bars and 18 stores, so apparently there is more demand for liquid refreshments than for oatmeal.
