Rev. Arthur Murphy, missioner, se lected as his subject "Naaman the Leper." He pointed out the promin-ent features in the life and character of the distinguished Syrian general, and dwelt upon his eminent career as a warrior and statesman. "Notwithstanding the splendor of his character and the greatness of his achievements, he was," said the preacher, "suffering from an incurable and fatal disease; he was a leper. The most miserable beggar in the Syrian empire would not exchange places with him. Now leprosy is a type of sin, both are in-curable. God alone can cure the leper, and God alone can cleanse the sinner."

The speaker spoke of the little maid in the general's home who had drawn the attention of her master to the great prophet Elisha then living in Samaria. "Naaman was soon on his way to Samaria," said the preacher, "well provided with raiment and money to purchase his cure. He called first at the palace of the King of Israel who sent him to Elisha. Like obedience to the command of Elish the Syrian general bathed himself seven times in Jordan and his flesh came again like the flesh of a little child and he was clean. Men are stumbling over the simplicity of salvation. The gospel of God which bringeth salvation was a stumbling block to the Jews and it was foolish-ness to the Greeks, but unto all who accepted it, it was the power of God. We are just to trust in Jesus and be saved. We are to do just what Jesus commands us to do and then we shall enter into the enjoyment of pardon and reces.

CADETS COMPETE

Will Likely Enter a Rifle Shoot ing Competition for Handsome Challenge Shield.

Dear Sir,—Mr. Adam Heck, the mayor of London, recognizing the great importance of early instruction in rifle shooting among the boys of our public schools, has most generously offered a handsome challenge shield for competition among the Cadet Companies of my district. He has left the arrangement of conditions in my hands, and I propose to have the matches carried out before or after the summer vacation. I hope that you will allow your company to enter. If so, kindly notify me as soon as possible. The Militia department are about to issue a new gallery cart-ridge, for use with the Lee Enfield Rifie, at the cheap rate of $1.00 per 1,000 rounds. It will be possible for leach school to borrow, from the local militia companies, or obtain from military store, two or three Lee En-fied rifles for practice Miniature ranges will be employed at 25 and 40 yards and the "Peters" target will be yards and the "Peters' target win so used, which is a small affair, and can be put against the school wa'l or any back-ground. The London and St. Thomas companies are at present shooting every Saturday, and it is as-tonishing to see the skill they display, and the interest taken by the boys.

Yours truly, J. PETERS, Lt. Colonel. D. O. C., M. D. No 1

Enquiry by The Planet, of Mr. Pat rson elicited the information that the embers of the C. C. I. Company have evidenced their anxiety to enter the competition and do so at their own expense.

Mr. Paterson stated, however, that the sanction of the Board must first be secured; but it is not likely that any difficulty will arise on that score.

HOLY TRINITY CHURCH, W. A.

Mrs. Griffin, wife of Rev. A. Mrs. Griffin, wife of Rev. A. K. Griffin, rector of Dresden, addressed a large meeting of the ladies under the auspices of Holy Trinity Church Woman's Auxiliary yesterday aftermoon on the subject of deanery co-operation in missionary work. Mrs. Griffin spoke of the danger to W. A. members in the preparation of bales of clothing, of losing sight of the real spirit, motive and object of all true missionary work. One meeting per month should be purely devotional and for the study of missions. She dwelt upon the importance of the organizaupon the importance of the organiza-tion of junior branches. There are only three junior branches in the deanery, Holy Trinity having one of them. The speaker also discussed some of the topics upon the agent's paper for the next annual meeting in April. At the close of her address Mrs. Griffin answered a number of questions put to her by those pre-sent. Mrs. Stegman presided, and re-
