IT PAYS TO SELECT POTATOES FOR SEED

Before Tops Die Down in Autumn is Best Time to do so

Recent investigations have shown that lack of vigour in the seed potatoes planted has been the cause of poor yields and inferior quality in the resultant crop. It has also been found that seed from New Brunswick or New Ontario gives better yields in older Ontario than home-grown seed. It may not be convenient for every farmer to purchase seed in New Brunswick or New Ontario, but a process of selection can be conducted which will materially increase yields and profits. Usually the best potatoes are found on the hills which have the strongest and most vigorous tops. They should be marked before they die down in the autumn and kept separate at digging time for seed the following year. This will not cost anything except a little time and it will be time profitably spent.

While conducting illustration work on farms, the Commission of Conservation has noted increases in yield as high as 33 per cent. from the selected seed over the seed from the common bin. Select enough now for a seed plot next year.—F.C.N.

LOSS OF APPETITE is commonly gradual, one dish after another is set aside. It is the best indication that the system is running down, and there is nothing else so good for it as Hood's Parsnips—the best of all foods.
