

these conditions. It is indicated when toothache comes on from taking cold, in damp, cold weather or from the night air, and for pains that are aggravated if air, particularly cold, damp air, is drawn into the mouth. The tooth feels as if wrenched, and warm water and warm applications relieve the pains."—Med. Visitor.

Yes, John, you are right; the redeeming feature of false teeth is that when they begin to chatter you can take them out.

When an idea escapes one it is as hard to catch again as a hen in the garden.
