

latter's rear wheel. It was one of the finest races ever ridden in Canada, and the crowd fairly swarmed over the fence at its finish so that it became difficult to get the track clear for the final of the 2.40 class.

At the conclusion of the races on Saturday a large number of the members and friends of the Wanderers were invited to an impromptu supper at McConkey's by Mr. E. McConkey, one of the committee. A. D. Stewart was placed in the chair, and among those present were Messrs. Taylor and Tyler, H. B. Donly, Louis Rubenstein and Stafford, of Montreal. After a very enjoyable time the party adjourned to the Grand Opera House where the presentation of prizes was made after the third act of "Friends," by Miss Fetter, the leading lady, A. P. Taylor in return presenting the lady with a magnificent bouquet. At the close of the performance the cyclists secured a carriage and placing Miss Fetter in it drew her to the Rossin House and bade her good-bye.

WHAT THE RIDERS CARRIED AWAY.

R. Jaffray, a pickle jar.

Jas. Miln, a five o'clock tea set.

W. Carman, a silver water set.

C. Schultz, a pair of opera glasses.

The Torontos' team, an onyx and brass table.

R. R. McFarlane, a Coventry Cross bicycle.

J. F. Deeks, a five o'clock cream set and a gold medal.

M. F. Dirnberger, a set of ivory handled fish carvers.

D. Nasmith, a New Howe cycle and a silver water set.

Geo. F. Taylor, a diamond ring and a diamond pin.

H. Tyler, a case of pearl handled fish knives and forks.

G. M. Wells, the $200 diamond ring, an oxydized nut bowl and a gold watch.

W. Hyslop, a Comet cycle, a silver tea set and a case of fruit knives and forks.

NOTES.

Captain Hunter made himself useful all over the field.

McClelland will be laid up for three weeks, says the doctor.

Jimmy Miln took a slide on the north-west corner in a heat of the 2.40.

Will Hyslop had a new racer, which he just received on Saturday morning.

The novice brought out some new flyers, particularly Schultz and Powers.

All the daily papers were represented by one and in some cases two reporters.

Two New Rapid racers were doubled up—those ridden by Doll and McClelland.

Dave Nasmith was in much better form than usual and made some lively going.

Hal. B. Donly made a good referee and gave his decisions as though he meant them.

Louis Rubenstein's pleasant smile and robust form were both there as large as life.

Geo. Orr occupied his usual place, at one end of the tape with a stop watch in his hand.

Tyler's wheel was carried into the club house in half a dozen pieces, and Taylor's was all out of shape.

Our American cousins travelled in hard luck in the mile open, both smashing their wheels and being badly broken up.

A. D. Stewart with his Hamilton "dress suit" makes a great starter, and his announcements caught the grand stand every time.

W. Hyslop, sr., was in a great state of excitement on the finish of the five mile and was congratulated by his friends and Will's.

The "guest" badges were a pretty conceit on the part of the committee, and were thoroughly appreciated by those who received them.

It must have been somewhat of a surprise to J. F. Deeks to find himself nipped in the five mile handicap just when the goal was in sight.

Dr. Doolittle, the Torontos' club surgeon, was one of the judges, but also had an opportunity of putting his profession into practice on McClelland.

Lieutenant Governor Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were interested spectators and enjoyed the five mile handicap, the finest race of the day.

A friend of ours wants to know why it was the band played "Nearer my God to thee" in the half-mile handicap and "Boom-de-ay" when the ambulance carried off McClelland.

"Bobby" Robertson wants to know where the prize is for the team lap race at the Toronto meet. He does not care who got second place; he knows the Hamilton team won.

The placing of umpires at the four corners of the grounds was a good idea, and had any fouls been claimed their report to the referee would have materially assisted him to a decision.
