A Book Reception.

An effort was made by the Y. W. C. Guild to increase their library by holding a "Book Reception" last night. The scheme proved very successful. There was a good attendance of the members and friends, who contributed liberally several hundred volumes. Rev. Dr. Parsons donated 50 volumes and a friend of the Guild also sent In $20 to be devoted to the same purpose.

A musical and literary entertainment was provided. Hon. S. H. Blake gave a number of readings and music was contributed by Miss Sandall and Miss Magson. This evening the concert in sid of the building fund will be held.

The Ladies' Aid Society of First-avenue Baptist Church are holding a grand bazaar In Dingman's Block, Queen-street east and Broadview-avenue. The opening last night was largely attended, and the many fancy and useful articles displayed by the ladies were much admired. A most excellent program of musical and literary selections was provided, and was much enjoyed, as were the choice refreshments served by the ladies. The bazaar will be continued to-day and to-morrow.

John J. Dixon & Co. received the follow-g despatch over their private wire from enry Allen & Co. to-day: ling despatch over their private wire from Henry Allen & Co. to-day:

New York, Oct. 24.—Wall-street has had a rousing market to-day—an old-fashioned bull movement. The whole stock list boiled. Everything has gone up. Stocks hitherto neglected have advanced easily and considerably. Not a bear moan has been heard anywhere. St. Paul has suddenly taken on new life and has gone up over a point, taking all the rest of the granger stocks with it. Big crops coming on top of big crops have induced a bull feeling far beyond anything anticipated by even the most sanguine bulls. Everything heard and seen in Wall-street just now favors the bull side. The coal stocks have been strong in the fage of reports of difficulties in the anthracite trade. The industrials have all shown renewed strength. Chicago Gas touched its highest price and sugar has jumped into buoyant activity again. New England has been the banner stock of the day. It is up about four points above where it closed on the evening of the recent holiday. All the mystery is on again. Reports from Philadelphia and Boston renew intimations of the approach to a satisfactory conclusion of negotiations for control of the property by corporate interests, which are certain, if successful, to make New England a dividend payer. This has a romantic sound, but what is much more important than the sound of it is the fact that Wall-street is in a receptive mood and believes in if.
