SPRING CALF FEEDING

How to Feed and Handle the Young Arrival.

The Dam's Milk the Best First Food
—Skim-milk Should Gradually Replace Whole Milk — Grass or Stable for Calves?

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)
THE calf that comes in the spring, comes just at a time when everybody is so busy getting the spring work done that he is very liable to be neglected to a certain extent. Young calves are very susceptible to disease—come on to young cattle and a little lack of attention to spring calves is liable to cause serious trouble to them.

There are two menaces to calves in spring and summer, and those are extreme heat and flies, and one is on a par with the other. Arrangements should be made whereby the calves are kept in during the day and allowed to run out in a paddock at night. By this means they are afforded a liberal amount of exercise and good pure fresh air, and also they are allowed to get some of the nice juicy green grass, which is the nearest thing to a complete and balanced ration that can be found outside of milk.

When the calf is dropped it may be well to leave it with the dam for a few hours in order that it may get the first milk (or colostrum) which is so necessary on account of its actions on the digestive tract. When the calf has received sufficient colostrum to set up the necessary action it should be removed from its mother into a separate stall, or it may be put into a stall with other calves of the same age or nearly so. If, by any chance, the cow's udder is inflamed, the calf may be left for a few days because of the beneficial effect that the calf's punching has upon it.

For a few days the calf should be fed whole milk, but when it is two to four weeks old a change should be made, skim-milk gradually replacing the whole milk, from eight to ten days taken for the change. When the whole milk is totally replaced the milk may be increased to eighteen or twenty pounds per day for a calf six weeks old. The best kind of skim-milk for calves is warm, just when it leaves the farm separator. However, everybody may not have a separator, and then this is not possible. In any event the system started with the calf should be followed as nearly as possible at all times, because radical changes in diet are sure to cause severe digestive troubles. This and all feeding utensils should be kept very clean to eliminate any danger of disease from bacteria that might be lurking within. Skim-milk feeding may be continued on through the winter, if desirable, up to eight or ten months old. Good thrifty calves may be weaned as early as three months old, providing good substitutes for the milk are used.

The most frequent trouble in raising calves is indigestion or common scours. This trouble is usually caused by overfeeding, feeding milk too cold, feeding milk heavily laden with the disease germs, or by keeping the calves in a dark, dirty, poorly ventilated quarter. The calves should be watched carefully, and if they show signs of scours immediate steps should be taken to effect a cure. The ration should be reduced and a little lime water put in the milk. If immediate action is needed, about one-half cupful of strong black tea or some castor oil should be given. As for meal for the calves, rolled oats are good, and if they are getting no whole milk a little linseed oil cake should be added. The oil cake has a laxative property as well as supplying a little fat to the ration. A good meal for calves: 100 lbs. of ground oats, 50 lbs. bran and oil cake (nutted) 25 lbs. Good clover hay is essential at all times, giving enough to allow the calves to pick out the nice succulent parts, and still not be wasteful.—J. C. McBeath, O. A. College, Guelph.

Should Calves Go Out to Grass or Remain in the Stable?

Generally speaking, calves are better kept in the stable during the first summer, except where stable conditions are not good, and where there is not enough labor to look after them and keep them dry and clean. The only other exception is in the case of calves dropped in the early winter and which have had three to six months of milk, more or less dry feed. Such calves may be all right, if turned out to grass as soon as the pasture is good and the weather warm and pleasant. Particularly in this case where milk and other feed is scarce on the farm. The chief advantages of keeping calves in the stable, the first summer are:
1. They can be fed milk and other feed as required, which is often neglected when calves run with the cows, or are pasturing some distance from the barn.
2. Calves in a clean, well-ventilated stable are protected from the hot sun, storms and flies, which often prevent good growth which is essential for a well-nourished thrifty calf.
3. If allowed to run with the herd, the older animals are likely to "boss" the calves and may injure them, or deprive them of their proper share of feed.
4. Cases of sickness, such as indigestion or "scours" are more likely to be noticed, and properly treated, if the calves are inside where they are seen frequently.
5. As a result of this better care and feed, better cows are more likely to be reared, which means larger returns to the owners of cows.—Prof. H. H. Dean, O. A. College, Guelph.

John Allan was fined $2 in police court this morning for allowing his dog to run at large.

PLEBISCITE ON BONE DRY LEGISLATION WILL BE DEMANDED BY COMMITTEE

Open war with the Ontario branch of the Dominion Alliance in convention at Massey Hall, Toronto, was declared last night by Dr. A. S. Grant Chairman of the Ontario Referendum Committee. Whatever the decision of the Provincial Prohibition Convention at Massey Hall, Dr. Grant declared that his organization would go on with the plebiscite on "bone dry" prohibition. The present convention he characterized as one "without policy or program."

"The position yesterday," said Dr. Grant, "was that they wanted to meet with the referendum body, and we met in conference with them. We stated our position and we practically came to an agreement in a committee of fifty in which the majority were Alliance men, that they would ask for a vote." But apparently when they went into convention they altered that, as they did not ask for that but asked for amendments to the Ontario Temperance Act, such as the committee asked for before and were refused. So the convention has put themselves in the position of the Referendum Committee.

SARNIA, March 11—Mrs. Ernest Parr of 161 N. College avenue is in a serious condition as a result of a gas stove explosion, in which she was the unfortunate victim of a playful child turning on stove gas jets unknown to its mother. The child in the absence of its mother from the kitchen shut an oven door on unit but open gas jets, and later when Mrs. Parr opened the door of the stove and applied a match, not knowing the gas had been turned on, the rush of flames caused painful burns about the face, neck, arms and hands.

DOCTOR WARD, The Specialist

SPECIALIST IN THE TREATMENT OF NERVOUS CONDITIONS, NERVE EXHAUSTION, BACKACHE, LUMBAGO, RHEUMATISM, STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLES, ACNE, SKIN DISEASES, CATARRH, ASTHMA, RECTAL TROUBLES, PILES, FISTULA AND BLOOD CONDITIONS. The knowledge gained from many years' experience in treating diseases just like yours is of much benefit to you and assures the ailing man of prompt relief. When a man knows that he is again feeling well—that he is rid of his ailment—he feels that a heavy load has been lifted from his shoulders. It is every patient the benefit of the knowledge acquired through the long experience of a graduated, licensed and registered specialist, in order to bring about the most satisfactory results in the shortest possible time.

NERVE EXHAUSTION

A CONDITION AFFECTING MANY MEN—THE GREAT AMERICAN DISEASE—IT IS BROUGHT ON BY OUR MANNER OF LIVING—OUR WORRY AND HURRY—AMERICANS EXHAUST MORE NERVOUS ENERGY THAN ANY OTHER RACE OF PEOPLE.
There are a great many men who need treatment for their nervous system. These men do not know what is the reason they don't feel right—why they can't work like they used to—why they tire so easily and why they are irritable, nervous, despondent, weak, pale and lack ambition. These conditions require the expert knowledge and treatment of a specialist who has had many years' experience in just such ailments. A specialist learns by experience to know just the right treatment at the right time so that the patient can be dismissed at the earliest possible time. Man affected with nervous exhaustion have no endurance—no ambition—everything they attempt is an effort. Life to them appears as a long, gloomy future. Their appetite is poor and variable—they become irritable, cross and discouraged. They have pains and aches in various parts of the body and there is often indigestion and pains in the stomach. Sleepless, wakeful and restless nights follow.

RHEUMATIC AILMENTS

SCIATICA AND OTHER FORMS OF RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, PAINS IN BACK, SWELLING, ACHING, PAINFUL CONDITIONS IN ANY PART OF THE BODY—INFLAMED AND SWOLLEN JOINTS OF LEGS AND ARMS—MANY OTHER SYMPTOMS.
Hundreds of men are suffering with some form of Rheumatism. Many of these men go from day to day suffering untold agonies thinking they cannot be cured. They have tried liniments, rubbing, massage, salts and other treatments without experiencing any relief, and they are now going through life thinking they are martyrs to that burden called Rheumatism. If these men could only know how easy it is to get rid of many rheumatic conditions I know they would not suffer another single day. Then all sufferers of rheumatism would be strong and healthy if they could get rid of the condition. Rheumatic patients are nearly all strong and robust before being attached by this ailment, and therefore it is so hard for the man to understand why he should suffer the agonies of such a condition. When a man gets rid of such a condition he feels that a heavy burden has been lifted from his life, and he starts right out to make up for lost time both in money and pleasure. When a man comes to my office suffering with the above condition he is given a most careful examination, and he is given treatment that he feels is giving him great benefit.
