Woodstock, October 28th, 1898.
The REVIEW has sold me out. In the last two months my 25c. card has brought me between $60 and $75 worth of orders.

J. H. CALLANDER.

I have received my copy of the Standard all O.K. Now in the last letter I received from you was enclosed a circular stating that you had reduced the price of POULTRY REVIEW to 50c. per year or three for $1, so I thought I would get you three new subscribers. You will please find enclosed the money to pay for the same. I might say that I am having splendid results from Bantam adv. from as far West as St. James, Manitoba. Wishing the REVIEW every success,

H. E. BECKWORTH.

Blenheim, Ont., October 17th, 1898.
[Mr. Beckworth uses a large display ad., Ed.]

I wish to contract for a breeder's card in REVIEW for one year, price $8. Enclosed you will find $2 Express Money Order to pay for first three months, also copy of ad. which please insert in a prominent place, commencing with the November number, sure.

I have grown out of the small ads., though they always paid me well, on the principle that if a small ad. is good a larger one is better.

R. J. TAYLOR.
