Translations have been procured from the most prominent authors of Europe. Essays have been published from such authorities as Prof. W. Freyer, Dr. Ewald Hering, Lucien Arrat, Robert von Helmholtz, Rudolf Weyler, Carus Sterne, F. Helbig, J. G. Vogt, Ludwig Noiré, etc. Translations from the pens of A. Binet, Prof. Wundt (of Leipsic), Prof. Joh. Rauke, and Prof. H. Post, will be published in future issues. Sample copies sent free on application.

TO ADVERTISERS.—THE OPEN COURT will be found to offer especial advantages for the advertisement of current literature and the insertion of publishers' notices, its numbers being on file in all the prominent hotels, libraries and public institutions in the United States and Canada, and reaching the professional and scientific circles of every State in the Union. Only bona fide advertisements will be accepted. Rates, without choice of position, for each insertion, 10c. per line, $12 per column, and $20 per page.

The Times, Port Hope, says of The Dominion Illustrated: It is such a paper as Canada wants and should have. The Daily Intelligencer, Belleville, says: The illustrations are very fine, and the subjects well chosen. The Daily Examiner, Peterboro': It is worthy of that universal patronage that will make it a success. All newsdealers have it, only 10 cts.

"This periodical is one of the most valuable undertakings in American journalism."—The Churchman, July 7, 1888.

"We delight in this review, there are such choice chapters of American History told so vividly."—Zion's Herald, July 20, 1888.

"What other magazine is so helpful a visitor?"—Teachers' Telephone, July 1, 1888.
