Already branches of the Association are being formed in Toronto, Belleville, Kingston, Brockville, Ottawa and Montreal, and although the exact number of persons who have given their adhesion to the movement is as yet unknown, it would not be a high estimate to place the number with which the Association enters upon its career at about one thousand. I do not doubt that before many weeks the roll of members will be greatly increased.

The movement cannot but prove beneficial to Queen's. That is its sole aim and intention; and an organization for that purpose, with its members in every walk of life, in every section of the country, must carry with it much influence for good. I feel that I am only expressing the wish of those who so strongly advocated the formation of this Queen's University League when I earnestly invite every graduate and alumnus, every benefactor and well-wisher, to become identified with the Association, and without loss of time to signify the desire to be enrolled on the list of members.

SANDFORD FLEMING,
President Queen's U. E. Association.
