What the Grain Brokers Say

Logan & Ryan: Conditions northwest make sellers of wheat unusually cautious. James Bennett & Co.: Believe sales of wheat made on bulges will be profitable. Finlay, Barral & Co.: Sales of wheat made on bulges should show good profits. The Canadian Trust Co.: It is likely that the wheat market will remain firm until it is demonstrated, whether or not, the spring wheat has suffered material impediment.

WHEAT GOES TO A HIGHER LEVEL

Rust Reports and News From Russia Contribute to the Rise.

CHICAGO, July 21—Black rust damage increasing and reports that central Russia was following with the famine conditions, carried the wheat market today to a higher level. There was a steady close, 5-8c to 3-4c, 7-8c above last night. Corn gained 1-4c to 1-2c net, oats finished unchanged to 1-8c to 1-4c up, and provisions varied from 10c decline to a rise of 2-1-2c.

Nearly every crop expert from the wheat belt sent word of augmented injury being done by black rust and excessive heat. Premature ripening in South Dakota formed part of the burden of complaint from the northwest, but most attention was given to the menacing conditions this side of the Canadian line. British sentiment was emphasized by statements that European import needs would be heavier than expected, the shortage probably being especially acute in Bulgaria, Roumania and the centre of Russia.

Gains Not All Held.

Decided activity as well as strength developed in the wheat market, but not all of these gains were held. Country acceptances of bids from here and abroad were the cause of the advance. Besides there was gossip that threshing yields in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana had exceeded the estimates, and that the winter crop as a whole would run above the July forecast.

Drought reports resulted in the value of corn advancing. Demand from the east revived, and the south was said to be competing with Chicago for Illinois offerings. The action of the United States government in ordering a cargo of Argentine corn placed under bond as unfit for human consumption counted also against the bears.

Oats made some response to the strength of other grain and to disappointing threshing returns from Iowa and elsewhere, but the impending movement of the new crop acted largely as an offset.

CONFUSION RE DIVIDEND.

NEW YORK, July 21—There is still some confusion concerning Union Pacific extra dividend. The question now to be decided is as to the date the rights expire. As the rights are dividend and not subscription rights, there is no expiration date involved. Dividend warrants issued by Union Pacific to shareholders of record March 2 last, are payable on presentation.
