The Abnormal Development of the GIRAFFE is remarkable, but the abnormal development of the demand for SUNLIGHT SOAP is still more remarkable. It is not known how many people have never seen a Giraffe, but it is known that there are millions and millions of careful house-wives all over the world using

SUNLIGHT

These housewives no longer dread the advent of wash-day, for, with SUNLIGHT SOAP as their ally, they are assured of a quick despatch of all dirt and uncleanliness. SUNLIGHT SOAP saves your clothes.

Investigation

MONDAY, April 6, 1914.

BEGINS TO-MORROW.

A disaster by far the greatest in the number of fatalities and disablements ever known on the ice-floe naturally calls for an investigation of the most searching character. The extent of some extent by the fact that 69 dead bodies of brave sealers were placed in the morque on Saturday afternoon; the bodies of eight men were not found, after the most careful search by a number of the sealers who cut up all the pans in the vicinity of the General Hospital; and eighteen at the Brigade Hospital, Seamen's Institute. It will be seen from this that some 120 men, about two thirds of whom ficiently well to remain on the New foundland were involved in this ter-

Arrivals From the Gulf

The first of the Gulf steamers to return to port was the Erik, Capt. Dan Martin. She arrived at 12.30 p.m. yesterdty, and hails for 20,000. They are prime young harps, except about 300 old. She is well fished, as about 500 had to be placed on deck 11th, and struck the patch on the evening of the 13th, about 25 miles north west of Bryon Island. Abou 100 were killed and taken aboard the day. Next day 2,000 were killed. The Southern Cross struck the seals just as the Erik and secured about the same number. The work of killing was slow, as the seals were scattered to the S.E. of the Erik, and the Vikins came in later. The Erik worked und a few days and then headed to the East, picking up small quantities, the biggest days work being 5,000. Capt. Murley of the Seal was aboard the Erik on the 20th and then hailed for 4,000. He then steamed to the N.E. looking for hoods. The last Captain Martain saw of the Southern Cross was on Thursday week. She was near the Magdalen and he thought about to bear up for home. Capt. Martin reports fine weather, but very cold and windy. The health of the crew was some of the first averaging from 58 to 74 lbs. and some going up to 90. Sixty of the crew were landed at day afternoon at 2.30 with 25,000 seals. She took her first whitecoat on the 11th March, and steamed into the middle of the patch about 50 miles W.N.W. of Byron Island on the morning of the 14th. By sunset 10,-000 were killed and in 3½ days about 33,000. He took the last seals near St. Paul's Island. He lost about 70 flags or 7,000 seals. The ice was left on Friday. The Southern Cross was last sighted yesterday week near St Paul's, supposed to be heading home

Yesterday there was a wave of sympathy noticeable on every street and in every home of the city. The Grenfell Hall, or temporary mortuary room, where the bodies were brought for identification, was filled all day Greenspond-Slight burn, fingers with sorrowing relatives and friends of deceased brethren. Standing out-JOHN HOWLETT, Goulds.— Both hands slightly burned, both feet sefor generations to come. At 5 o'clock last evening all the bodies were identified. Thirty-eight bodies were sent home by special train last evening. The corpses were taken away from the Hall in seighs. In the entire procession thousands of men and boys took part. One body was drawn on the gun carriage of H. M. S. Calypso, the departed sealer being a member of the Naval Reserve. The bodies, number ing 25, belonging to outports where there are no direct train communication, were hermetically sealed and brought to the morgue last night and will be sent home by steamer.
