

CITY ASSESSORS TO BEGIN WORK AT EARLY DATE

Valuation of London Property
Will Commence Earlier
Than in Previous Year.

GRANT AUGMENTS STAFF

Specific Instructions in Regard to New System To Be Outlined at Conference.

On Wednesday morning the assessors of the city will start on their rounds preparing for the 1923 assessment. On Tuesday afternoon, Assessment Commissioner Grant will call at his aides, assessors and assessors' clerks together for a conference.

It is the intention to complete the assessment much earlier this year than in other years. Last year the work was particularly late owing to the adoption of the new scheme of assessment. The result was that there was a general delay. The work this year will be heavier than others. Mr. Grant's staff this year is to be the largest yet, and on Tuesday afternoon, all will receive their final instructions so as to be ready for a start on Wednesday.

Specific instructions have been given to every assessor. They relate to every property owner and every piece of property in the city, telling specifically how assessments shall be made. Some of them deal with interpretations of the assessment act, while others explain in part the new assessment scheme. Among the more important of Mr. Grant's instructions are:

"Sub-section 3.—To remove doubts, it is hereby declared that the cost of a building is only one of the matters which should be considered in ascertaining the amount for which a building should be assessed, and if it is found that a building, either because of its condition as to repair or of its inappropriateness to the location in which it is found, or because of any other circumstances affecting its value, increases the value of the land by less than the cost of the building, or the cost of replacing it, such less sum shall be the amount for which the building shall be assessed under sub-section 2; the meaning of that sub-section being that buildings shall be assessed for the amount of the difference between the selling value of the whole property and the selling value of the land if there were no buildings on it.

Record of Building.
"There will soon be a record of every building in the city in this office.

"You must remember that you have not the opportunity in the time given for the assessment to make a valuation of all properties you meet, but you cannot get behind the fact that when you deliver an assessment notice, you are satisfied and responsible for the valuation.

"Should you meet a property that you consider too low or too high, do not leave a notice, but report to the department, and it will be taken up by the board of assessors. You will be one of the assessors.

"The number of divisions has been increased from 77 to 99, the blocks have been rearranged and great care must be exercised in placing entries as well as blocks in their proper order.

"Litter and dogs are quite an income to the city. Be diligent in your efforts. In many instances you will find that a dog assessed for statute labor may be liable for income tax, but that part must be adjusted in the office.

"In addition to the particulars required by the assessment act to be entered upon the assessment roll, every assessor shall enter upon the roll the names of every person who is of the full age of 21 years, a British subject, and who has been a resident of Ontario for a period of nine months prior to the date fixed for the assessor to begin to make up his roll, and who is a resident of the municipality and qualified in other respects, as the assessor believes, to vote at the elections to the assembly.

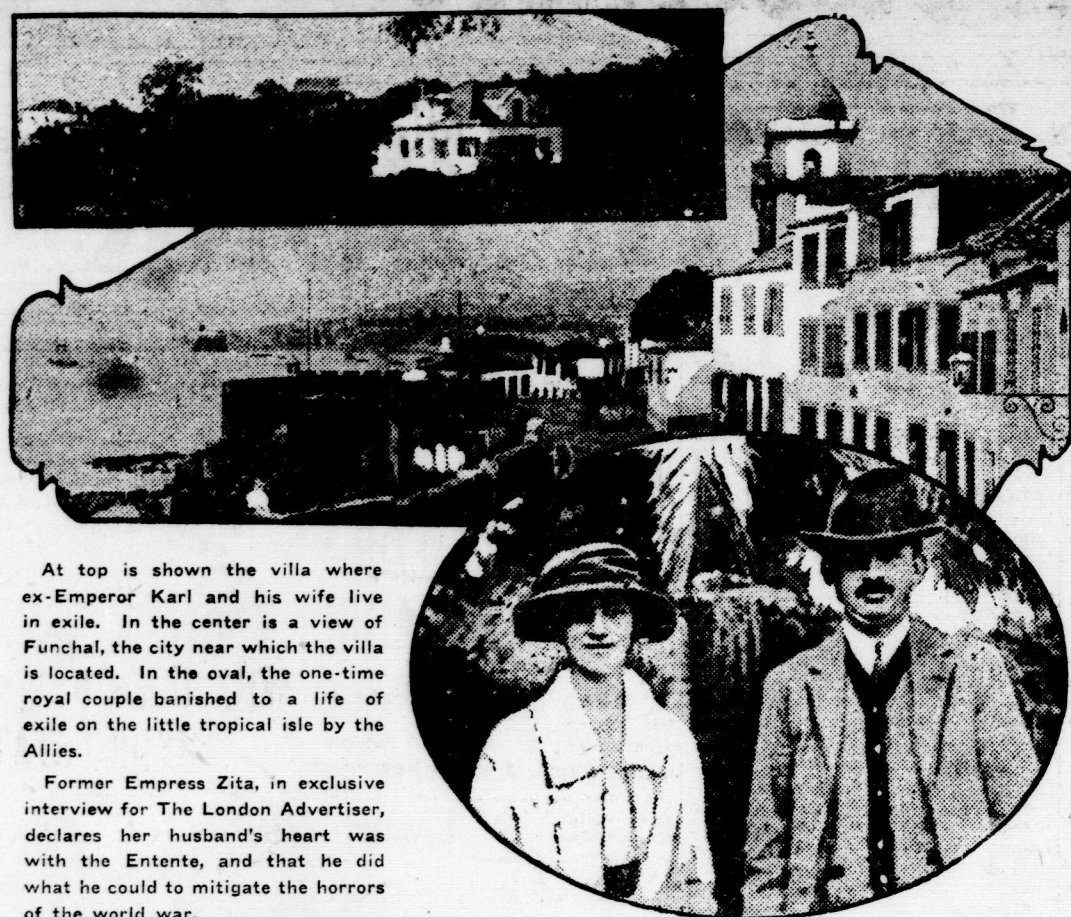

"After the name of every person so entered, the assessor shall enter the person's place of residence, occupation and condition (as 'married' or 'unmarried woman,' 'widower,' 'widow,' 'bachelor' or 'spinster' as the case may be), or initials denoting such condition, and letters 'L. F.' (Legislative franchise).

HE DECLARES REDMAC RELIEVED HIM After Five Years of Suffering

In a few weeks Redmac had me feeling like a brand new man, and I truthfully say it is the best medicine I ever heard of. For five years I have suffered with a pain in my back. It would take me suddenly, and I would scream with pain. My kidneys were all out of order. I had lost my appetite, and had awful headaches at times. I was a wreck. A friend of mine who had taken Redmac for indigestion, advised me to try it. I have taken three bottles, and am now feeling fine. This is one of the many testimonials we get every day. We pass it on to you. If you are feeling the same, or if your case is different, but you are not feeling right, you have indigestion, or liver trouble, or Rheumatism, it is all the same. Redmac is here to heal you. Go to your drugist and get a bottle today, and be sure you get Redmac. A large generous bottle can be procured for very little money. Sold by Taylor's Drug Store, 390 Richmond street, sole agents.—Adv.

Interviews Karl and Zita in Their Madeira Exile!

At top is shown the villa where ex-Emperor Karl and his wife live in exile. In the center is a view of Funchal, the city near which the villa is located. In the oval, the one-time royal couple banished to a life of exile on the little tropical isle by the Allies.

Former Empress Zita, in exclusive interview for The London Advertiser, declares her husband's heart was with the Entente, and that he did what he could to mitigate the horrors of the world war.

DEMANDS DANCING BAN AT SCHOOL

which tend through overlapping to dissipate the energies of our young people and destroy the home life.

"That the dancing in connection with the opening of the new school was to be part of a social program, prepared by the students' council for the year which permits dancing at commencement, and occasionally at the close of other social functions of a more limited character; that the so-called dance is not to be held on the night of the public opening but at the students' reception the following evening, and is to be but one of several entertainment features providing for the tastes of those wishing to dance and those who may not; that the reason advanced for sanctioning dancing in connection with the school is that in their judgment it is better to have the school dances where they can be properly supervised and controlled.

Recreation Has Value.

"The committee sets forth: Its ungrudging belief in the importance of which social recreation has in the life of the young and the conviction that the time has come when the church, the home and the school should co-operate in making provision for such wholesome means of recreation as will meet the natural and proper demands of youth for amusement, play and social fellowship and on which all may agree.

"It recommends further that responsible bodies such as the collegiate authorities and the Ministerial Alliance should seek conference with each other in attempting to find a solution for the problems affecting the youth of the city rather than appearing by open attacks to be a house divided. A public press, with an eye single to the welfare of the community, could aid greatly in this matter.

The committee appointed to tender the resolution to the board was Rev. Thomson, Rev. McKee, Canon Sage, Rev. Martin Kelly and W. R. McIntosh.

Sees Dangers in Modern Dancing

Preaching on "Modern Amusements," Rev. A. J. Agnew of Ridout Street Methodist Church, drew attention to the danger of the board of education putting its seal of approval to the proposed dance to be held at the opening of the Collegiate Institute.

"Once the sex element is eliminated from the dance, the dance will be put out of business," declared Mr. Agnew. "If men were required to dance with men and girls with those of their own sex, the dance halls would be closed inside of three months. The only attraction that the dance hall has is the appeal of the sexes and this breeds familiarity and tends to break down the ideals of society.

"The public dance has always been questioned by a great many people, some of the reasons being that a great deal of time was simply wasted and energy used up by those indulging in the pastime. It often prevented promotion in business life, because the dances were rendered untidy, both in mind and body, to do a good day's work.

The fact that people of today thought that the dance ought to be supervised was an indication that there was danger to be found in it, he said. Pleasure and recreation were essentials to every person's life, but must be balanced with work and should be the reward for work.

Wholesome amusement was necessary to young people as a wholesome food. There were certain recreations that were never questioned by anyone, such as baseball.

Board of Education Will Hold Secret Sessions

It was announced at the local department of education Monday morning that certain committee meetings of the board of education will be held this week behind closed doors. At the last general session of the board, Trustee A. A. Rice urged that such action was necessary, but whether his suggestion is being followed has not been explained.

MAITLAND STREET BAPTIST Condemn Dancing Plan

At the conclusion of the evening service at the Maitland Street Baptist Church, Rev. Sowerby, the pastor, read a resolution condemning dancing as one of the features of the opening of the new Collegiate Institute. The resolution was passed unanimously, the whole congregation expressing opinion by the raising of the resolution reads:

"Whereas it has been announced that the opening of the Collegiate Institute of this city is to be made the occasion of a dance for the students, and whereas in our opinion such is not calculated to help young people through life, but rather may do inestimable harm to some, since a first dance at the function may ultimately lead some into the questionable dance halls, which social workers declare are one of the most productive sources of fallen girls; and whereas we are convinced the students may be more healthfully, morally and profitably engaged during the opening ceremonies than by dancing, which has nothing in common with the purpose for which the collegiate institute was built, now therefore, be it resolved that the congregation of Maitland Street Baptist Church unequivocally oppose dancing as a part of the exercises of the opening night, and declare it to be the opinion that the authorities have no right to arrange for any such thing in violation of the wishes and convictions of the many ratepayers and parents of the students in question."

OFFER ATTRACTIVE THEATRE PROGRAM

Talented Artists Present Tableaux in Aid of Jewish Immigrants.

The London branch of the Jewish Immigrant Aid Society presented a very attractive program at the Allen Theatre, Sunday night. The chief attraction of the evening was a series of tableaux, representing the Biblical story of Queen Esther, given under the direction of Miss Tonley Thomas of the London Institute of Musical Art. The stage setting, beautiful vari-colored costumes of the east and the skilful posing of those who presented the tableaux, produced something which was not only striking but highly artistic.

D. Jordan, at the piano, played throughout the different tableau numbers. Miss Rhona Harris and Mrs. Frederick Schofield, readings by Miss Yiddish Left and some very attractive Yiddish songs by a chorus of girls.

DISCOVER WATER LEAK.

Quebec, Jan. 30.—After working since last Tuesday, when a break occurred in one of the main waterpipes and cut off the city from its normal supply, engineers discovered the source of the leak yesterday. The delay and difficulty in locating the broken pipe was due to the water forming a small lake and freezing over. A trench 280 feet long had to be blasted through the ice before the actual break could be located.

Piper is alleged by Alice Dobson, the woman who is Piper's present wife, to have been married to a woman other than herself.

RAILWAY QUESTION IS STILL TO FORE

President's Visit to City May Cause New Developments.

That important developments in the local street railway situation may be expected at any moment is evidenced by the fact that President Currie, of the railway company, is in the city from Akron, Ohio.

Ald. John Ashton, a prominent member of the local street railway-men's union reiterated his contention on Monday that the next move should be by the company.

He admitted that it was quite possible that the next night, after the company's recent announcement of a three-cent reduction effective March 1, move for an increase of salary of 10 per cent.

That the situation will in time necessitate a board of conciliation is now deemed unavoidable.

POSTOFFICE HAS 4 VACANT POSITIONS

Applications for Three Have Been In For Some Time.

Tuesday night will see the local post office with four important posts vacant, deputy postmaster, district inspector, supervisor of city despatch and overseer of letter carrier.

The first two have been vacant for some time. In regard to the inspector, the post has been filled temporarily and the temporary appointment is supposed to end on January 31.

The vacancy of the supervisor and overseer in the postoffice are bound together. Neil McNeil, the former supervisor, was superannuated six months ago, being given six months' leave with full pay. Martin Haystead, then overseer, was named to take over Mr. McNeil's duties on Feb. 1, but Mr. Haystead died early in January, throwing the two posts open.

Applications have been in for some time for three of the positions, and appointments are expected to be announced any time now.

MAKE NEW JUMP AT OTTAWA SKI CONTEST

Ottawa, Jan. 30.—The ski club ski jumping tournament at Fairly Lake on Sunday afternoon, produced many thrills for the onlookers and was an unequalled success.

Their excellencies, Lord and Lady Byng, with a party, arrived shortly before three o'clock, and the jumping took place immediately upon their arrival. The day was ideal and the hill in perfect shape, though the tower was affected to some extent by the brilliant afternoon sun which slowed up the skiers somewhat. The big event of the afternoon was a tandem somersault performed by John Carlton and Richard Bowker, of Dartmouth. This was the first time that these men had done this spectacular trick together. The two jumpers who are short in stature and about the same height, glided down the tower hand in hand and soared off into space turning a complete somersault in the air, landing in a crouched position. They regained their feet and continued on down the steep landing. On previous occasions the stunt has been done singly, this being the first time it has been done double.

ESTABLISH NEW CLYDE SHIPBUILDING RECORD

London, Jan. 30.—Canadian Press Cable.—A record output has been established by the Clyde shipyards this month of January, eight steamers, nearly all oil burners, and aggregating 52,000 tons, having been launched.

For the year 1921, 249 vessels of 511,000 tons, were completed on the Clyde. This was a decrease of 81 vessels, and 161,000 tons compared with 1920.

TWO MEN WERE ADMITTED TO

Victoria Hospital Monday morning as the result of an accident. Their fingers had been caught in machinery. Henry Morris of High and Chester streets, an employee of McCleary's, had two fingers smashed, and Frederick Oliver of 1172 Wilton avenue, an employee of McCormick Manufacturing Company, had a thumb smashed. It was found necessary to amputate it.

PRESBYTERIANS, Methodists and Congregationalists united in a meeting this morning to further the cause of church union. The condition in mission fields was especially deplored. There was apt to be rivalry and overlapping among denominations which greatly hindered missionaries in their work. Since the meeting was merely preliminary and nothing definite was to be decided upon, the press was excluded. Rev. D. C. McGregor placed before the meeting the steps which had been taken by various committees to further the cause of church union.
