The Seer of Japan.

When a man lets his hair grow long and goes in for poetry he is apt to rise into a world inhabited only by himself, where he lives very happily in admiration of his own charms. There he communes with himself and becomes enamored of his thoughts and the sound of his voice. This seems to be the case of Sir Edwin Arnold. He has been interviewed from Hiogo to Halifax and back again, and Sir Edwin speaks grandly and impressively. He does not conduct his auditor through the barren labyrinths of "The Light of Asia" or attempt to astound him with weak stanzas from "The Light of the World," but prefers the more prosaic pastime of discussing current affairs. He got hold of a reporter in Montreal and with Yokohamean impulsiveness told him that Canada need not fear the cholera this year, that the winter frosts would be a bar to its entrance; in other words, that it is a summer disease. If Sir Edwin would look into the reports he would find that the disease ravaged Russia all one winter, and that Canada had a deadly struggle with it fifty years ago in the winter months. Having become possessed of this information he will see that it would be nonsense to indulge in any more rubbishy talk of that kind. And Dr. Bryce might also avail himself of this instruction, for it is valuable.

Among the precautions that are taken by the people of the South during the prevalence of a yellow fever epidemic is the wearing of small buckskin bags containing gum camphor. These are suspended from the neck in such a manner that they rest against the skin over the chest. A bit of camphor carried in the mouth while one is in a sick room is also sometimes used by nurses and physicians. Sulphur likewise encased in bags, carried in the pocket or sprinkled in the stockings, has frequently been used in cholera, diphtheria and other epidemics. The consciousness that one has a possible preventive of contagion on his person is calculated at least to allay apprehension, which in itself occasionally provokes an attack of this disease.

A plan that would do much to abate the American money nuisance would be to burn up all the old, ragged, dirty, malodorous $1 and $2 Dominion bills that are in circulation. They must be disagreeable objects to all cleanly people who handle them. The holders of them can get new and clean bills in exchange for them at the Receiver-General's office. The retail dealers of the city can do good service in helping the community to get rid of them. The banks also can render like service. So can the business establishments that pay out large sums weekly or monthly in wages. All our currency ought to be nice in every way.

The New York Sun, in answering the question, "Which is the best poem ever written by any American poet?" says: "There come to our mind at once the titles of six or eight of American poems, any one of which may be properly looked upon as the best of its kind; 'Each and All,' by Emerson; 'Evangeline,' by Longfellow; 'The Raven,' by Poe; 'Thanatopsis,' by Bryant; 'Marco Bozzaris,' by Halleck; 'The Last Leaf,' by Holmes; 'Our River,' by Whittier; 'Ode to Happiness,' by Lowell. There are many other American poets that are as good as some of these; there are no American poems better than several of these."

Consumers generally will be gratified to note that the Pennsylvania Railroad is opposed to raising further the cost of fuel to the consumer. It has refused to enter into an agreement to advance coal freight rates. Increasing coal freight rates mean in the sequel higher prices for coal to every householder. This action of the Pennsylvania Railroad probably means that there will be no further advance in coal in Toronto.

The horses are gradually getting used to the sight of cars going through the streets without any animal motive power in front of them, and the pedestrians are becoming used to the fact that the electric cars run a little faster than the old horse cars. The principal objection to the trolley cars now is the clangour of the bells, but even that will wear away by familiarity.

The Trades Congress at its session yesterday decided to petition the Dominion Parliament to fix the rate of passenger fares on all railroads in Canada at 2 cents a mile.

TRADE WITH THE FAR EAST.

Mr. Finlay Smith Endeavoring to Develop Commerce Between Canada and China.

A. Finlay Smith, of Hong Kong, and Mrs. Smith, were in Toronto yesterday on their way home to Holland. Mr. Smith has been endeavoring to interest merchants in the question of reciprocal trade with Japan and China. American flour has the market at present in the far East, and there is no reason why Canadians should not have the trade. The feeling is not altogether favorable to the people of the United States, and as the years go by it does not improve. He considered that the tax of $50 a head on all Chinese entering the Dominion was about the proper limit. To copy the exclusive policy of the United States would be against Canada's interests. Chinamen did not like to live in America; when they left their own country they left their wives and family, and as soon as a sufficient sum of money was accumulated they returned. The idea of the Chinese swarming into America was ridiculed by Mr. Smith. Butter and cheese were in demand by the residents of Japan and China. Mr. Smith said there are no pasture lands in these countries, consequently very few cows. All milk was supplied from dairies, and sold at 15 cents a quart; cows being valued at $110 apiece.

Mr. Smith was recently connected with the construction of the Hong Kong mountain railway, which was attended with great engineering difficulties. He has spent years in the East.

James Cullen, Pool's Island, N.F., writes: "I have been watching the progress of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil since its introduction to this place, and with much pleasure state that my anticipations of its success have been fully realized, it having cured me of bronchitis and soreness of nose; while not a few of my rheumatic neighbors' (one old lady in particular) pronounce it to be the best article of its kind that has ever been brought before the public. Your medicine does not require any longer a sponsor, but if you wish me to act as such, I shall be only too happy to have my name connected with your prosperous child."

Wanted a Depository.

The Public Library Board yesterday afternoon received a letter from the York Pioneers, in which that body offered to place their collection of relics on exhibition in the Library building. Chairman Boswell regretted that recent legislation deprived the board of any power to act in the matter, and the letter was referred to the City Council. The new rooms of the Library will be lighted by electricity as soon as the mains are laid in Church-street.

No person should go from home without a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentry Cordial in their possession, as change of water, cooking, climate, etc., frequently brings on Summer complaint, and there is nothing like being ready with a sure remedy at hand, which oftentimes saves great suffering, and frequently valuable lives. This Cordial has gained for itself a widespread reputation for affording prompt relief from all summer complaints.

Hard and soft corns cannot withstand Holloway's Corn Cure; it is effectual every time. Get a bottle at once and be happy.

"German Syrup"

Here is something from Mr. Frank A. Hale, proprietor of the De Witt House, Lewiston, and the Tontine Hotel, Brunswick, Me. Hotel men meet the world as it comes and goes, and are not slow in sizing people and things up for what they are worth. He says that he has lost a father and several brothers and sisters from Pulmonary Consumption, and is himself frequently troubled with colds, and he often coughs enough to make him sick at his stomach. Whenever he has taken a cold of this kind he uses Boschee's German Syrup, and it cures him every time. Here is a man who knows the full danger of lung troubles, and would therefore be most particular as to the medicine he used. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market." ①

MASON & RISCH'S

UNIQUE LIST OF

FAMOUS PIANOS

DECKER BROS., N.Y.

We have sold many hundreds of these matchless instruments in Canada and have found them invariably giving unqualified satisfaction to those desiring the highest grade of musical quality.

SOHMER & CO., N.Y.

These beautiful and artistic pianos have by their intrinsic excellencies of tone, touch and exterior finish won such favor that they are universally accorded a place with the greatest American makers. We have therefore recently secured the sole agency for their sale and invite a critical inspection of their merits.

MASON & RISCH.

So exquisitely pure and expressive is the tone and so delicate and responsive the touch of the Mason & Risch Pianos that they have won the highest encomiums, not only from Canadian Musicians whose kind appreciation we regard highly, but also from the highest European authorities from the great Abbe Liszt downward. No such honors have ever been showered upon any other Canadian makers.

SPECIALTIES.

We would also call attention to the Transposing Piano, extremely useful to professional vocal teachers, The Janko Keyboard, and to our miscellaneous stock of excellent Square Pianos by Hardman, Fischer, Chickering, Steinway, all of which have been taken in exchange in part payment of new Mason & Risch Pianos and which will be sold at immense reductions on easy terms.

SOME BOOKS FROM

The Williamson Book Co. Stock:

The University of Glasgow—The Old and the New, 1450-1891.

A magnificent folio volume, illustrated with exquisite photogravure views and portraits and published under the sanction of the University, under the editorial care of Professor Stewart, D.D., Buckram cloth, with University crest, embla zoned on side, gilt top and rough edges. $45 00

Scottish National Memorials.

Edited by James Paton, Supt. of the Glasgow Corporation Galleries of Art. With 30 full-page plates and nearly 300 ill. in the text. Folio, printed on specially prepared paper, and bound in free Buckram, gilt top. $20 00

Mulhall's Dictionary of Statistics.

An admirably compiled volume entirely of statistics, covering the whole world, giving comparative figures with those of former years and embracing a number of colored diagrams comparing the agriculture, banking, commerce, etc., of the different countries of the world. Demy 8vo., strongly bound in cloth. $10 50

Parkman's Half Century of Conflict.

This completes Mr. Parkman's life-work, and the writer's incisive brilliancy and style are nowhere seen to better advantage than in the glowing pages of this his last work. It commences from the time of the Spanish succession in 1700, and gives a very full and correct description of all the events which happened up to the year 1750. It forms part VI. of the series called "France and England in North America," thus filling the gap between Part V., "Count Frontenac," and Part VII., "Montcalm and Wolfe." 2 vol., 8vo., neatly bound in cloth. $5 00

McMullen's History of Canada.

A complete history of the Dominion from the time of its discovery to the present time by John Mercier McMullen. This is the third edition of this important work, and it is revised and written up to date. 2 vol, 8vo., neatly bound in cloth. $5 00

Sir Daniel Wilson's Memorials of Edinburgh—In the Olden Time.

A beautiful volume, giving a graphic description of notable events, people and buildings in Edinburgh; profusely illustrated with steel engravings and wood cuts; strongly bound in cloth, gilt top, rough edges; demy, 4to. $10 00

Fitzpatrick's Secret Service Under Pitt.

To Mr. Fitzpatrick is due the gratitude of all students of history, of truth and of human character, for the patience with which he has collected these letters, and the knowledge, discretion and tact of his arrangement, giving a higher and truer view of O'Connell's character than has been given to the world before. 8vo., neatly bound in cloth, uncut edges. $4 50

England and the English—In the Eighteenth Century; by William Connor Sydney, in two volumes.

"The Life of Man in England: What men did, thought, suffered, enjoyed; the form, especially the spirit, of their terrestrial existence; its outward environment; its inward principle; how and what it was, whence it was, whence it proceeded, whither it was tending."—Carlyle. 8vo., bound in cloth, gilt top. $4 50

The Platform—Its Rise and Progress; by Henry Jephson.

This is the first time that a history of this subject has been attempted, and it has been thought of such public interest that Mr. Gladstone has written a most interesting review of the book in one of the great London magazines. Two volumes. Large crown 8vo., bound in cloth. $4 50

Sir Walter Scott's Journal.

A journal of this eminent writer, compiled from the original manuscrips at Abbotsford. It is a most interesting history of his everyday life, written by himself from day to day, and at his death it became the possession of his son-in-law, Mr. John Gibson Lockhart, and is now the property of the Hon. Mrs. Maxwell-Scott, who has so kindly permitted its publication. Crown 8vo., bound in cloth. $2 50

Mivart's Essays and Criticisms—By Sir George Mivart, F.R.S.

A critical review of numerous literary works of Darwin, Huxley, Spencer, Lotze, etc., and containing essays on some of the most interesting scientific topics of the times. La., 8vo., Buckram cloth, two volumes. $9 00

Arnold's Seas and Lands—By Sir Edwin Arnold.

An extremely brilliant record of travel by that master-hand, the author of "The Light of Asia." It deals with Canada, the United States, the Pacific and Japan very fully. The illustrations are unique and excellent. Cloth. $2 50

Left-Handedness—By Sir Daniel Wilson, F.R.S.E.

The last production of that brilliant writer, whose loss Canada is now mourning. It includes data originally accumulated in a series of papers communicated to the Canadian Institute and the Royal Society of Canada, aiming at determining the cause of left-handedness in its archæological, philological and physiological aspects. Cr., 8vo., cloth. $1 50

The Last Words of Thomas Carlyle.

Comprising two of his last writings, "Wotton Reinfred" and "A Romance Excursion (Futile Enough) to Paris," together with a considerable number of his letters and a most faithful portrait of the great writer as a frontispiece, 8vo., cloth. $2 00

The Doings of Raffles Haw—By A. Conan Doyle.

A charming story, told with the incisive brilliancy with which this well-known author is gifted, and although not so long as his work "The White Company," is equal to it in concentrating the interest of the reader. Cr., 8vo., cloth, rough edges. $1 75

A Guide Book to Books—By Sargant and Whitshaw.

The object of this little work is to place at the service of the reader the opinions of those who may be trusted to give sound advice as to the books which are of value in each department of knowledge. Imp. 8vo., cloth. $1 75

Gardiner's The Great Civil War.

Vol. III. now ready. $10 00

The Devil's Picture Books.

A history of playing cards by Mrs. John King Van Rensselaer. 8vo., with 16 full-page plates in colors, and numerous illustrations in black and white. $5 00

Shakespeare's True Life.

By James Walter, 400 illustrations from sketches by Gerald E. Moira. Imperial 8vo. $5 00

The American Commonwealth.

By James Bryce, D.C.L., M.P., author of the Holy Roman Empire. Two vols. large 12mo. Cloth. $6 75

"To say the book contains the most valuable and complete description of America, her government and her people, that has ever appeared, is only saying what must be obvious to every reader. But it is a great deal more to say that one finds very little to criticise."—Boston Post.

Daylight Land—A Parlor Car Excursion over Prairie and Mountain by the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Recorded and set forth by W. H. H. (Adirondack) Murray. Superbly illustrated with 100 cuts in various colors by the best artists. Paper covers, $2.50; in extra binding. $4 00
